NEWS FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Hi Dutch Fans,

I hope everyone is ready for the 1995 National Dutch Show in Oshkosh, Wisconsin in April. I believe this will be one of the biggest national shows we've had. I've heard there will be a lot of outstanding Dutch from all parts of the country. There should be a lot of special awards in the open and youth.

We will be holding our board of director's meeting on Friday, April 28th at 8 PM at the Super 8 Motel (just across from the AmericInn). So if any of you have anything for our club, let one of the directors or officers know.

Dutch here in the South have been down some in the past few months. I don't know if the weather has anything to do with it or if the breeders have just cut back a little. Carolina Dutch Show will be holding a show on Feb. 11. Hopefully things will pick up and we'll have a nice showing of Dutch.

On behalf of the American Dutch Rabbit Club I would like to welcome Julia Anderson as our new editor of the Dutch Reporter. Let's give her a lot of support and also send her a lot of news to put in the Dutch Reporter.

See you all in Oshkosh,

President,

Fred Mullinax

Lincolnton, North Carolina

NEWS FROM OUR VICE- PRESIDENT

Hello Everyone!

Hope everyone has got their thoughts on Spring and the N.D.S. in Oshkosh. Had the pleasure of attending the A.R.B.A. Convention in Madison a few years ago. Found the people in that area very friendly, also some of the Country's best Dutch rabbits are from that area.

We had for the first time a new variety of Dutch submitted for approval. Blue Steel were submitted for the first time. Am kind of surprised a new variety has not been submitted for such a long time.

Also was some talk about starting a total new breed of Dutch. "TOY" Dutch were discussed in Tulsa by some breeders. I am in total agreement with Dick Gehr's recent article in the DR. I also think many of the Dutch being shown today are too small. The ideal weight on seniors is 4 1/2 lbs. That is the senior weight we should be striving for, to attain the perfect Dutch.

The finishing touches were put on the HALL OF FAME. The complete package will be found elsewhere in this issue. I expect we will start nominations after the Oshkosh National. Was hoping to get this going sooner, but do alterations to the original text this will take a little longer.

Thanks for taking the time to read,

Vice President,

Wayne MacKinnon

Taunton, Mass.

NEWS FROM NORMA

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

Can you believe that it's almost National Dutch Show time already?! I'm looking forward to this one and if it's at all possible, you should really try your best to get there. I know that the UMDRC has put their heart and soul in this event and that it'll be one that we'll long remember and talk about! So get those Dutch bunnies ready and get your entry in early and I'll see you there.

This issue of the DR has a current membership list and separate judge's listing. It also contains your ballot for the 1996 NDS judges and 1996 ARBA Convention. Youth may not vote on this ballot. A husband-wife membership may vote both NDS ballots and both ARBA ballots. If you have paid a single adult membership, please only vote one (1) ballot for the NDS judges and only one (1) ballot for the ARBA judges. Please take the time to vote!

Correspondence from this office was very slow to say the least for the past couple of months. I encountered a health problem and wasn't supposed to do or over do; - yeah right!! Things began a real build up and it's taken quite awhile to get caught up, but we're almost there! Thank you for your patience and my sincere apology for any inconvenience.

Remember that you will find your expiration date on each label of your Dutch Reporter. We do not send out renewal notices so be sure to check your DR and renew promptly. If you've changed address, notify this office immediately as your Dutch Reporter labels are printed here. If you fail to change your address, you may just miss an issue of your DR, as they are not forwarded.

Again, remember to vote your judges ballots and I look forward to seeing you in Oshkosh!

DISTRICT ONE NEWS

NEWS FROM LINDA

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members who took the time to vote in the past election. I thank you for your vote and look forward to serving as District One director for the next three years.

You probably won't receive a lot of show information from me in my reports. I tend to focus on club issues rather than show results. Please feel free to contact me with any information or suggestions for the betterment of the ADRC and its members. I welcome your suggestions and will pass them on to ADRC officers.

