President's Report

Kevin Hooper

The summer months are usually pretty quiet with regards to ADRC activity and this summer has been no exception. We have had some issues come up that needed our Boards attention, but really nothing major.

First, let me point out that we may just have the two largest Dutch shows ever in the same year. We talked last issue of the record numbers we had at our National Dutch Show in Michigan, and now we will be returning to Michigan this fall for what should be a record Dutch entry at the ARBA Convention! Can one of our breeders make it two and a row for Dutch? That would be great to see and I wish each of you good luck!

With the ARBA Convention comes many activities that need your attention and support. Your ballot would have been sent out in early August. Along with the ballot was the information regarding awards donations, the ADRC Banquet at the Convention, and the Dutch hotel. If you have been meaning to donate for the awards, it is not too late. Any money that would happen to be extra would be passed on to next years Convention. We did not have as much donated from our banquet last year since we did not have nearly as many members attend. Thanks for your help in making this years show a success!

We have made a personnel change since our last issue. Julie Hume of Michigan has taken over our web site. Julie is a hard worker and has some nice ideas. She replaces Melody Stremkowski. Melody has been increasingly busy with her job and was having a hard time creating the extra time to keep up with the site. I understand she has been moving up in the ranks with her employment and we wish her the best and thank her for all she has done for the ADRC!

That was one issue we had to handle, while the other simply needs mentioning again. As the exhibitor, it is your job to police your show reports to ensure the accuracy. If you normally show under one name such as "Joe Bunny", then make sure when you receive the report form your local show that it is listed correctly. If you show under a Husband and Wife, multiple family member names, or even together with a friend, make sure it is listed the way you entered. If you enter as "Joe and Mary Bunny", make sure your show report says "Joe and Mary Bunny". Show Secretaries sometimes take shortcuts and only list one name because EVERYONE knows they show together. Well, if the Sweeps chair gets that report, and it only lists one name, one name will be credited for the points, separate from the way you may have intended. We now deal with way to many shows to interpret if the exhibitor entered under separate names to get legs (not exactly ethical in my opinion), or more premium dollars. So, atch your show reports! That is it for now! Hope to see you all in Michigan!

Kevin

Vice-President's Report

Sue Hill

The shows in the Midwest are on a hiatus until September due to the hot weather lurking around. We are so incredibly dry up in the Madison, WI area that we've not had to mow grass for over a month. It's dried to a crisp. Of course, the weeds remain green and do continue to grow. Other parts of the country have been hit with storm after storm so it will be interesting to see what the rabbits look like after going through the summer we've had.

And speaking of growing, so are some junior ears out in the barns. Some look more like rabbits we should see out running around the yard instead of prospects for showing or breeding! It will be nice to have some cooler weather move in to keep both humans and furry beasts more comfortable.

Our fall ARBA convention is in full swing with the planning. President Hooper already knows part of the layout for booths and, unfortunately, the booth area is not anywhere near the rabbit area. This means we will have to the people power to man it during each show day so if anyone is planning on going to Michigan and would be willing to do a two hour booth coverage a couple days during convention, please come see us at the booth upon check in so we can get you on the schedule. It is nice to people watch, get to know more Dutch Breeders, and to feel that you are more a part of the club. We'd love to have your assistance!

We are also looking for ideas for awards at the coming convention and those in the future. We are especially interested in finding out what the youth would prefer. Do you want trophies, plaques, or any other special item. Please take a minute and contact either Theresa Kortbein at Tmkortbein@aol.com or me at Bunnisoo@aol.com. That goes for open exhibitors as well. We'd like to make sure you are getting awards that are special to you.

The Michigan ARBA convention should bring in quite a showing for our breed. It is a super time to be thinking of adding some new bloodlines or to sell something of good quality to another breeder. If you do plan on selling, think to bring some extra feed and some ziplock baggies to send a bit of feed home with the new owner. It will help to reduce the stress the rabbit experiences when going to a new home with new water, surroundings, sights and sounds. Bob Bergene always brings his magic mix--his powdered formula with vitamins and electrolytes to keep the rabbits up to par. It seems to work because his rabbits always look sharp the entire show. Others bring hay or treats to mix in with the feed. If you have the room and are not flying like some of our neighbors to the far west or south have to do, consider bringing your own water as well. The key is in keeping the stress to a minimum.

The club will be having some new faces working hard in several different areas. Julie Hume will be working the website. Melody Stremkowski, who has been the webmaster for the last few years, felt she was not able to devote the time needed for the updating of the site due to increased responsibilities within her job and asked to have it turned over to someone else. Julie is already busy with some ideas and will be up and running full steam ahead by convention.

Our publicity committee is also turning over their positions. Angie Aisbet and her soon to be husband are in the process of moving and getting situated with their new jobs. Between the wedding plans and the move, Angie and her mom, Jill, felt they could not continue with the publicity as well. This means we are looking for someone who would be interested in picking this job up. The position includes ordering and keeping stock of items for both the website sales and at each convention. If you think this may be something you might want to do, please email one of us for more details. In the meantime, we send good wishes to Angie and want to thank both her and Jill for all the hours they put into the publicity booth!

