PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Fred Mullinax

Hi, Dutch Fans!

Winter here in the south is just about over. This has probably been the worst winter we have had in years. I hope everyone and all of their Dutch have survived.

Shows in this part are just starting. We will be having a show just about every other week until June, so I guess we will be on the road for the next couple of months. Kathy and Abby love showing and winning with their Dutch, but they hate getting up at four or five in the morning and driving 100 or 200 miles.

We will be starting off '94 with a new President, Vice-President (Wayne MacKinnon, and two new Directors (Ken Emerson and Floyd Dopler). With both these new officers and old officers, let's make the next three years some of the best ones our club has ever had. I know with the membership that we have it would not be hard to do. So, let's all work together, and if anyone has a question or problem let one of our officers or directors hear about it.

At the National Dutch Show, we will be discussing the Dutch Hall of Fame, so all of you need to be thinking about this. Also, be thinking about who you want to nominate. I know that we have a lot of people who have done a lot for the American Dutch Rabbit Club.

I hope everyone has gotten reservations for the National Dutch Show. If you haven't, you'd better hurry! I hear the rooms are going fast so don't be left out.

I almost forgot to mention that the Standards Committee has completed the standard. It sent them to the ARBA, so you will see changes in the standards.

If you haven't sent in something for the Guidebook, you are left out. I want to Thank everyone who sent in articles or ads for the Guidebook.

Hope to see all of you at some shows. If not there, then maybe at the National Dutch Show in Pennsylvania.

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

by Norma Hart

Just a few weeks before the 1994 National Dutch Show in Reading, Pa.. We've got our room booked and I'm getting pretty anxious about getting there! I hope that many of you are able to attend. The NDS is the 'biggest "DUTCH" event' of the year for us Dutch Lovers and it's certain that you'll see some of the finest stock available at this premier show! The Seller's Class is always an ideal place to purchase quality stock from quality breeders at a very affordable price. Both open and youth breeders participate in this and it helps compliment the seller, the buyer and the American Dutch Rabbit Club. If you have anything that you are planning on entering in this 'sale', remember to bring your pedigree with you.

This office is receiving many sanction requests, with many of them still sending the old sanction fee(s). The ADRC open sanction fee is $9.00 and the youth sanction fee is $6.00. This has been in effect since January 1st. and is printed in the Secretary handbook issued to your club (by the ARBA) each year when you renew your charter. Membership fees have remained the same: $9.00 for a husband/wife; $7.00 for an adult membership and $5.00 for youth members under the age of 18 years. Should you wish to have your Dutch Reporter mailed via first class, please be sure to include an additional $5.00 fee to cover postage. Canadian members MUST include an additional $5.00 and all foreign memberships require an additional $8.00 fee. (All fees are to be paid in US Funds.)

I would like, at this time, to welcome Wayne MacKinnon of Taunton, Ma. to the ADRC office of Vice-President! Wayne is an asset to the American Dutch Rabbit Club and is always a pleasure to work with. The board is most fortunate to have him 'on board'!

I would also, at this time, like to say "THANK YOU" to both Jack Wireman and Wenton Carlton for their many years of dedicated service to the Dutch breeders and the American Dutch Rabbit Club. These two people have been great and I will continue to look forward to seeing them both at the shows! See you all in Reading!

DISTRICT I

Jack Wireman, past Director

Fellow Dutch Breeders,

First off I owe all of you an apology. I didn't get my article written for the last issue. I guess the more time you are supposed to have the faster it gets away.

This is a late congratulations to all the winners at the 1993 ARBA Convention. Sorry, I just couldn't make it. I was in Seattle in '92 for an Army reunion, and driving out again, especially in November, well.. I just passed.

Special congratulations to Jill Dobson on her winning B.O.B., B.O.S., and Best 4 Class. Take it one more step next time, Jill.

I'm not going to be as windy as Rick Lehmann. Just kidding Rick. I really enjoyed your article. Just a word of caution, watch that Bob Bergene. He is one tough cookie (gotcha Bob!)

I want to Thank all the Dutch breeders for their cooperation for my terms as one of your officers. It was my pleasure to serve you as best I could, and I hope I didn't let you down. Let's all give our new Board our cooperation as we have one of the most outstanding groups of people in this USA in our Dutch breeders.

I have lost a very good friend in the passing of Lowell Simonson. We were friends for 25+ years even though we lived far apart. His smile and always thinking of a better way to do things will be missed. He will be missed by all, and especially Marge and his family.

But, the time will come for the rest of us. When the man upstairs says time, no matter where you are or what you are doing, you only get one call.

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the shows. Reading, PA should be a good one, and then Tulsa.

One thing, when you call for Reading, make sure you get with the Dutch group. They tried to give me the Netherland Dwarfs the week before, but I was too stubborn and held out for the Dutch. They finally found the right place and time for me.

Til sometime and somewhere down the road.

ED: Although Jack is no longer a Director, (by choice of his own), he will always have my admiration as a supporter of the Dutch breed, an officer of the ADRC who always had the betterment of the breed and organization in mind, and most of all a good friend. Thanks for all your years of dedication Jack.

DISTRICT I

Kevin Hooper

We have had some challenges here in the mid-west raising bunnies this winter. It will have an effect on the spring shows as well as the National Dutch Show.

Please find elsewhere in this issue the results of the voting on the proposed clarifications of the standard. Only 24 votes were cast. Makes you wonder how many people care about what is going on with the Dutch rabbit.

I have received a few more articles for the Guidebook and I am contacting some breeders around the country requesting articles on specific topics. We will be having colored photos of the varieties in the Guidebook. We have collected over $500.00 in ads with some more pledged. We can take more ads if you are interested.

The Ohio State Dutch Rabbit Club is working on their bid for the 1996 National Dutch Show. The date we are looking at is the last weekend of April and we are looking at Greenville, Ohio on the Ohio-Indiana border. More details will be available if our bid is accepted by the ADRC Board of Directors.

We have only had one show in Ohio so far this year with another being cancelled due to bad weather. Lima, on Feb. 6, had 88 Dutch in Open and 50 plus in Ypouth. The winter must have taken its toll as we had over 60 in Youth and 177 in Open last year. The Youth show was won by Longshores with a nice Gray Jr. Doe and B.O.S. went to a nice Blue Buck of Wally Cain. The Open show was won by a nice Black Sr. Buck of Robin Hessick and B.O.S. was a Black Sr. Doe of mine. If none of you have shown against Robin before, look out. She has some very nice Dutch, especially considering she has only been raising them for a few years.