DISCLAIMER

Articles, statements, and opinions printed or expressed in the Dutch Reporter may not be those of the American Dutch Rabbit Club or the editor and are solely the responsibility of the authors.

I hope that the next three years will be successful ones for the ADRC and all of its members. However, my success as a district director depends entirely upon the members I serve. ADRC issues need the input of the entire membership. Not only for my success as district director, but for the betterment of the club and all of the members.

Keep in mind that I am here to serve you. Thanks again for your support.

NEWS FROM KEVIN

Hopefully all of you have had the same good weather that we have had in the Midwest this winter. The mild winter should provide for a large number of juniors to be on the show table this spring.

Please note from the officer's listing on the first page that I have moved. It was only 11 miles but for those of you who have ever moved a rabbitry know it is not an easy task. My new phone number and address are listed on page one.

Guidebook update - We will still take articles or ads or updates of ads through the Louisville Convention. If you have a computer system with a 3 1/2" disc, you may put your information on the disc in ASCII format and send it directly to Dick Gehr.

This is our first issue of the DR with our new editor. If a few of you can contribute an informative article or two for every issue, we can make Julia's job easier. The hardest part of putting out a publication is not having anything good to use. An issue full of information will also help further the interest of the Dutch Rabbit.

I have taken on the responsibility of being the breed chairman for the Louisville Convention. We would like to offer some nice specials for the show but we will need your help.

All donations should be sent to me no later than July 31, 1995. Any donations would be appreciated. I was recently at the site of this year's convention for the National Farm Machinery Show and it is a nice facility (very large). It takes a while to get your bearings down due to its' size and the closeness of a couple interstate highways. But I think you will find the facility is nice. You may want to pack a lunch though. The food prices are quite high.

I hope to see many of you at this year's National Dutch Show in Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

NEWS FROM KEN

Things have been pretty quiet in our area since December. There aren't many shows in our neck of the woods during the winter months, so most folks are concentrating on breeding for the spring (or, in my case, I should say trying to breed). With the lack of shows, I haven't seen or heard from many people.

There seems to be a resurgence of interest in the Dutch, which is encouraging. I've had calls from as far away as Las Vegas and Florida, some from people who are getting back into Dutch after several years with other breeds, and some from people who want to help their kids get started. I'm always happy to hear from people who are interested in these wonderful rabbits, and I can't imagine a better choice for kids just starting out.

The first New York State show is March 28, and that's always a big one as it is the first chance we have to get our rabbits out after the long winter. The winter in this district has not been nearly as severe as the past couple years, although the one weekend we had really bad weather unfortunately coincided with the Lima (Ohio) show the first weekend in February, so I missed that one.

I'm not sure the milder winter has been very good for the bunnies. Several folks in this area have been having trouble breeding, and many litters seem to be dying at the age of 1-2 weeks. The inconsistent temperatures - frigid one day, warm the next - seem to be hard on the rabbits.

I'm looking forward to the National Dutch Show in Wisconsin. I'll be driving in with Wayne MacKinnon and Mark Pecaric. Since I was unable to attend the 1994 ARBA Convention, I'm really excited about the ADRC National, and anxious to see all the friends I missed at Convention. I'll have more news for the next issue!

DISTRICT TWO NEWS

NEWS FROM FLOYD

I need to start this column by giving a hearty welcome to our new editor. Although I have not personally met her, she exhibits all the signs of being a qualified, interested, and dedicated person for the position. I believe everyone realizes the first few issues which a new editor is working on are some of the most unsettling.

The Upper Midwest Club will be having specialty shows on March 11th and June 4th. Doreen Bengtson in MN has all the information you need. (507-864-9720). The Hoosier Dutch Club in Indiana will be having three specialty shows this spring. These will be on March 18th at Goshen, April 1 at Lafayette and May 13th at Connersville. Glenda Cummings has more information for you at: 317-783-4519. On April 2nd there will be a double Dutch show at DeWitt, Iowa. There was a double show held recently at Galva, IL and there will be double shows at Springfield IL April 2nd and at Pontiac IL on May 21st. I do not have confirmation of the last two shows listed, however this is what is being planned at the time of this writing. If you can not attend any of these shows or received the information too late to attend, why not contact the secretary and get put on the list for the next one coming up?