I look forward to seeing many, many breeders in Michigan and would love to see a lot of new faces!

Secretary - Treasurer's Report

Barb Kline

This spring and summer have been very challenging for me. I started a new job the end of March and I am back to working fulltime. I haven't worked fulltime for the last 2 years so it has been sort of a shock to my system balancing work, home and being secretary of the ADRC and the OSDRC. I am the office manager for Ralph's Joy of Living which is an appliance store and also a kitchen wares store plus we sell wine, imported beer and cigars. We have 2 stores, one in Tiffin, OH and one in Fremont, OH. I am taking over for an office manager that got them 15 months behind in their accounting work! So far I have things caught up to only 7 months behind. Well enough about what I have been up to, now I want to let you know what the ADRC membership has been up to.

Currently we have 937 members but 100 of them are currently expired! 75 of those are more than 60 days expired and this concerns me. We have had 187 new members join since the first of the year which is great! Please check the expired members listing in each issue of the Dutch Reporter. Also please check the back cover of the DR. By your name is the date you expire. I am mailing postcards or emailing members the beginning of the month that they expire. Please make sure you renew. If you do allow your membership to expire and do not renew before the 60 day grace period is over, you will lose any sweepstakes points that you have earned so far that year.

You will also notice that the financial statement for the month of June shows a $551.40 profit. Granted we have not paid any commission for the sweepstakes chairperson for 2007, this still is an upswing for the club. The postage costs have dropped due to not sending the second notices to members that have expired, mailing postcards instead of letters for members expiring and not mailing ribbons for sanctioned shows. For the year, we have a profit of $1603.24 compared to the last 3 months of 2006 we lost $1861.01! I really feel that the club is more financial stable now then they were when I took over this position.

In closing, I would like to thank all the members that have shown me their support of my last year as your secretary/treasurer. I really enjoy the work and enjoy supporting the ADRC!

Director's Report

Rick Billups

News from Rick,

I hope this DR finds everyone well and staying cool during the last month of summer. We have had a very dry but mild summer this year and the rabbits have enjoyed it. I've had more litters born this summer than any I can remember since moving back to Ohio. I don't have any show results to report but I do know everyone in the Midwest is gearing up for the Convention. I know the Michigan group will host another great show!

The ADRC is in need of a Publicity Chairman, please step forward if you're up to the task. Julie and I held this office for several years and found it enjoyable but challenging at the same time. You will find 90% of the work is done at the NDS and ARBA Convention while the rest of the year is very slow. The down time between shows allows you to look for new merchandise and work with other members for ideas.

I'd like to ask the members in district one for their vote during this years election. I've served the ADRC for several years and would like to have the opportunity to serve one more term. No matter your choice for office, please make a point to vote. It's sad to see a club of our size have such a poor participation when it comes to elections.

Until next time,

Rick

With this writing, I assume most are preparing their animals for the upcoming ARBA Convention in Grand Rapids, MI. I anticipate a LARGE entry of Dutch, as Michigan has long been one of the premier "Dutch" areas, and is the home of many fine breeders and exhibitors of our breed.

Mike Smith will be making every effort to repeat his NDS win from last Spring. I wonder if anyone has ever had BOB at the NDS and ARBA Convention the same year, with both shows being held in the same state? That would be one for our Historian to research.

Numbers of Dutch at the local shows and Fairs I have judged the past couple of months have been below normal. However, it seems the number of entries at the shows has been less than normal nearly everywhere I have been. The $3.00+ gas crunch has an effect on those attending the shows, I am sure, and the weather here in the Midwest has been terribly hot this year. We have had MANY 90+ degree days, which may not be that bad, however the humidity has been equal in numbers. When you have a 95 degree day with a 95 percent humidity, you feel like you are walking around in a sauna.

The Illinois Dutch Rabbit Club looks forward to having each of you visit for the NDS next April. Our facility is excellent, motels close, and camaraderie will be at its peak. We will not be using the same judges for Open and Youth, as was done in Michigan last year. Our Youth will have the distinct pleasure of showing under two of the premier Dutch judges in the US, Kevin Hooper and Erik Bengtson. Open judges secured as of this writing are Scott

Williamson and Glen Carr. We are awaiting a decision from a couple of other excellent Dutch judges at this time. We will have a web site soon, and any updates will be posted on the site at the earliest opportunity.

Our Headquarters hotel is the Ramada Limited and Suites. We have rooms blocked and available at this time. The hotel is located a very short mile from the Interstate Center (if that far). When you phone for a reservation, (309) 828-0900, be sure to mention you are with the Illinois Dutch Rabbit Club and the NDS. Room rates are: $51.00 for 1 queen, $54.00 for a deluxe room which is 2 queen beds, or $67.00 for a one room suite, which includes a sofa sleeper, microwave, and refrigerator. All above rates will require tax to be paid also.

The hotel has a continental breakfast at no charge, and an indoor swimming pool.

Should you have any questions regarding the 2008 NDS, please feel free to contact me at rwgehr@aol.com.

The next issue of the DR will have a more detailed accounting of the 2008 NDS. Start making your plans now!