Hope to see you at the NDS in Reading.

District Two Report

Floyd Dopler Jr.

As this is my first column in the DR as a new director I would like to thank the people who voted for me and if nothing else, simply thank everyone who took the time to vote whether or not it was for me.

This organization really does need the input of the breeders no matter how few dutch you raise. Individuals don't win in the long run; teams do. When people find a way to work together and have become organized as a group like this, there is a real feeling of partnership. Ultimately they have had to put the needs of their individual egos behind the needs of their team. Without the input of each breeder we cannot be a successful team, namely the American Dutch Rabbit Club. When Dale Zentner passed away about a year ago I talked to a breeder out in Iowa who took the time to drive a few hours over to the funeral home. He said to me "You should have seen him Floyd, he sure looked good there at the funeral home, he even had a dutch pin on his lapel. "This is more than raising and exhibiting rabbits, this is a way of life or at least a very important part of it for some of us. Displaying that pin was proof of that and something I will remember for quite sometime.

Not to take anything away from the National Dutch Show in Reading, Pennsylvania this May, but 1995 will be the year many in the midwest area will be looking forward to. The Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club has been hard at work on this and have a building in OshKosh, Wisconsin which is quite nice. They had printed up some NDS buttons and the first batch have sold out already. Hey, who knows? Maybe they'll be collector items in the future! Don Dowd in Iowa sold me some to take to the Indiana State Convention last September and they disappeared like water. The next edition of the button should be ready in mid March. The next set of buttons will sell for $2. The UMDRC secretary, Doreen Bengtson in Lewiston, MN will have some available as well as some of their members. Her address is Rt 1, Box 95, zip: 55952 or call 507-864-2103. Hopefully by the time you see all this in print it will be late enough not to be considered an infringement on this years show.

One of the first shows of the season occurs at Princeton Illinois in my area. This early February show had 48 youth dutch shown by eight exhibitors. BOB went to Amy Nyert of Kewanee IL. The interesting part about this win is that it is the same black sr. buck she won with at the Riverbend fall show in Nov. with 65 youth being shown and then on the same day the same specimen won BOB in the dutch specialty show with 118 head, both youth & adults competing together.

The open at Princeton had 66 shown by 9 exhibitors with Don Baird's black Sr. Buck getting the honors; Dawn & Daniel Schwartz's black Sr Doe was BOS. The Satulla family drove up from Rolla MO to show their chocolate dutch and if I had not been busy working on my judges license, I would have liked to have met them.

Speaking of youth, one of the more interesting happenings in Iowa is the amount of youth dutch being exhibited. I was amazed last year at some of the fairs how many showed up. The Mississippi Valley Fair in Davenport had 74 shown and the Muscatine Co. Fair had 66. I asked Eric Mixdorf about this and he commented how many dutch the youth were buying for stock the past spring and early summer. Eric went on further to say that this did not appear to be just a temporary thing and that the youth seemed to be sincerely interested in showing and raising our breed. As he said: "They're serious about this Floyd, they're out for blood." Let us hope I see as many at the shows again this year.

This district does cover many states and I would enjoy receiving notes, letters, show reports, suggestions and comments from other areas. I realize some of you are in no man's land when it comes to dutch in your local area, but I still read my mail and accept phone calls (weekends best) and I would really like to hear from some of you. Exchange bulletins welcome. I can not guarantee that everything I receive will be reprinted again, but I will try and promote your dutch show or cause as much as possible. Until another issue.....Best Wishes from Floyd.

A NOTE FROM TERI BULLIS, CA

Dear Dick,

I just wanted to say I met Lowell Simonson at the Portland, OR ARBA Convention. Jack Wireman introduced me to him. It was my first National Convention and Jack was ever so kind, and Lowell too. He was very informative on his likes and dislikes of Dutch, and really supportive of a new-comer. I still think of him today and am greatly saddened to hear of his passing.

Also, did the DR ever have a question and answer column? It might be a great filler and an asset to the new-comer and old-timers alike. Different ideas from different parts of the country.

ED: If anyone would be interested in a "Question and Answers" column, please contact me and let me know. Naturally, someone will have to answer the questions, so who do you think would be the best person for the job? If you are willing to take on the responsibility, let me know that too and I will direct all questions to you.

DIRECTOR and EDITOR'S REPORT

by Dick Gehr, IL

I figured I would just combine my Director's Report and Editor's Comments into one article.

First, welcome to a new year! 1994 should be exciting for the Dutch breeders with a very good National Dutch Show to be held in Reading, PA. as well as the ARBA National Convention in Tulsa, OK. This should bring quite an entry of Dutch for both of these events as they are easily accessible from many areas of the country. Will 1994 be the year for a Dutch to win Best In Show at the ARBA Convention? Jill Dobson came real close last year winning Best 4 Class. What a kick it would be to have a Dutch chosen as the BEST rabbit chosen in the entire country ! I remember the last Best of Breed at Tulsa. It was an excellent little Black owned by Scott Williamson. Personally, I felt that rabbit was at least deserving of Best 4 Class. Breed those winners, and let's hope for the best!

There is a very nice article on Lowell Simonson in this issue written by Eric Mixdorf. Eric may have been closer to Lowell distance wise than many of us, but in the same sense, all of us familiar with Lowell considered him as being close, friendship wise. I have chosen to honor Lowell by using a picture of him on the cover of this issue, as I believe he was a real inspiration to many Dutch breeders as well as the American Dutch Rabbit Club. I judged last weekend in Winterset, IA which was only a few miles from where Lowell lived, and believe me, his presence was missed by this writer.

1994 promises to be a big year for the Dutch fancy, as I am aware of many Dutch specialty shows being held in various areas of the country. Competition breeds better rabbits, so the Dutch should be one of the top placing fancy breeds throughout the US this year. I look forward to judging Dutch whenever I travel to shows, but unfortunately do not get them as much as I would like. I did get to judge them on Vancouver Island, British Columbia and in Enumclaw, Washington earlier this year, and Jan and Russ Coffelt won under me both times with an extremely classy Black Buck. This could very well be one of the best marked Dutch I have had the pleasure of judging. Over the years, I can remember several that were outstanding, by breeders such as Evenburg and Stearns, Scott Williamson, the Schillings, Bob Worden, Goeglein and Shaw, Ken Emerson, Kevin Hooper, and the list could go on.