I believe the short listing of shows above demonstrates not only are the Dutch alive and well in the mid section of the country, but are doing well. Take note that many local shows are now hosting "doubles" for the Dutch. It is a good indication that our breed has enough numbers and interest in it to make it worth a club's efforts to host a 2 in 1 show. Dutch breeder Ron Van DeWalle of Lynn Center IL is fortunate to be an officer in two local clubs and as such Ron has pushed for double Dutch showings at both shows. This has turned out great as one was last October and the other was in February.

Your director has received several communications from Kevin Hooper in Ohio concerning changes to our national Dutch show rules. He has worked hard on this and I believe we have some good material on paper now. Likewise with the Hall of Fame committee. Your officers do something other than show all the time. I also received some mail from director Fran Schettler in CA., which is nice to know your fellow director across the country hasn't forgotten you.

The proposal for blue steel Dutch has surfaced. I agree with director Dick Gehr that more information should have been in the Dutch reporter ahead of time, however I do feel there is a place for this new variety in our club. I am also concerned that an exhibitor list from last year's national Dutch show seems to be so hard to find for the secretary of this year's show. I believe this is something which should be of record by now and readily accessible to all.

I would like to say how great it is to read the column Eric Mixdorf puts in domestic rabbits on our behalf. It has been truly inspiring and uplifting to read his column. Eric has done the club a service by taking on the project in our behalf.

Keep in mind that anyone wishing an ad in our new guide book may do so until the end of the national convention in Louisville this fall. 🐰

NEWS FROM LYNN

After a most beautiful fall, winter has arrived in Indiana. If we're lucky the worst of winter will be gone by the time the early shows begin.

Lets all welcome Julia Anderson as the new editor of the DR. The same for Doreen Bengtson as our soon to be secretary.

A big thank you and good luck to Dick Gehr and Norma Hart. Enjoy your new found "spare time".

To those of you who have never been to a National Dutch Show, try to make this the year to go. Besides seeing many beautiful Dutch & having a great time, you can meet the above mentioned dedicated people. 🐰
See you there,

NEWS FROM RICHARD

Time for another Dutch Reporter, and with this issue the Spring season is just around the corner. With the season comes a lot of shows, and hopefully a bunch of Dutch.

I had most of the months of December and January off from judging, but did manage to officiate at a show in Bermuda towards the last of January. They had a few Dutch, but no numbers to really speak of. I believe it would be great if we could re-locate a few good Dutch over there, as the breeders are about as serious as they come. Any breed that found its way to the island would be well treated, and I am sure some quality Dutch would be produced. These people are really hungry for good animals to put into breeding programs. I am planning a shipment of several different breeds as soon as I can, so if anyone would like to donate a couple of Dutch for a great cause, contact me.

A couple of weeks after judging in Bermuda, I traveled to Vancouver Island, British Columbia to judge. Boy, talk about from one end of the country to the other! Vancouver Island saw some pretty good Dutch. Judy Currie always has something to make you stop and take a second look, and Donna and Mike Brak were there also. I did see some Dutch that I felt had good substance to them. I don't mean 7 or 8 pounders, but Dutch closer to the 4 1/2 pound mark with some bone and substance, not the toys that seem to be more prominent throughout the country.

After Vancouver Island I got to travel all the way to Galva, Illinois (about 1 1/2 hours from home!) I judged the Dutch there and had quite a number between the Open and Youth classes. The depth in the Youth classes was impressive, and there were some very nice animals. In the Open, I picked a Black Junior Doe that I liked a lot. The other two judges besides myself that picked Best in Show like her equally well, as she went Best 4 Class, then on to beat a nice Californian for Best In Show. Congratulations to Dawn and Dan Schwartz. She sure is a pretty thing!

