by G. C. Leisenring

Time for our annual National Dutch Show to be held this year in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and sponsored by the Oklahoma State Dutch Club is fast approaching and from all advance indications it certainly will be one of the finest, for the boys from the Sooner State are going all out for this one with the excellent support of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce and other Civic organizations from that fair City and they will offer to the Dutch Breeders the largest and most complete array of Specials ever offered at a "National" and we sincerely urge you to plan a large entry and attend the 1957 National Dutch Show. Judge J. M. Brown, 2116 S.W. 67th. St., Oklahoma City, will be the General Superintendent of the Show and T. J. Logan, 2616 S.W. 61st. St., Oklahoma City, has been appointed General Sec'y. A show catalog will be sent to all paid up members of the American Dutch Rabbit Club. The Biltmore Hotel in downtown Oklahoma City has been chosen as Convention Headquarters and the Show Committee assures us that their rates are reasonable and that they are well equipped to handle the occasion.

Word comes from David Breuggemann of the Wisconsin State Dutch Rabbit Breeders Ass'n. informing us of the election of officers to lead their Club in the year 1957, results were as follows: President; Fuben H. Harder, Vice-Pres; Axel Everson, Directors; Royal Meyer and Karl Thomas. I will not be at all surprised to learn of this fine State Club bidding to host the National Dutch Show in the very near future.

The Ohio State Dutch Club have chosen Sunday, June 16th. as the date for their annual 1-day Dutch Show. The Show will be held at the Fairgrounds, Norwalk, Ohio in light of the generosity of the Huron County Rabbit Breeders Ass'n. who have offered their entire facilities including their building, coops, etc.

May the rapid progress of our State Dutch organizations already in existence continue with the hope that many more will be organized, for certainly they are of great importance to the success of we Dutch Breeders and our parent affiliations.

IMPROVING OUR DUTCH

by J. Russell Hall

For several years I have corresponded with people who raised Dutch rabbits, trying to induce them to enter our shows. The response has not been heartening, to say the least. Some wrote that it cost them too much to ship and enter shows, some wrote that they were disgusted with Dutch, some wrote that they had none "fit to show", and many did not answer even when they had a stamped and addressed envelope at hand to use. There were just a few affirmative replies.

Now what can be the reason for this lack of enthusiasm, when we have a very good and popular Dutch at the present time?

Part of it could be due to the lack of rigid culling by nearly all breeders. By that I mean a lack of culling for not only type, color, and markings, but also for good healthy animals to propagate the strain, good litters of more than four, does that are not timid or pugnacious, does and bucks that will breed easily, and other desired traits.

All of the above mentioned traits, I believe, can be bred into a strain; and when animals are culled enough to do this I think we can have better Dutch and better Dutch Breeders. But this takes time; and many breeders of Dutch become disgusted with them before he gives them a chance. If many of the Dutch were nearer to perfection (in all ways) their owners probably would be more enthusiastic about them, and would want to show them. This perfection can be more nearly attained by rigid culling. First, the animals should be culled for type and color, for without this foundation there will be no really good Dutch.

Den Strickland, one of our deceased old-timers, once told me that he always culled rigidly for type and color; and he would not "fool" with an animal which had poor eye color or which had white hairs in the black parts of his stock. In the October 1956 issue of the "Dutch Reporter" an old-timer's article goes into this subject, also, very well.

When a particularly well-marked animal is raised, its owner either tries to sell it, or else uses it for a breeder, not taking into consideration whether it has other desired qualities. In either case it should be culled if many other bad traits are present. Some of our members with many years of experience can tell of instances of culling where it hurt; but they were pleased later with beneficial results. Trying to breed out a bad fault takes a lot of time and patience. Chas. O. Lewis, one of our former officers, once told me of his efforts in breeding out an eye spot in some otherwise fine animals. It took him several years to eradicate that one fault.

Quoting from an article by a former A.D.R.C. President, W. W. Hawthorne, "if you are a red-blooded American man, woman or child, and you have initiative, a desire for adventure, a bit of sporting blood, respond to a challenge, thrive on adversity and opposition, possiss patience and determination, and are interested in rabbits that will spark your imagination and demand your best efforts, you can't beat the Dutch."