It would be impossible to mention them all, but these breeders have had the good ones consistently year in and year out. They are the kind of breeders that make the game interesting. I applaud them all, and look for many more names to join their ranks in future years.

I judged the Dutch in Butler, PA earlier this year also, and must admit that the Youth are indeed shining in that area. I had 40 or so Dutch in the Youth show, as compared to only about 6 or 8 in the Open show. This is encouraging (the Youth) as it means the interest of the breed is with the young as well as the old, and there will be someone there when we "old timers" hang it up. GO YOUTH !!

One of the most DISCOURAGING things I have witnessed in many years, was the results of the ADRC ballot for the proposed Standard changes or clarifications. Kevin Hooper ONLY RECEIVED 24 BALLOTS !!!

In my opinion, this is not even enough representation for the ARBA Standards Committee to recognize when deciding whether to consider the ADRC member's opinions. This is pathetic ! Kevin put in a lot of time and effort with his committee trying to make our standard a better one, and we reward him by such a poor showing. I cannot say how disgusted I was to receive the results. I hope everyone is happy with the outcome. Remember, if the standard is not written in the manner you think it should be, there are only 24 people that have the right to complain. The rest should never gripe about it, at least not for the next 5 years.

I am going to reprint the standard's ballot with the results for all to see. That way, for those that do not have the DR with the ballot in it, they can see exactly what will be sent to the ARBA Standards Committee as recommendations for our standard.

I hope to see many of you in Reading, PA. this April, and again in Tulsa for the ARBA Convention. Then it will be onward to the NDS in Oshkosh (by gosh!), Wisconsin. I know that the Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club is planning a GREAT show, and with the experienced breeders they have in that area can be nothing short of excellent. Anyone wishing information on that show should contact Doreen Bengtson.

On a final note, my sincere THANKS to Wenton Carlton and Jack Wireman who have decided not to run for re-election. They have both served this club as officers for years, and are entitled to the gratitude of all members. We would not be as strong a club as we are without dedication and loyalty like theirs.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

by Fran Schettler, California

The state of California has certainly had an interesting 1993 and a bang up start to 1994 with an outstanding National Dutch show, large numbers of Dutch being shown in both open and youth, as well as earthquakes, firestorms, and mudslides. Fortunately most of our Dutch breeders have not been affected too seriously by the natural disasters, although the January 17th earthquake has certainly cut many exhibitor's access to the shows. John and Kathryn Eubank of Saugus sustained only minor damage in the earthquake, but has had their access to the southern California shows almost completely cut off. I have forwarded to Dick Gehr a copy of an article that they have written for the California Dutch Rabbit Club's newsletter, which discusses their earthquake experience. I think that many of their observations are valid not only for earthquakes (which can strike anywhere) but for most any natural disaster. Perhaps we can all learn from their unfortunate experience and better prepare ourselves and our rabbits for the worst.

The California Dutch Rabbit Club (CDRC) finished up their first sweepstakes year with the following results:

1.	Jim and Fran Schettler	2649
2.	Tracy Robinson	1415
3.	Joanne Purpus	1184
4.	Jill Dobson	1079
5.	John Eubank	931

Top Youth Exhibitor:

6.	David Uchiyama	652

CDRC uses the same sweepstakes point system as ADRC except that points are only awarded to each exhibitor's top 4 placing rabbits in each sweepstakes show. CDRC feels that this puts more emphasis on quality than quantity. Congratulations to all the winners.

CDRC also would like to announce the winners of their 1993 Youth Achievement Award contest:

1st place --	April Worley, 12, of Petaluma
2nd place --	Amber Miskell, 8, of Highland
3rd place --	Jean Zimmermann, 14, of Escondido

Each of these fine young ladies won a cash prize to be used towards the purchase of a Dutch rabbit and April also won a nice plaque. We have some fine youth breeders and exhibitors here in California.

The 1994/95 elections for the California Dutch Rabbit Club revealed that David Uchiyama is now the first youth to be voted in as a Club Director in a long time. Congratulations to David on his election to the Board.

The quantity of Dutch being shown here continues to be high, with our biggest shows (both in northern and southern California) generating 110 - 140 animals. Split youth and open shows have revealed that there are more youth exhibitors than open, and, for the first time in a while, more youth Dutch than open Dutch. The quality of the youth Dutch has been getting better and better, and the kids compete very successfully in the open division as well. It is very interesting to watch these kids at work with their animals and helping them to improve and grow in their rabbit habit is very rewarding.

By the time this is published, I suspect that the National Dutch Show will be over. If so, congratulations to all the winners and I hope that Jim and I managed to attend. If we did, it was with a very new baby in tow! If not, it will have been the first NDS in several years that we haven't managed to get to, and I know that we will be disappointed to miss it. Attending a National Dutch Show in a different part of the country is an experience that every Dutch breeder should try to achieve.

1995 NATIONAL DUTCH SHOW

by Doreen Bengtson

Dear Friends,

Happy Spring! I sit to write this message on the first full day of Spring and the robins are chirping out a happy refrain. The sun is brightly casting its warmth on the last piles of snow and all is well with the world. I know that you Dutch fanciers in the East have had more than your share of winter, and we are happy to hear that all that good white stuff moved a little to the East of us this time around. We really do like to share, or is it "misery loves company".

On this bright day I would like to update you on the plans for the 1995 NDS in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. But first I'd like to encourage everyone to jump in and support the 1994 NDS in Reading, PA. If you haven't done so yet, now would be a good time to send them a check for some specials, and help make 1994 a Great Dutch show.

As soon as you have done that and sent your entries in for 1994, I'd like to let you know that we (The Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club) will be in Pennsylvania with lots of opportunities for you to "get involved" with the 1995 NDS. We will bring brochures from the local businesses and "places to see", and we will be ready to take orders for your "OSHKOSH OVERALLS" since that is the attire for the show. (Roger says the secretary has to wear them too!) I don't know about Norma, but this secretary is really dragging her feet.

The facility selected for 1995 is really a fine place for us to convene. We will have lots of room for everyone with plenty of natural light. We will certainly do our best to satisfy your needs at our headquarters motel (with indoor pool) now being constructed. We like to think it is just for the 1995 NDS, but deep down inside we know that isn't true. The banquet facilities are the finest in the area.

The Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club is busy raising funds to help cover the expenses involved and I'd like to recognize the following Dutch breeders who donated breeding stock to our recent Dutch auction. We had seven animals donated and judged. In placement order they were: Black Sr. Doe by Bengtsons; Bred Blue Sr. Doe by Travis Anderson; Bred Blue Sr. Doe by Mandy Anderson; Tort Sr. Buck by Paul Bengtson; Black Sr. Buck by Karen & Darrell Gates; Blue Sr. Buck by Roger Guetschow; Tort Sr. Doe by Roger Guetschow. All of those animals were outright donations and helped raise $257.00 for the 1995 NDS. The UMDRC members can't be beat!

Please watch for more news from the Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club right here in the Dutch Reporter as we prepare to make 1995 ONE TO REMEMBER !!

LOWELL W. SIMONSON

On January 8, the Dutch fancy lost a great humanitarian and fellow breeder and showman in Lowell W. Simonson. Lowell had been very ill with complications from lung cancer since early November and had been in the hospital for many weeks. A memorial service was held January 12.

Lowell had served in many capacities within the Dutch club on various committees and served as a club director in the mid 1980's. He served as President of the Iowa State Dutch Rabbit Club and was Show superintendent of the 1986 National Dutch Show in Des Moines, where he made his home the last 20 years. Lowell had raised Dutch for almost 30 years, and 3 of his trophies were displayed at his memorial service, spanning from 1964 to 1991.

Lowell's proudest win was probably his Best Opposite Sex at the 1983 ARBA Convention in Colorado with a chocolate, his favorite variety and the one he is best known for.

Lowell was born at Rolfe, IA on July 19, 1925 and served in the Navy during World War II. He and Marjorie were united in marriage in 1946 and together they had 5 children. After farming for a number of years Lowell was a tool and die maker. He retired as the owner/operator of Simonson Tool Grinding, Inc.

In January 1992 Lowell sold out his entire Dutch herd and shortly thereafter sold his home and moved to a mobile home park where his wife Marge still resides. If you would wish to send a memorial they can be made to Hope Luthern Church, E. 42nd St., Des Moines, IA 50317.

Lowell is also survived by 4 children, 12 grandchildren, a sister, and 2 brothers.

Through these past few years the American Dutch Rabbit Club has had the mis-fortune of losing too many of our "old-time" breeders. I hope that such names as Nelson, Leibel, Zentner, Meier, Milhahn, Simonson, among others not only will remain in our records and pedigrees, but also forever in our memories with the good times we were able to share.

Thanks for the memories, Lowell ! We will all miss you.

Eric Mixdorf

and the Iowa State Dutch Rabbit Club.

TOP OF OHIO RABBIT SHOW

Sunday June 5, 1994

Early entry with Dutch being judged at 9:00 AM.

STANDARD CLARIFICATION

To: Members of the American Dutch Rabbit Club

From: Kevin Hooper, Standards Committee Chairman

The following clarifications are being presented for you to review and vote on. These are not changing the breed standard nor are they creating additional disqualifications. All disqualifications mentioned are currently in effect and these proposals are written to clarify only. The five members of the standards committee have reviewed all of these and a minimum of four of the five have voted in favor of each issue. Please review the proposals as printed, vote on the ballot following all proposals, and send to: Kevin Hooper - 585 Cherrybend Rd. - Wilmington, OH 45177

Item #1. To clarify the "freckle" situation. To add the following:

Disqualification for:

"Any foreign colored area, other than called for in the breed standard, that is plainly visible while the animal is in its natural pose, or can be detected during the normal sequence of examination. (Foreign being a color other than is called for in that particular area.)

Item #2. To be added under the section of feet and legs:

"Hind toes may be separated to identify a split stop."

Item #3. Body description. Change the terminology to:

"side lines to taper from hips to shoulders."

Item #4. Regarding the order of the current standard:

A. All varieties, move the section "free from spots in the iris, or any other eye discoloration. Both eyes to match." under the description of eyes.

B. Move the pictures showing how to determine a tied front leg to the end of the Dutch standard.

Item #5. Regarding the touching of the joint of the stops: Page 116 and 118 refer to two different descriptions of stop disqualifications. Shall the following words (in boldface) be added?

"When the white portion of the footstop reaches above the hock joint." (Both pages, 116 & 118 would be changed to read as this.)

STEEL COLOR DESCRIPTION: Goal - to give the novice breeder and judges a mental picture of steels.

If all of the proposals on the steel listed below are approved, it will read as follows:

Steel: Entire colored portion of the body black, with uniform disbursement of off-white or cream coloration of some of the hair tips. Undercolor to be slate blue carried as deep towards the skin as possible. Under portion of the tail, belly, and inside of hind legs to be as near the body color as possible. Crotch marks accepted.

Faults: Lack of uniform steel coloration over the back. Brassy or yellow appearance. White hairs in the colored section.

Item #6. Eliminate the current statement "A dark uniform steel-gray"

Item #7. Current statement - "This color is brought out by of the rabbit" - would be replaced with:

"Entire colored portion of the body black, with uniform disbursement of off-white or cream coloration of some of the hair tips."

Item #8. Current statement - "Slate-blue undercolor carried down to the skin" - would be replaced with:

"Undercolor to be slate-blue carried as deep towards the skin as possible"

Item #9. The only other change to be made would be the addition of "Crotch marks accepted"

Replace current faults with the following faults (for steels)

Item #10. "Lack of steel coloration over the back"

Item #11. "Brassy or yellow appearance"

Item #12. "White hairs in colored sections"

GRAY:

Item #13. We begin our description with the "Brown Gray" term. Should we change the variety name to "Brown Gray" instead of just "Gray"?

Item #14. The second sentence currently reads: "The color of the fur at the base of the hair shaft to be slate blue, followed by a medium tan colored band, next to a thin band of charcoal brown, finished by a lighter tan tipping to the undercoat" This sentence would be replaced with:

"The color of the fur at the base of the hair shaft to be slate blue, followed by a medium tan band, next to a thin band of charcoal brown, followed by a lighter tan band, finished with uniform disbursement of black tips to the undercoat."

Item #15. Currently the description states: "The entire body should be interspersed with an even distribution of black guard hairs" This would be replaced with:

"The entire body should be interspersed with a moderate amount of uniformly disbursed black guard hairs."

Item #16. Currently the description states: "The top side of the tail must complement the body color with the underside of the tail to be the same as the belly color." This would be replaced with:

"The top side of the tail must complement the body color with the underside of the tail being as close to the belly color as possible."

Item #17. Add the following to the faults on Gray color:

"Lack of uniform disbursement of black guard hairs."