I hope everyone is able to make it to Oshkosh, as it promises to be one of the best National Dutch Shows ever. Just take a look at the crew putting it on, and that should tell you it will be excellent. I am sure the quality of animals there will give the judges a real workout. I wish everyone could know the feeling of judging at a show of this caliber. Looking over classes with the numbers that are shown, along with the quality you see sure makes it exciting! Hope all goes well for everyone exhibiting, and may the best Dutch win.

In your breeding program, don't forget to strive for the type first. There are a lot of very good marked animals out there, but if the type fails, so does the rabbit. Remember, you have to build a house before you can paint it. 🐰

DISTRICT THREE NEWS

by Fran Schettler, California

Here it is the end of February already, and the recent floods nearby have receded. Our barn had some minor flooding, and we have to walk around on pallets spread over the wet, muddy areas. Good old California adobe mud! It will take quite a while for things to dry out, but at least the drought is over.

All the penetrating dampness definitely caused an increase in our losses to enteritis, especially in the younger stock. To combat this, we recently buckled down and did a real thorough cleaning of the barn. This, coupled with a heater running quite a bit, and some drier weather in February, seemingly has stopped our losses. Although some other rabbit breeders here have had similar problems, I haven't heard of any significant losses due to the floods. I wonder what's next-- earthquake, fire, or what?!

I am sure that everyone has, by now, noticed that we have a new DR editor. I want to thank Dick Gehr for his tireless efforts over the last few years -- the DR is a lot of work! I also want to wish Julia Anderson good luck-- she seems to have lots of enthusiasm for her new undertaking. Although I don't know Julia, I look forward to meeting her in Oshkosh in April.

It seems that a few positions in ADRC will have new personnel. In addition to the change in the DR editor, Norma Hart will be turning over the Secretary's duties, so that she can get involved in the Dutch habit more. Norma has given a great deal of time and effort to ADRC, and I want to thank her for her efforts and wish her good fortune with the grays! If she discovers the secret to good ring color over the mid-saddle area, I hope that she will let me know what it is!

Hopefully, the name of her replacement won't be as much of a surprise to most of the Board as was the recent change in the appointment of the DR editor.

The California Dutch Rabbit Club is planning four very special Dutch shows on June 3 and 4, 1995 in Pleasanton. There will be an open and a youth show on Saturday, and the reverse program on Sunday. The judges are Cindy Wickizer and Glen Carr. Saturday will also have several special youth activities as well as a banquet. This should be an outstanding event with excellent judges, great competition and awards and lots of fun for everyone. This "Dutch Extravaganza" will be extra special if we can persuade some of you from out-of-state to come and join us! If you are interested in any information, please contact me at 510-838-8036.

A note from one of our members.....

Dear Norma;

Along with my renewal, I would also like to report an open Best In Show on November 5-6, 1994. It was won by a Black Junior Buck, Jill's Wild Titus, bred by Jill Dobson and owned by Carol Neuman. The show was the Northlands Farm Fair '94 held in Edmonton, AB, and the judge was Marv Wunderlin (IL).