Hello Fellow Dutch Fanciers,

Hope everyone is enjoying the summer months and keeping cool. Seems like we can't wait for it to stop raining and then wishing it would rain because it is so dry. We have had a few really hot days but for the most part its only been in the 80's. Keeping rabbits cool in the summer is a big challenge and I'd like to take this opportunity to share some things that work for me. I feel the most important thing is airflow for those using an enclosed structure. If we can smell urine then I suspect your animal's health is being compromised. I have an attic fan that pulls air out of the shed and several box type fans inside that keep the air moving. I also clean trays twice a week and use pine or fir shavings in the trays and under the cages. The reason I use the wood shavings is to neutralize the alkaline residue from the urine. The wood shavings are acidic so there is a little acid/base chemistry going on. I also use the wood shavings in my carrier trays.

Speaking of shows we had a busy spring here in the NW with good turnouts in Dutch. At the Washington State Convention in Ellensburg we were thrilled to see Hilary Wittrock win Best In Show ! with Glen Carr judging. Hilary has had a great year so far with many Best of Breed and Best Opposites. Pete Nelsen has ventured down to Oregon for a few shows too. Len Harold had a Best of Breed in May at Canby. He moved last fall and it just takes a while to get everything settled after a big move. Len is also building a new barn that will allow him to expand his breeding program. Gene Knieling has had a few Best of Breeds so far this year with his outstanding Blacks and Blues. Now that his youngest daughter Kate has graduated from High School and is going away to College in the fall, Gene won't have the extra help at the barn and I'm sure he will be missing Kate very much.

The fair shows have started and I always enjoy seeing all the kids with their projects. Katie Kimmel won Best Opposite Dutch with her Blue buck "Sugarfoot" at the Linn County 4-H show and her educational poster on rabbits was chosen for State Fair. Katie is expecting her first litter of Dutch soon. Carmen Yang won Best of Breed in Open at the Linn County Fair as she isn't old enough for 4-H yet but she is definitely enthusiastic and I'm sure we will be seeing her at more shows. Hopefully her sister Madison will get hooked on Dutch too.

The fall shows will be starting in September in Redmond & Grants Pass and the Western States Dutch Fanciers has a Friday night Specialty show planned for November 2nd in Albany, Oregon with Briony Barnes from Kansas judging. There will be a double open show on Saturday, November 3rd hosted by the Tri-County RBA.

I was notified that long time California Dutch breeder, Rose Mead, passed away on Sunday, July 8, 2007. She did her best to battle the cancer, but, was unable to beat it. Services were held at Kelseyville Presbyterian Church, in Kelseyville, CA on Thursday July 26, 2007.

Hope all your nestboxes are full and you have promising juniors for the coming fall show season.

Sincerely yours in Dutch,

Jill Pfaff

Editor's Note:

Many of us remember George and Rose Mead as active ADRC members. George for his pecans, and Rose for her warmth. Both of these individuals were an asset to the ADRC, and friends to many.

Bob Bergene

Seeing the I missed getting an article in on the last issue, I guess I should start off with congratulations to the winners at the last NDS. So, congratulations to Mike Smith on winning BOB in the open and Lauren Dean in the youth. It was a very large show and I still can not believe at the total number of Dutch, as I believe Carlene said it was like over 1700 head including open, youth and sale rabbits. Wow, that is a lot of Dutch!

This summer, Rose Mead passed away. Rose did a lot to support the Dutch in California and helped to promote rabbits in that state. I did not get out to California a lot to show, but I know whenever I was out there, Rose Mead was always showing her Dutch. We will miss her.

Soon the ARBA convention will be here and hopefully everyone is starting to think of what they are going to take and get their entries in. They are due Sept 11th. Hope to see many of you there. I am not sure where the headquarters hotel is, hopefully it is printed somewhere in this issue I have heard the two main hotels connected to the showroom are almost full.

Recently I attended the Missouri Dutch Rabbit Club annual show in Holt, MO. It was well attended from exhibitors from South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas, A total of 135 Dutch were shown. It was a double show with Briony Barnes winning BOB in one show with a sharp jr Black Doe and Bob Bergene won the other show with a Blue SR Doe. BOS for both shows was won by Jim Rydell. Thanks for Gary Clark and his crew for putting on a great event!

2007 has seen a lot of transition in the Dutch club. We have a new sweepstakes keeper in Norma Hart. We wish you well in your new position and know that you will do a great job. Also, we are getting a new webmaster in Julie Hume. We wish you well in your new position also, Julie. As a Director, I feel compelled to write some of the sentiments of the members that talked to me at the above Dutch specialty show. Several members stressed the importance to me of having the website updated on a monthly basis if possible. They indicated to me that they check the website often to evaluate how they are doing on points compared to the rest of breeders. The website is a valuable tool for communicating much information to members on a timely basis.

See you in Grand Rapids. Remember, "You Can't Beat the Dutch".