Item #18. The current disqualifications on Gray are listed as: "Absence of ring color, absence of slate blue undercolor on belly." These would be replaced with the following:

"Absence of intermediate ring color over the colored portion of the body or the absence of slate blue undercolor on the belly."

RESULTS OF 24 BALLOTS

There were several "NO VOTES" (abstentions), so not all votes will reflect a total of 24 ballots.

GRAY and STEEL DUTCH

by Teri Bullis

This article is based on my observations and some research into color genetics of the domestic rabbit, mainly the Agouti and Steel varieties. I have been raising Dutch now for almost six years, and have been showing chocolates for the most part. In the last year, I became serious about the Steel and Agouti (Gray) varieties, so I studied the Standard of Perfection on those two varieties to get a clear image of the color to breed for. That's where my troubles and genetic research began.

The Standard for the Steel Dutch calls for a rabbit with a uniform Steel Gray color. I have yet to see a true Steel Gray base color (overall coat color) on Steels here in California or when I was back at the ARBA Convention in Ohio last November. The coat color on all animals that I have seen is Black, not Steel Gray. The Standard also states "this Steel Gray color is brought out with a moderate amount of light gray tipped guard hairs". Genetically speaking, it is impossible to get a true light gray tip on the Steel with the current gene pool in the Dutch breed, because of two reasons:

1 - To get a true gray color (one void of yellow coloration) on the Steel variety, we would need the color genetics of the Chinchilla rabbit's coat.

2 - The Steel variety is an Agouti variety with a wide band gene that takes the slate blue/black coloration (pigment) up the hair shaft, covering all but the tan and black tipped part of the shaft. Yes, both the Steel and the Agouti varieties of Dutch have a black tip on the "ringed" hair shaft. Neither the Steel nor the Agouti (Gray) varieties of the Dutch have any "tipping" color other than black. Take out your magnifying glass and see for yourself.

Some people may say "So what?" Your Gray variety will be darker if the black tipping on the hair shaft is increased, thus making the tan and browns of the coat less visible. On the Steels, the same black tipping could affect the overall ticking effect.

There is some truth to the analogy that on an Agouti variety, the shorter coat typical of our Dutch does effect the space available to the ring widths. Another thing I have heard is that crossing Grays and Steels shouldn't be done. It's hard to believe this story when you have a beautifully colored Gray out of a Steel to Steel mating!

As you can see, my genetic studies and "tests" are going to continue so that I can see if I can get a better and more consistent Brown Agouti color on my Grays. I will also be working on color improvements in my Steels, but really the Dutch breeders nationwide have to decide what color we really want in the Grays and Steels. The Standard must then be made to describe the color accurately so that we know what color to breed for.

I am by no means an expert breeder of Dutch. I have a lot to learn, especially about color genetics, but in conclusion I can tell you that neither the Steel or the Gray descriptions in the Standard of Perfection are correctly stated. The Standard of Perfection calls for the Steel to have gray tipping and the Agouti variety to have tan tipping. This is not the color of the animals we have now. Another problem is with the use of the word "Gray" to describe the Agouti variety. Gray isn't the color I would use to describe this variety of rabbit, and many a new-comer confuses the Gray being spoken of as the variety we call Blue. If the color of the Gray variety as we currently have it is what is desired, shouldn't the Standard describe it as a "dark gray-brown or a medium gray-brown"? Let's address each of these issues before the new standard comes out.

I'd appreciate some input from the people reading this article, particularly any breeding or genetic theories on the Dutch rabbit. You can write to me at 24 Los Flores Ave., South San Francisco, CA 94080.

ED: Teri said when she sent this article in that it was supposed to have been sent to me earlier. I had not received it up until this time. She is right in that these issues should have been addressed before voting on the ballot for standard changes. The ADRC Standard Committee addressed these issues, and offered some kind of clarification, however with a whopping 24 ballots sent in, and not even all of them voting for the color descriptions, what are we to do? I trust Teri voted on these items. I am no color geneticist either, but have been told that Steels can be produced from Agoutis or Sells, and that not all Steels are genetically Agoutis. I have no evidence of this, however I do know that the ARBA licensed judges are to judge by the descriptions contained in the Standard of Perfection, whether they are wrong or right. I guess that's why I contend that her statement "This is not the color of the animals we have now", needs attention. Do we change the standard to match the rabbit, or change the rabbit to meet the standard?

CULLING A LITTER

by Kevin Hooper

The decision of which bunnies to keep is very critical to the Dutch breeder. It can be difficult if you let it, but it can also be very simple if you follow the following procedures.

First, cull early. Know which animals you definitely will be culling before weaning. The main decisions should be made when the bunnies are separated from the doe. There are occasions when you must delay the final culling due to the development of the litter. Some lines develop at a late age, so you must rely on a few rules to keep only the best bunnies.

RULE 1 - Cull out the bunnies with severe marking flaws first. For example: no blaze, no cheeks, extremely long stop/s, white patches over the back half of the rabbit, etc. This will eliminate the worst bunnies in the litter.

RULE 2 - Cull out those with severe color flaws. Off-shades, very light blues, very dark torts, very light steels, and grays not showing ring pattern when the fur is blown into.

RULE 3 - Cull out those with major type flaws. A Dutch will have the type it is going to have by weaning age 90% of the time. As I stated earlier, some lines will develop more width in the shoulder or a stronger loin at a later age. Cull out those with flat bodies, pinched or undercut hindquarters, hips protruding on the top.

RULE 4 - Major marking flaws can be used in a breeding program. However, don't keep an animal with more than one of these flaws. I consider major flaws to be a flaw which is a disqualification. Split stops, tied elbow, spot in the saddle, and yes, occasionally a white tipped ear can be used for breeding. These marking flaws are only kept if the rabbit is nice in all other aspects.

RULE 5 - Minor marking flaws are just that, minor. Those imperfections that would be considered a fault. Don't keep an animal if it has more than one or two of these faults. Ragged undercut or saddle, high or low cheeks, wide or narrow blaze, etc. are minor marking flaws.

Heads, ears, and color are important, but I don't consider these in my first culling. These can all change as the rabbit matures.

Do not keep an animal if it does not have good body type! Nothing can ruin your herd as quickly as poor body type. You can get well marked Dutch from bad markings, but you can't get good type from bad type.

Your herd is just like a football team. The young animals must compete with the older animals. They must be good to make the team or they get cut from the line-up.

ESTABLISHING YOUR MARKET

by Kevin Hooper

Raising Dutch rabbits creates many challenges. One of those is what to do with the culls from the litters.