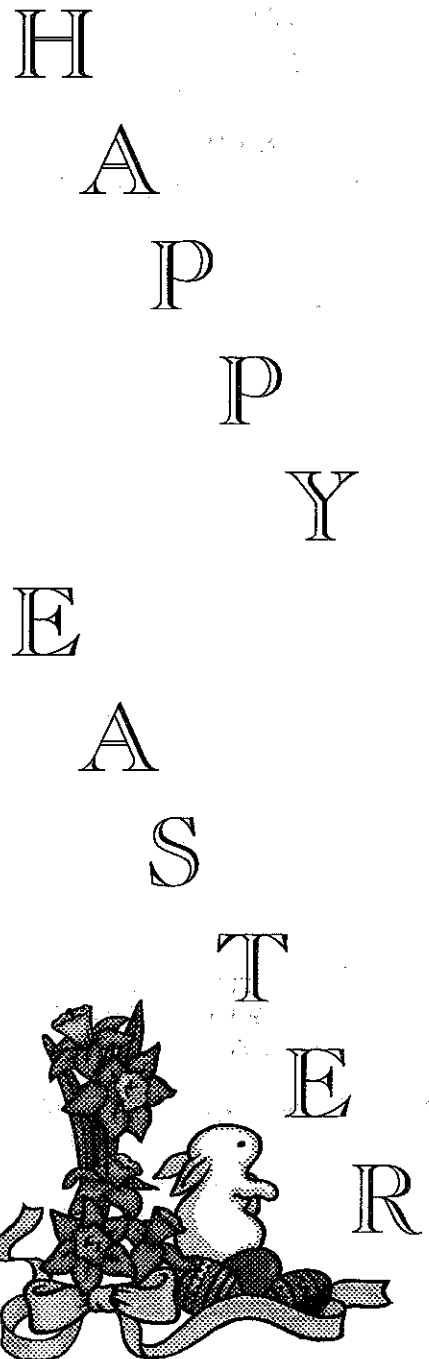

Just thought I'd let you know.

EDITOR'S COLUMN

First of all I want to compliment Dick Gehr for all of his hard work on the Dutch Reporter these past few years. I am confident I can speak for our entire membership and say that I hope he will continue to stay involved, by writing his very informative articles for future issues. This magazine takes hours of work and I am sure everyone appreciated his service to the ADRC. He put out a first rate publication. I hope to continue in the tradition he has started. Bear with me, as I learn as I go.

Now I will introduce myself. My name is Julia Anderson (or Julie as my friends call me). I have lived in Wisconsin all my life. I grew up on a Dairy farm, not far from Milwaukee. When I was in high school, my family bought a different farm about 60 miles north. The old farmstead, is now a subdivision, as is most of the surrounding acreage.

My spouse is Gary, and I have two sons. Adam is 23 and Nolan is 4. My daughter is Mandy, who is almost 17. And then there was April, whom I will tell you about in a few minutes. After college, Gary and me dairy farmed for a few years. Then I went to work for The Columbia County Humane Society Animal Shelter as their executive director and have had that position for 12 years. My job is always challenging and each day brings something new. I work extensively with the media as that is our "link" with the public. Three years ago, our office updated to computers, and it has been a constant learning experience every day. I have a staff of six and a volunteer group of approximately 500. We also have many, many donators, both private and corporate who assure the survival of our Society. We are a private non-profit corporation, so it is fund raising and membership drives that keep us in the black. We also contract with the various municipalities in our county for animal control. In addition, we have a nursing home pet therapy program and education program for school age children.

Since 1989, I have also been the editor of our Humane Society newsletter. We have a mailing list of almost 3300 and we send to almost 50 states. The past two years, the newsletter is done on the computer with the aide of a software program called Page Maker. I have had to dig deep and shake out the cobwebs and learn an entirely new concept. It was not an easy program to learn, but I am getting there. With these computers, one NEVER stops learning. Our family recently has purchased a system and my Nolan learned in one week, what it took me months to assimilate. He cannot even read yet, but he can navigate around like an old pro!

What started our family in the rabbit business, was the purchase for $8.00 of two pet Dutch Rabbits for the girls. None of us knew a thing about rabbits. The girls went to the library to read about rabbits, and did not find much. We started asking lots of questions. Mandy and April loved these little bunnies dearly. I have lots of pictures of them holding and playing with them.

Tragedy struck our family at Christmas in 1989. April, whom was then 16 years old, died of complications of a drowning accident. It is difficult to describe the grief we all felt, as parents are not supposed to bury their children. April had always been such a delight, "little Miss Sunshine" my mother had always called her. April's passion just before her death was that little Dutch rabbit of hers, "Romeo" and running the 800 in track. She had a very promising future in track and I always envisioned her running at the Olympics.