Regards,
Bob Bergene

American Dutch Rabbit Club Membership Contest

Rules of the contest:

1. The membership contest runs January 1st through December 31st of each year.
2. In order to participate, being a current member of the ADRC, you must be sure that the prospective new member includes your name in the "recommended by" blank of the Application Form. This will enable the ADRC Secretary to count that new membership under your name.
3. Quarterly recognition in the Dutch Reporter will be given to the top 10 ADRC Membership contest participants that recommend the most new members.
4. The ADRC Member with the most recommended new members will receive a One Year Renewal Membership to the American Dutch Rabbit Club. This Award will be handed out yearly at the National Dutch Show Banquet.

5. Each Youth, Single, Husband/Wife, and Family membership counts as one membership towards the Membership Contest.

6. This applies to new memberships signed up and not renewals of current members.

Notes:

1. The ADRC Secretary is able to keep track of these participants via computer for easy tracking of the contest and will submit the totals to the Editor of the Dutch Reporter for the quarterly recognition.
2. In each issue of the Dutch Reporter the new member is now listed, in addition there will also be a listing of the ADRC member that recommended that particular new member.
3. This contest is not only a fun way to win a renewal membership to the ADRC but also a great way to promote our Dutch and our National Breed Club with the help of each member.

If you have a question you wish to pose for either the "Ask the Judge" or "Ask the Breeder" columns, just e-mail or mail your question to me. These columns are an avenue where you can ask questions and advise from the professionals in our organization. For the judge's column, you may ask questions such as judging criteria, presentation on the show table, what it takes to become a judge, and proper etiquette as a few examples. For the breeder's column, questions can range from feeding, conditioning, breeding techniques, rabbit care, how to improve your herd, anything that people who have been breeding Dutch rabbits for many years might have suggestions on. If you would like to participate on the panels, just drop me an e-mail and I will add your name to our groups. The questions will be e-mailed and each participant has the option to answer or not. This is the chance to get a lot of viewpoints from across the country!

This issue both the judges and the breeders were asked the same question. The person who sent the question did not really specify which group to address the issue and I thought it might be interesting to see if the responses were similar or different depending on which side of the table the answer came from.

ASK THE JUDGE

Some people feel type is just about size and larger rabbits have a better chance on winning over the smaller ones. As a breeder, could you give your thoughts on this issue?

From Jan Coffelt:

Type is the first thing most judges see. I look at it as the structure of the rabbit. Each breed has its own unique look. Those rabbits who come closest to their standard display excellent type. Whether they are large animals or small, type has nothing to do with size. When that judge goes down that table during the judging of best in show he/she is looking at each rabbit and comparing it to its own breed standard. The one that comes nearest to its standard must win no matter what size it is.

I have heard exhibitors say things like "no matter what is on the table the big white rabbit will win." Well folks, if you live in an area with some hot commercial breeds, chances are you could be right.

I have also heard the opposite said when we are in an area of top four class breeds (Dwarf, Mini Rex Holland, Dutch) that the large rabbits don't ever get picked. Remember, the judge can only pick one rabbit....and it is a tough job. I truly believe that most judges pick the best rabbit on the table no matter what the size.

From Kevin Hooper:

Type is so much more than just size! A Dutch could have great type at 3 1/2 pounds or 5 1/2. It may not be the ideal size at those weights, but the type could still be fantastic!

Many think type only means body type or shape. A rabbit can have good breed type, but not have a good body.

Type means character, or all of the characteristics that make a good Dutch, a good Dutch. Head shape, thickness of ear, body length (must be cobby), bone, thickness of hide, width of muzzle, and width of feet, just to name a few. Now, in the standard, most of these are not listed. Under General type, you will find the descriptions of body shape, feet and legs, head, ear, length of neck, shoulder, midsection and hindquarter. Most of those items I mentioned are found in this section, but may not be listed specifically.

In summary, type is basically ideal breed characteristics.

ASK THE BREEDER

Some people feel type is just about size and larger rabbits have a better chance on winning over the smaller ones. As a breeder, could you give your thoughts on this issue?

From Fran Schettler:

Type is about a whole lot more than just size. In fact, I would say that size has little to do with it. Type is about head and body shape, proportionality, balance, and a short cobby style of rabbit. A rabbit of any size can have good type, just as a rabbit of any size can show poor type. What makes up good type is a whole separate question.

After showing for 23+ years, I find that larger rabbits (which I will define as being 5 - 5-1/2 lbs) have a far worse chance of placing well than smaller ones (which I will define as 2-1/2 lbs to 5 lbs). Judges always seem to conclude that a large Dutch, even though it might be well balanced and of good type, is somehow long and of poor type. A baby size Dutch (defined as 1-3/4 lbs to 2-1/2 lbs) generally will not receive fair consideration from most judges, even if it is in good fur and is well developed for its age. Thus, the weight range of 2-1/2 to 5 lbs. seems ideal. When choosing between two otherwise equal animals though, the rabbit closer to the 4-1/2# ideal weight should prevail.

Sometimes I will promote a junior Dutch to senior status at the show, usually when the animal has already won at least 2 junior legs. However, the animal must be of a size to compete well with the real seniors, which means the animal must be at least 3-1/2 lbs, and preferably closer to 4 to 4-1/2 lbs.