I have established a market for all of the mismarks and bunnies with faults in type while keeping my costs extremely low.

I sell to pet stores.... but not in the way that many people sell pets. I'm not as concerned with how much I receive for each bunny as I am in reducing production costs and keeping open pen space.

My theory is that if you can get $1.00 or $2.00 per bunny at weaning age, you are going to save dollars in feed costs and pen space. Three culls sold from one litter at $1.50 each at weaning age will buy $4.50 of feed. That amounts to about 35 pounds of feed. More than enough to pay for producing that litter.

How do you get the pet stores to take bunnies when it isn't Easter time? Talk to the Manager and tell them the following.

The time of year that you usually have bunnies available. You will sell the bunnies to them for $1.00 or $2.00 each (except at Easter time). If they are still not interested, offer the first batch for free. You won't have to feed or figure out what to do with the bunnies and this will build good relations and your image. You may also want to offer to trade your little bunnies for the ones they were unable to sell because they became too large. Then, if you have an outlet for meat rabbits sell the large bunnies you got back from the pet store. In some cases you may actually sell the rabbits twice, while someone else pays for the feed to grow them out.

When you have an abundance of rabbits available, call the pet store and cut a deal. Don't be greedy. Take the buck and say Thank You.

I wean and sell my culls at thirty-five days old. The pet stores love them and have good luck with them. The key is, take whatever you can get and keep your costs low.

WHY DUTCH RABBITS?

by Jim Schettler

Once or twice a year, frequently as I'm loading our show cages into our van at the end of a rabbit show, someone will come up to me and say "I used to raise Dutch, but I gave up. Raising Dutch is too hard!" Well, after raising Dutch for 9 years, I don't agree with this statement. In fact, Dutch are an excellent breed for a variety of reasons:

- Small and Easy to Handle. With an ideal weight of 4-1/2 pounds, Dutch rabbits are easily housed, shipped and handled. This is an important factor for youth breeders, and these small cages, show carriers and nest boxes cost less and are easier to handle. When we fly, for example, we pack 12 Dutch into a 2 layer carrier. Try to pick up a dozen big meat rabbits in their carriers sometime.
- Good Mothers. Ultimately, the success of any animal species depends on how well they reproduce. Dutch usually have big litters for their size, breed willingly, and kindle successfully. Dutch does are good mothers and lactate generously. Again, youth breeders are less likely to be disappointed with the performance of their Dutch does.
- Good Temperment. Maybe I'm getting soft in my old age but I don't like getting bit or scratched by my rabbits, and, more importantly, I don't like my son getting bit or scratched. With few exceptions, Dutch rabbits are well mannered and have good temperments. As proof of this, we've never had a Dutch doe named Tonya Harding or Shannon Doherty!
- Classy Animals. I frequently work with professional architects and I think I have an eye for art. Dutch rabbits, with their sharp, distinctive markings and cobby rounded bodies are classy, well-sculptured works of art. American Dutch have 6 different varieties offering a color for everyone.
- Established Breed. Dutch rabbits are an established breed developed over 150 years ago. This means that, in general, the genetic kinks have long been worked out of the breed. Good Dutch rabbit stock won't produce mutants such as albinos or mismatched ears. We haven't seen discolored toenails or bad teeth in our barn in years. While mutants can be interesting, they are not what we're trying to accomplish in our breeding program.
- Hardy and Rugged. Probably nothing is more disappointing than winning a show with a rabbit that dies the next day. The overall health and vitality of a rabbit breed should be an important consideration in selecting a breed. Dutch are solid, rugged little animals that travel well and are generally tolerant of variations in their environment.
- Marked at Birth. The markings of a Dutch rabbit are evident the day it is born. Rabbit breeders can, if they choose, make important selection decisions immediately to better enhance the survivability of the best marked babies in a litter. Breeders don't have to wait 8 weeks to see if a Dutch rabbit has show potential.
- Satisfaction. Because the markings and type characteristics of Dutch rabbits are so challenging, Dutch breeders enjoy a great deal of satisfaction and a strong sense of accomplishment in raising and exhibiting good Dutch rabbits.
- Popular. Dutch rabbits are a common breed and are widely exhibited at shows. This is important because it really is not much fun to have the only animals of your breed at an all-breed show. Dutch make excellent pets and we generally can sell all our mismarked animals.
- Good People. Rabbit breeders are all members of the unofficial "family" of their specific breeds. Dutch breeders, I'm convinced, are among the nicest and most sharing of all rabbit people. The cut-throat competition and back-stabbing that may be more common within other breeds simply is not a widespread problem with the Dutch breeders. In my mind, Dutch people aren't perfect, but they are the best of all rabbit folks.

This is my opinion. Am I biased? You bet! But then you just can't beat the Dutch, a totally awesome breed!!

THE WEIGHT OF A DUTCH RABBIT--what's happening?

by Fran Schettler

The longer anyone is involved in showing rabbits, the more you develop certain policies about how to optimize each show for each of your rabbits. Sometimes these policies will work fine for years and then, all of a sudden, something will happen that makes you say "whoa, what happened?" This happened to my husband Jim and I last November at the first show we attended after ARBA Convention.

The policy in question is one that we have followed for many years with good results-- once a junior has won at least two junior grand championship legs and then makes senior weight, we consider showing that animal as a senior, even though the rabbit is less than 6 months old. Winning a senior leg even though the rabbit chronologically is still a junior still qualifies the animal for its grand championship (once it finally attains 6 months of age and is successfully registered.)

The rabbit that has now caused us to question this policy is a blue buck of ours that has been a consistent winner as a junior. In mid-November he made senior weight but was less than 6 months old. There was a triple Dutch show weekend in late November, so we preentered this buck in the first two shows as a senior. A judge whom we highly respect put this rabbit off close to the bottom of his class with "a very nice rabbit but goes off early with a severe cut for being less than ideal senior weight." The rabbit weighed 3-3/4 lbs at the time-- ideal senior weight, of course, is 4-1/2 lbs. Whoa, what happened? This was the first time in all the years of showing we had heard this as being a "severe cut." In the second show that day, the buck also showed as a senior and was judged Best of Breed. In the third show the next day, we demoted him to a junior, and he took Best Blue under Scott Williamson. A consultation with Scott took place after the show, and he confirmed that since we are judging against an ideal standard of perfection, a less than 4-1/2 lb. animal should receive a cut in points and an animal over 4-1/2 lbs. should too. I guess the question boils down to one of "how many points should be cut?" Certainly this is strictly a judgment call for the judge and he is entitled to his opinion. However, since our Standard of Perfection allows our senior Dutch to range from 3-1/2 to 5-1/2 lbs., assuming that the animal otherwise carries good type proportionate for its size, is a "severe cut" really appropriate?

We have certainly noticed that some judges are heavily biased against "large" Dutch (5 lbs +), no matter how nicely they carry their type. We also have observed that many judges show heavy preference for the smaller Dutch (3-1/2 lbs. to 4 lbs.) In fact, it is our observation that many breeders today have a preference for the smaller animal (3-1/2 to 4-1/2 lbs.), especially for bucks.

I know that the ARBA standards committee is suggesting strongly that ADRC consider having a maximum junior weight in Dutch. If this maximum is set at 3-1/2 lbs., we would have to show our juniors as seniors when they reached 3-1/2 lbs., regardless of age. If we follow the thought through, we would then lose points for having a senior at less than ideal weight. This doesn't make much sense to me and, personally, I don't see the benefit of having a maximum junior weight anyway, unless our main goal is to stop unethical exhibitors from showing seniors as juniors. However, this has not been a problem here in California that I know of. I don't know about you, but my crystal ball for weight gain on juniors for the two weeks between the show entry closing deadline and the show itself isn't very clear.

What does all of this mean to our breed? For now, perhaps we all need to be reminded that the current ideal weight of a Dutch is 4-1/2 lbs. Some judges probably also need to be reminded of this, since some think that, all other things being equal, a 3-1/2 lb. animal is better than a 4-1/2 lb. animal. If we are considering setting a maximum junior weight, it would seem that the limit should be set at 4 or 4-1/2 lbs. But I wonder if we are really gaining something worthwhile from such a new rule.

I would certainly be interested in hearing from some of you out there on this subject! How do your judges handle the issue of weight? How do you feel about a maximum junior show weight?

"SHAKE, RABBIT AND ROLL"

By John and Kathryn Eubank

January 17, 1994, 4:31 a.m.; a day and time no Southern Californian is likely to soon forget. We awoke to what has been upgraded to a 6.8 earthquake.

We are both native to Southern California, and have experienced many earthquakes, but this was the most terrifying quake we have ever felt.

We dressed and quickly tried to get out of the house. The sounds of destruction we heard during this quake prepared us for a lot of damage, with broken glass everywhere. Once we got outside, we made sure we were both uninjured and the house was structurally sound, we had to get back into the house to check on the rabbits!

Our rabbitry is actually contained in an enclosed patio room that opens right off the living room. We use stacking cages, 3 holes high with each stack on casters. Additionally, we had at least 7 small cages in the living room with "special bunnies".

We thought we would find all of the cages tipped over, but they all stayed up! We feel that the casters saved the day! The cages had rolled all over the room, none of them had tipped.

All of the holes that had water crocks spilled every drop of water, and the storage rack where we had kept the emergency water had dumped all of the plastic bottles. Our water was all over the floor!

We knew from past large quakes that the water would soon be shut off. We gathered every gallon jug that had spilled and started filling them as fast as we could. The water sputtered to a halt as we filled the last water bottle. We now had 8 gallons of water for over 120 rabbits!

The next crisis we had to deal with was that we were down to a sack and a half of feed. We both had the day off from work and had planned to go that day and pick-up our regular order of 200 lbs.

In addition to the water and power being off, we soon found out it was impossible to make a phone call. We decided to wait until 8:00 a.m. and try to drive across the valley to the feed store. We didn't even get 2 miles before we were turned back by road blocks. Every road in our valley cross bridges, and the bridges had all lifted, shifted or completely fallen down. So the roads were all closed until the bridges could be inspected... we were trapped and very worried.

Shortly after we returned home, there was a knock on the door and we found our friend Susan White had come to check on the rabbits.

rabbit.srr

February 19, 1994

We had asked Susan 2 years ago to be our rabbit rescue person if something like this should ever happen, and true to her word, she had somehow managed to find her way across the valley to make sure the rabbits were unhurt. The 3 mile trip had taken her nearly 2 hours because of the road closures!

Later that day we managed to get across the valley by a back canyon road and found our regular feed store was closed. We drove to the only other feed store in our valley, which was open, but did not carry our regular brand of feed. We bought what they had and headed home.

The power was off for a day and a half; we had a fan in the rabbitry that was without power, so we spent the day opening windows and doors to ensure ventilation. The water was off for 3 days, and when it was restored, we had a boil order to deal with. The boil (or bleach) order would remain with us for 3 weeks.

Although we suffered no losses in the rabbitry the day of the quake, in the days to follow we had 2 does die kindling, 2 does prematurely abort their litters, and 2 does deliver stillborn kits. We also had to deal with 70% of the herd who had gone off feed and had loose/runny stools. The quake, the change in feed and water was just too much for the rabbits to handle.

As a result of the quake, we found the areas that needed improvement in our rabbitry. 1. Water supply. 2. Feed supply. 3. Watering System used. 4. Emergency power supply.

We called Dr. Terry Reed and received the following tips from him:

1. Emergency water should be stored in 40-55 gallon plastic barrels; not metal to avoid contamination. When the water is used, chlorinate only the portion being used at a rate of 1 tsp. per gallon of water. (We are following up the use of a water preservative).

2. An emergency feed supply (about one weeks' worth) can be stored in 3-ply polyethylene trash bags for a period of 160 days without spoilage or lose of nutrient.

3. Because the water crocks all spilled, we have decided to switch over to the 1/2 gallon Lixit bottles. The 1/2 gal. bottles we had provided, the rabbits the most water, while the cages with crocks had to be limited to 2 inches of water to avoid being spilled during all of the aftershocks. Does who lost litters should be re-bred right away to help them get back on schedule.

The stacking cages we use didn't fall over because of the casters, but we are still going to secure the stacks with quake cables or straps. Even using a short piece of chain with hooks embedded in studs in the wall and connected to the tops of the stacks will prevent the cages from toppling over.

We have since learned of another breeder who lost most of her herd in the Whittier-Narrows quake and left the state as a result. Her animals were crushed and killed from the cages toppling over. My heart truly goes out to her; the animals we lost cost us so much grief, I couldn't imagine losing any more.

I'm sure that all Californians feel as we do, that if we never have another earthquake that would be just fine, but in reality, we live in quake country and they will happen. We feel that if we all take the necessary steps, we will be ready for the next one.

Let's get prepared!