We breeders need to remember that the weight range of a Dutch indicates that 4-1/2# is ideal senior show weight. Once in the breeding pen, I prefer larger does (4-1/2 to 5-1/2 lbs) for better baby making, larger litters and easier birthing, and smaller bucks (3-1/2 lbs to 4-1/2 lbs) to offset the larger doe size. I also find that does with a lot of rise have an easier time giving birth, while does that tend to be flatter over the top can have greater difficulty giving birth.

From Allan Gerhart:

I think that bigger or more mature rabbits have a lot better chance of winning in the Jr. classes. I prefer my Dutch to be somewhere in the middle range 4.5 pounds, I believe this weight goes well with a good body type. Bigger does will and often do better than a big buck in my experiences. And some judges just prefer a certain size Dutch no matter what the type might be. As long as they are set up properly and posed, size shouldn't matter if they meet the standard.

From Bob Bergene:

Type in the Dutch rabbit is the external appearance of the skeletal structure of the animal. We in the Dutch world have defined what "good" type is. This desirable skeletal structure has changed over the years in the Dutch in the United States. I have looked at pictures of winning rabbits in the 1950 Dutch guidebook and their bone structure is completely different than that of what you see winning at shows now. Now keep in mind that type is the external appearance of the Dutch and that we want the body to form a nicely rounded back with nice full round hips and the curve should rise at the nape of the neck and rise gradually toward the hip bones and round off smoothly. Now this definition of "good" type can be seen in the larger Dutch which would be in the 5 to 5 1/2 lb range and it can also be seen in the smaller Dutch in the 3 1/2 to 4 lb range. Also, you can have a large Dutch with terrible type and a small Dutch with terrible type. (I have both!!) So you see, there is no correlation between type and size.

When I was first getting into rabbits and selecting stock, a knowledgeable rabbit breeder told me that "YOU SEE TYPE AND YOU FEEL CONDITION". When I evaluate my Dutch, I like to set them up properly and then take several steps back and see what the outward appearance of the structure of the animal is. This is what I feel we are discussing when we talk about type. You may want to confirm what you see by feeling the rabbit to check the strength of the shoulders or the degree of fullness at the base of the hip, but your first reaction when you see that rabbit from a distance is usually best indicator of type, good or bad. I felt the man that gave me this above advice must have known what he was talking about, because he has won three Best in Shows at the ARBA National Convention in 1984 and 1985 and 1990.

I initially referred to "good" type, because we think this is better type than what we had in the Dutch 50 years ago, – but "good" type is relative and is perceived differently. I note this as I look at the British Dutch winners and what they consider the best type. Hopefully each of us are evolving toward the ideal type rabbit in our rabbitry.

From Dennis, Barb, & Megan Kline:

There are times when a more mature rabbit will do better on the table but we feel that if a younger animal has everything, including good fur, then it should win. An example is the gray junior doe we had at the 2005 National Dutch Show. She was only 13 weeks old and won BOSV and some said that if she had won BOV she would have been right in there for BOB. So our feelings are that if a younger animal has the type, markings, fur and condition, it should do well over the older animals. Some judges like the more mature junior but we don't agree with that.

From Jill Pfaff:

Balance to me is a big part of Type, which isn't about size at all. The only measurement we have to guide us in our Standard is a two pound weight range which makes Type analysis quite subjective. My personal philosophy is to raise the type of rabbit that appeals to me and my interpretation of the Standard.

When I look at a Dutch rabbit I start with the head and ask myself is the head rounded in shape and do the ears balance with the head shape? I look for ears that have substance, which to me means enough thickness to stand open and not fold at the tips and well furred, I am especially critical of a bucks head. Ears can be too short as well as too long to balance. I also look at the eye shape and size to balance to the head.

Next I look at the head size balance with respect to the body size. I dislike heads that are too small and just look like they don't fit. Finally I look at the balance of body width to height. I believe the current trend is for a slightly taller than wider animal. Animals with extreme width tend to be flat especially as they age.

If anything I find myself biased against small Dutch under 4 lbs as Seniors, they tend to be what I call old style with very bold heads but flat. Small does in my experience have difficulty kindling too. In my herd I prefer my bucks to be 4- 4 ½ lbs and my does are usually 4 ½ - 5lbs. Overall balance is the key to a winner.

RABBIT TALES

Our Dutch Reporter has some terrific articles, both informational and educational. But some of the articles that really catch my attention and are the most memorable are the ones that could be called human/rabbit interest articles. I probably will never forget the article that Briony Barnes wrote about losing her rabbits in a fire. And in the last issue, the rags to riches article that Lauren Dean wrote about her doe really touched my heart. I thought I would try a new column, one that would spotlight a special type of story. What I am looking for are stories about special rabbits or special people, I am sure we all have them. Rabbits that we will always remember, not the ones that won at every show or took a dozen BOB; but the rabbits that have touched the heart. Or perhaps a person who has gone the extra mile to help someone else. I will not forget the young mother with an autistic child that I met at the Nationals this year. A teacher told her that having a furry pet like a rabbit would be a bridge to her son. The awe the young boy had in his face was priceless, and the appreciation of the mother when I told her she could have the rabbit for free was worth more than money. I will begin the column with a story from Kristy and myself about a special rabbit. I entreat you, the membership, to share your special stories with us, about your rabbits or mentors in your life. We purchased a really nice doe from Theresa Kortbien at the ARBA convention in Texas, and the doe produced a couple of very nice animals in her first litter. Her second litter seemed even more promising with five nicely marked babies. Usually, we breed three does at a time, so we have the opportunity to foster if there are problems. This time one doe didn't take and the other only had two. We decided to foster the two in with the five, leaving us with only the one doe nursing. When the babies were ten days old, we discovered the doe dead in the cage, for no apparent reason. Though we were very distressed at losing the doe, we were more concerned about saving the babies. Now we realized our mistake at fostering the babies down to one doe.

At the same time we had a New Zealand doe we had borrowed to raise a meat pen for Kristy to show at the fair. She had a litter of nine and the babies were three weeks old. We did bring the doe out, set her on the table, and placed babies under her to nurse. She was very accepting of this, but we felt we had to make a choice, as we didn't feel she could adequately raise both litters. We were already pushing the growth ratio of the meat rabbits with having nine nursing, adding another seven would probably really slow the weight gain down.

While doing chores that night, I came across Melody, a doe we had just weaned off her litter the night before. I felt her and she still had milk left. If it had been any of our other does, I would have been very concerned about the prospect of her accepting another doe's babies that were ten days old and with her coming off six week old babies. But Melody is special; she isn't the greatest producer of show rabbits, but she gives so much milk and takes great care of her babies. Her babies are always fat and grow twice as fast as other litters born at the same time. We often use her as a foster mom for the best marked babies. Of any of our does, Melody was our best chance at raising the orphans, so in she went to the nursery cage with the orphans. She would eat a little and then check out the next box. I watched her for awhile but she never fully entered the box. I crossed my fingers and left them alone. I figured if they seemed hungry and thin in the morning I would nurse them on the New Zealand doe.

Morning came, and the babies looked fine. Felt full and round. Throughout the day, we checked on mom and babies, never caught her in the box, but also didn't find any signs of rejection, such as using the box of babies as a bathroom. For the next couple of mornings I worried that I would find hungry, thin babies, but never did. That doe didn't miss a beat, took them as her own, and in a week or so they were crawling all over her. We just weaned her off the litter a few days ago; all the babies are healthy and good size. We feel very fortunate that this litter was saved, and very thankful we have Melody in our barn. Almost makes you wonder if she would accept orphan kittens!

Inbreeding, Line Breeding and Out Crossing

by Kevin Hooper

Many different breeding systems have been tried throughout the years to produce that "Perfect" Dutch. Inbreeding, Line Breeding, and Out Crossing all have worked to varying degrees of success. Let's look at what they are, and the results you can expect (from my experience and perspective).

Out Crossing - Many of your top breeders have done this for years. They buy two superior animals which are unrelated, and breed them together, and bam, they have their litter. Since both were superior, you should have superior babies, all show stoppers and NDS winners, right! Well, as you know with Dutch, there is no guaranteed cross which will work, not one!

What I would expect with a cross like this would be one nice one, with traits from both parents, one with traits from neither, some with traits from one of the parents, and some weird stuff!

You do get a bit of "Hybridization" by out crossing. (See below)

Now, this may not sound much different from what you may get with the other systems, but myself, I shoot for consistency of good traits. With out crossing, you will get some good animals, but the consistency is not always that good - from great to weird, all in the same litter.

Inbreeding - This involves using one buck (or doe) on everything, offspring, siblings, and even the bucks Dam. Now, this is and can be done, but when you do this over and over for generations, it is inbreeding. This is a method to try and get those traits from that superior animal in everything you produce. When inbreeding, often you will see the same buck as the only grand sire, or great grand sire on the entire pedigree.

I did say, this can and does work. You are after all of those traits the superior animal carries. Well, remember the saying be careful of what you ask for! You will get those desirable traits, but you will get all other traits too.

If you have ever heard of hybridization, this involves out crossing, or even crossbreeding. What you normally get are very hardy animals, that are great mothers, have extra milk production, and grow quickly.

Inbreeding will give you no hybridization, the genetic traits will be common and you may lose some desirable traits. It is common for inbred animals to be slow growing, with less milk production and are not as thrifty. This is what happened to my torts about 10 - 12 years ago. While the animals you get may be good, if the good does only raise two or three per litter, and the bad does raise none, you are not left with much to work with. So, if you go this route, breed in something that is not entirely related every once and a while.

Lastly, we have line breeding. This is what I have been doing for several years. This involves using related animals only. I keep two to three bucks per color usually. Two of the bucks will be half brothers. Buck "A" will be bred to the offspring of buck "B", while the offspring of buck "A" will be bred to buck "B". If I use a third buck in that color, it might be another half brother, or the father of both buck "A & B". This buck would be bred to offspring of "A or B". Now, these are just rules of thumb, and I do some sibling breeding occasionally - but only occasionally.