Pixie Gardeners

In the meadows in the mountains,
Where forest streams are flowing,
The pixie gardeners do their work —
They keep plants green and growing.

The pixies are small people
Who help all gardens grow,
Who rake the grass and tend the plants
In ways most folks don't know.

They fluff up pussy willows
And keep the gardens neat.
They polish all the tulips,
Smooth the grass beneath their feet.

They sprinkle leaves with dewdrops
That glisten. When the sun
Floods the field with warming light,
They vanish, one by one.

Do you want to go to Pixieland?
That's not as hard as it may seem:
Just close your eyes and go to sleep —
And drift there in a dream.

Down Bunny Rabbit Lane

Come, walk with me, my little friends,
Down Bunny Rabbit lane,
Across a sunny pasture, then
Through tall, sweet sugar cane,
Into a cool, green wood to find
A place of great renown —
A magic place most children know
As Easter Bunny Town!

Here Easter Bunny reigns supreme
And works the whole year through,
Planning delicious surprises
For you, and you, and YOU!

He greets us with a welcome smile,
Then takes us here and there
To meet his growing family,
And of course, dear Grandma Hare.

We are greeted by son Cottontail,
And friendly Mrs. Bunny,
Also the baby rabbits,
Whose antics are so funny.

We taste of this, take a bite of that —
My! We're having so much fun!
But soon the time is growing late,
And home we must quickly run.

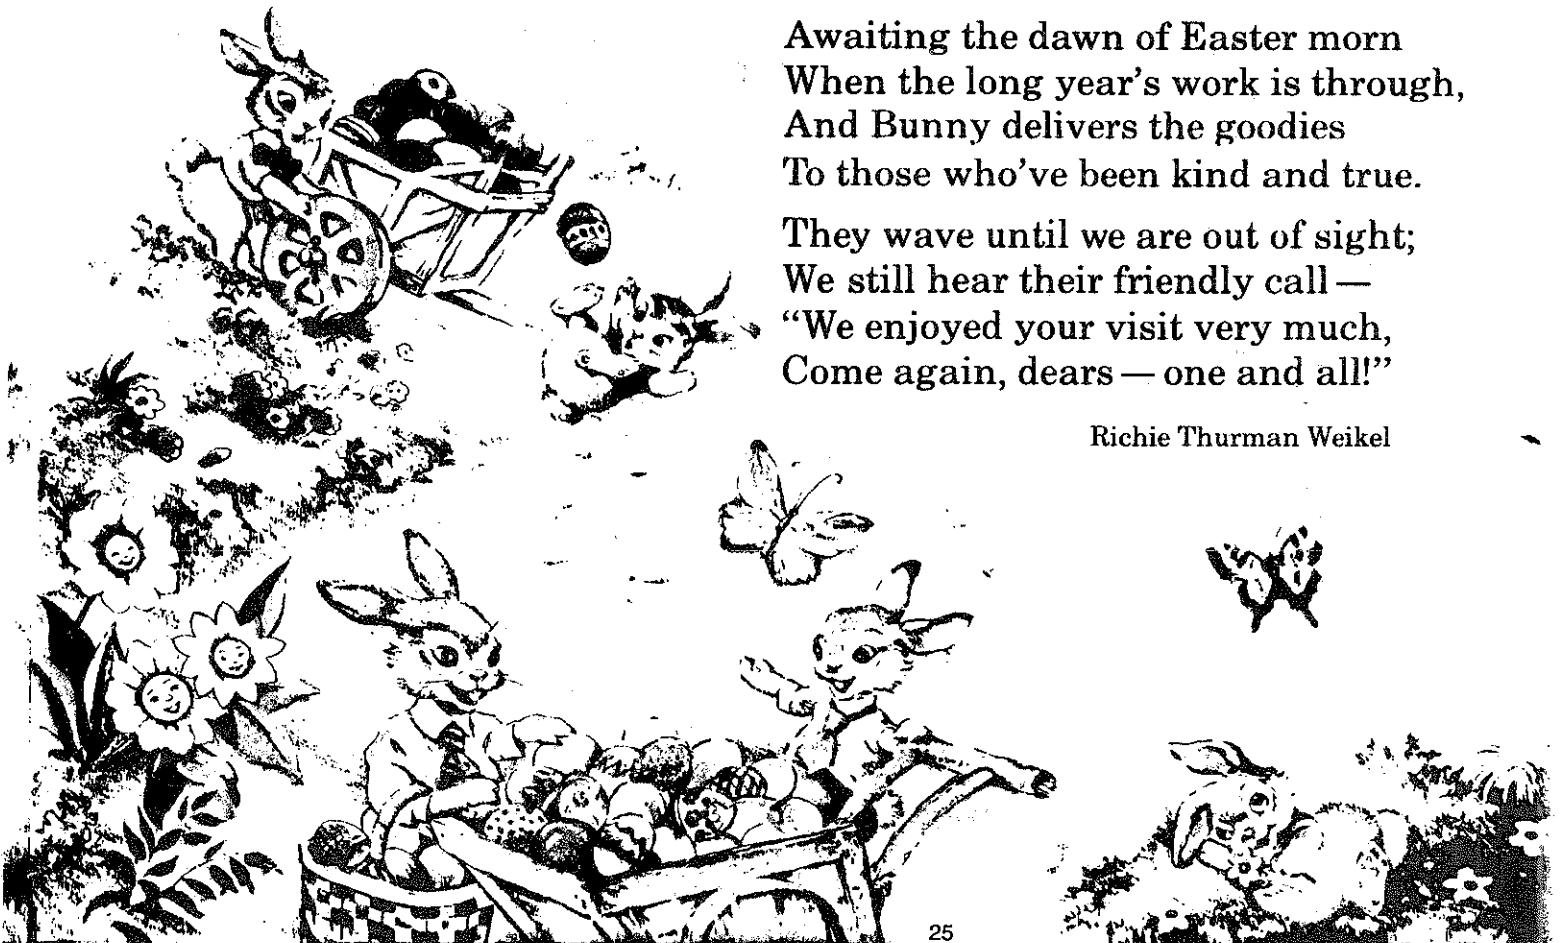

We bid each one a fond good-bye —
Bunny takes us to the door
Of a long and winding passage
Where good things are piled galore,

Awaiting the dawn of Easter morn
When the long year's work is through,
And Bunny delivers the goodies
To those who've been kind and true.

They wave until we are out of sight;
We still hear their friendly call —
"We enjoyed your visit very much,
Come again, dears — one and all!"