What you get from line breeding is consistency of traits. Those may be good traits or bad, but they are consistent. Once you eliminate the bad, you are left with litters that are fairly uniform in type, coat, and color, and somewhat in markings as well.

Once I get a good "Line" going, it is common to get three or four well marked babies per litter, with the mismarks looking very good as well. That is where my Grays have been the last few years.

What do you do when line breeding and things are not working. I bring in a rabbit that is out of my line, but from someone who has mixed it with another line. That seems to be the best fix. I rarely try an out cross. When I do, it seems to bring unwanted characteristics more often than those desired.

Whichever method you prefer is your choice. Try them all and see what works best for you!

BREEDER of BOS

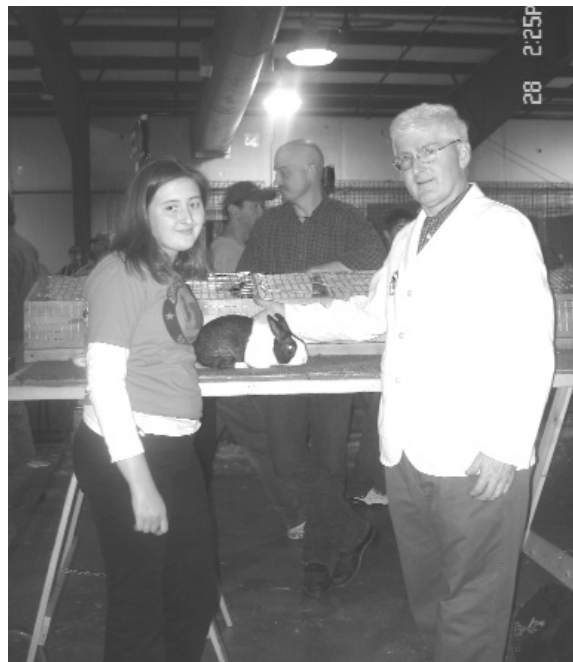

NDS 2007

My name is Bethany Brown; I am 12 years old and live in Greenwich, CT (20 miles east of New York City). My Rabbitry is named Brown's Honey Bunny Farm. I have 12_pens, and DADDY has two Honey Bee Hives.

Four years ago I went to visit my Great - Grandmother, with my Grandmother and Mom. She took us to the Clearfield County Fair (in PA) and I saw rabbits, which I really wanted to have as a pet. However, DADDY said NO! Even though I phoned him three days in a row, begging and promising I would take care of them he said "I had to wait a while, to make sure I really wanted to have a Pet". He did tell me at the end of the week to write down the name of the Breeder, who wins the most Blue Ribbons. Two months later DADDY said I could go back to PA, with my Grandmother and buy three Rabbits from Mrs. Bloom. She asked me if I wanted them as pets or to show? At that time I didn't know about shows, other than the County Fair in PA and I wasn't sure if they had fairs in CT, so I told her I wanted pet bunnies. I got a Chestnut French Lop for Mommy, A Black Dutch Doe for DADDY and a Chocolate Dutch Doe for me. Mrs. Bloom gave me their pedigrees, which had the ARBA address on them. After a year DADDY looked at the ARBA Website and found out I could become a member and join the ADRC and go to a show in Sutton, MA and win a Blue Ribbon with my Chocolate Dutch "Sniffles" (HB1).

Our first show was a real experience, we showed up with our two Dutch rabbits in dog carriers , they were sunburned, pour body type and we were not feeding them properly. (HB1) now lives in our house; she's liter trained and doesn't go to any shows unless it's a fun show - like worst rabbit wins. Luckily Sharon Satori, Lynn Mandile and Carl Richetelle took me aside and gave me some advice of how to raise rabbits that could do well at shows.

We flew out to the NDS show in OH and Rick Lehman spent time showing me what to look for in a Dutch rabbit. I bought a Blue Doe (3P20) from Bob Bergene that was a daughter of a "rabbit that can not be named". I thought I was the only person in the world who loved their rabbit so much, but he sure loved "Percy". I also bought a Black Buck "OHIO FATS" (CD103) from the Lapes. (CD103) he won 7 Legs and then developed a freckle, which DQ's him from showing. He has been unsuccessful in breeding too, but DADDY would never let me get rid of him, because whenever he holds the rabbit it talks to DADDY - they really have bonded! I traded (3P20) and $50 to Anthony and Lynn Mandile for a young Black Buck (JT), who we named "MASS FATS". He won 12 Legs and is the Sire of my Steel Buck "Sleepy" (HB7). Since I am the only youth with Dutch in CT, I have to travel a lot to PA for shows and I met Howard Dunmire and Todd Biddle who have taken time to help me in learning about breeding, proper diet, feeding for shows and genetics. During our trip to a show in Washington, PA I had made arrangements to buy a Black Doe (K639) from Kevin Hooper. She has done very well for me, winning 12 Legs and was the Dam of my Steel Buck (HB7) "Sleepy", 7 in the liter, so each was named after one of the Snow Whites Dwarfs. As busy as Kevin Hooper is at shows, he always was kind enough to take the time to give me advice.

I must give credit for my success with the breeding and raising of (HB7) and for his exciting win at the NDS 2007 show to all the adults I mentioned and some I forgot to mention (my article is getting long) who have helped and taken the time to advised me. To all my fellow youth I compete against in the New England Dutch Rabbit Club and the Chesapeake Dutch Rabbit Breeders Club - we all did very well in Michigan and its was great to see everybody at the show. To my Mom and DADDY who help me feed and clean my rabbits and most of all to GOD for creating (HB7), answering my prayers, I almost didn't enter the show, because my school choir went to Toronto Canada the same weekend as the show and for the revealing the power of positive thinking & prayer. All the time HB7 was on the judging table for his class, best of variety and best of breed DADDY and my prayers were answered. Also, I want to thank the members of the Michigan Dutch Rabbit Rabbit Club for all their hours of hard work in making the show so successful.

ADRC Standards Committee Report July 2007

By Jill Pfaff, Chairwoman

The last meeting of the ADRC Standards Committee was held at the 2007 National Dutch Show in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Two new members were appointed Billy Bounds and Warren Wiltman. Also in attendance were Stan Goeglein, Erik Bengston, Tom Dietrich, Rick Billups and myself. Topics discussed included medium fine bone versus medium bone, the Gray and Steel color descriptions and future new variety presentations. The Standards Committee hopes to have items for consideration on the new Standard of Perfection after the next meeting. If any member would like to make suggestions to the ADRC Standards Committee please feel free to contact myself or any of the Committee members.

ADRC Sanctions Report as of July 31, 2007

So far nearly 1300 sanctions have been processed for 2007 ! and already getting sanction requests for 2008. Over half are now in the new computer program. There have been a few changes in the last two years and hopefully all for the better. For those of you that may not have heard yet, the board has decided discontinue the specialty club ribbons. For this calendar year we will still be sending out ribbons for youth shows and as long as the supply lasts can be requested for open shows too. Thanks for your continued support of Dutch in your area.

Sincerely,

Jill E. Pfaff

News from the New Sweepstakes Chair, Norma Hart

Those of you who have been around for several years, already know who I am. In years past, I held the same position that Barb Kline currently holds, that of your Secretary/Treasurer. Dick and I were also co-editors of the ADRC Dutch Reporter, and I believe that for a while, he even handled the sweepstakes.

I'd like to personally thank Valerie Worzella for the "tremendous effort" that she put into the position of sweepstake chairperson. Unless you have handled this position yourself, either on a national or state level, I really don't believe that you can fully understand just what it takes to do this job.

In order to credit points to the membership that they have coming to them for wins at ADRC sanctioned shows, several things have to fall into place. The most important is that not only does the completed show report have to match the ADRC sanction issued, but it has to carry complete and correct information when it's received. Although I'm sure that many don't realize that what they feel is incorrect on the data shown for a show listed, is actually just how it came in for tally. If a report doesn't list the BOB or the BOS, the sweepstake person shouldn't be expected to make that placement if it requires "just a guess". If the exhibitor list that comes in lists John & Mary Doe, that is how your points will appear. They will not go under John, Mary, and John Jr.

Show reports have been coming in here now since May, and I must admit that many of them should never have left the show secretary's hand in the condition that they have arrived here. Some are handwritten on notebook paper and don't include all of the necessary information, while some using computer generated reports are missing a page of the report.

The reason I'm telling you all this is so that when you find what you believe to be an error, it may be exactly that, or, it just may be exactly the way it came in. If you have a question regarding a show report that you see listed, please always feel free to contact us here. We are best reached via email, which response to is always prompt. Snail mail also still works (usually), and this sometimes is the best way to go if you have a copy of anything that would help to correct what you feel is in err. Just be certain to ask your question or state your concern clearly, and we'll definitely make every effort to ensure you receive all those points due.

You must remember though, that the show sponsors records are the official show records, so a remark card copy won't usually get any change made for you. Should we need additional confirmation in order to credit you with points, we'll always let you know, and you'll have every opportunity to contact the show secretary to get what may be needed.

Your first sweepstake report in this issue of the DR is different. We tried to include the show's exhibitors and the list of points they received, so Dick has been busy trying to modify the program.

Since no reports for the current sweepstake year had been entered prior to receipt of the first box of reports via the USPS, we have been working very hard to include as many as possible. We do have a stack of reports that don't match Jill's sanction file in one way or another, so it's impossible to include those until we can verify whether or not the report goes to the sanction issued. There isn't anyone who wants to include them only to have to do them again, and for the correct show!

We'd like to thank you in advance for your patience while we work to get the show reports into the system as quickly as possible. And again, if you have any questions, please email us at the address listed in the front of the DR. We'll look into your concern and respond ASAP.

In the meantime, if you should run into Val in your travels, please don't forget to extend a great big thank you for all her work.

Hope this finds each of you with bags packed, and Dutch ready for travel! Hopefully I'll get to see many of you in Michigan in October.

May the next Best in Show be yours!

The following pages reflect the show reports entered in the computer program at this time. As more are completed, they will be posted on the ADRC web site.