Mandy carried on her legacy, so to speak, by developing this interest they both had in those Dutch rabbits. We were extremely fortunate to find one of the premier Dutch breeders in the country, Roger Guetschow. Mandy wanted a show rabbit, and he saw to it that she got one at a very cheap price. In no time this rabbit started winning and Mandy was back at Roger's door for more. He continued to teach her about rabbit husbandry and on many occasions "loaned" her his top bucks, until she could get her line going on her own. He has always been her top cheerleader and our family will never forget what not only he has done, but also his wife Darlene. We all got caught up with this thing and it was the best medicine for what ailed our family. We since have met the best group of folks ever. Dutch breeders, really do care about each other.

I know that if April was still alive today, she would be showing rabbits right along with Mandy. The first draft of this column, I mentioned that April's "Romeo" was still in our barn, but a few days ago he died. He was getting pretty old, but he seemed to keep a little part of April close to us. It was sad to see him go. We still have April's cat "Emily" and of course our very precious memories of a beautiful young woman, we all will never forget.

Now that you have learned a little about me, I want to learn about you. What makes the Dutch Reporter a great magazine, is input from all members. You are ALL vital to the growth of this organization. It does not matter if you are a new or a long time member, I want to hear from the youth, the longtime breeders, the new breeders and the Dutch Specialty Clubs from all over our great land.

The next issue will have a theme. That will be, "What do you do to get your rabbit ready for a show?" Please include conditioning, feeding, traveling, grooming, etc. Tell us what has worked for you and what has not. It can be line or two or a page or two. As I watch judging, many times the rabbit in 2nd or 3rd place is there only because "it loses to the winner on condition." All the great breeding lines or markings, will not a winner make, if the rabbit is out of flesh and condition. Please send your thoughts on this no later than May 1. And this includes the Youth breeders too! It is not unusual to see Youth rabbits in better overall shape than the open entries. Tell us how you do it!

TO ALL YOUTH BREEDERS:

We want to hear from you!! You are all very important to the American Dutch Rabbit Club and we really want to make you a very important part of this organization. Send us your stories, long or short, about what you are doing. Tell us about your wins, your favorite rabbit, what others are doing in your area or whatever you want. Send us pictures of you and your rabbit and don't be afraid to ask questions.

You don't have to be a professional writer—we just want your input. So don't delay and do write today!! Now with show season getting in full swing again, I'm sure lots of you will have wins to write to us about!!

Fellow Dutch Breeders,

I'd like to add my two cents worth.

Thank you Dick Gehr for putting out the Dutch Reporter and doing such a good job. Thanks and my hat is off to you, Dick.

Also I'd like to thank Al and Barb Butler for their taking care of our publicity Department for so many years. Another job well done. Thanks Al & Barb. Thanks to Rick and Julie Billups for taking this job over.

That's the thank yous. Now I'd like to jar some of you people up a little if it is possible. This concerns voting and also running for office if you think you can help the club. The last election was a disgrace. No one to vote for except District 1. You know Dutch breeders, this is your club. We need officers and have plenty of members out there. We just have too many who say, let Joe or Jane do it. When I hear someone griping or better known as bitching, I always wonder, do they have the right? Well, if you voted you had the right. If you did not vote, keep quiet and vote next time, then have your bitching reinstated, then to it. Better get your petition, get it signed and run for office and be heard.

Do you know we have the best group of rabbit people in the Dutch club I know? Don't get me wrong. All rabbit people are great, but naturally the Dutch people are special.

Thanks to Julia Anderson for taking the DR. Get behind her and send in something to print. I'd like to see our youth send in something.

Hope to see you all in Oshkosh. Till then,

Jack of Jack's Bunnies

Ed. note: I was so impressed, the first time I met Jack Wireman. It was at the Michigan NDS in 1992. He is one person, who has been involved with Dutch rabbits for many years, and has been a staunch supporter of the breed in so many ways. He is also, very encouraging to our Youth breeders and always believes in helping them in any way possible.

Following is the election results from 1979 for the ADRC. Compare this to the results from the last issue of the DR and I think it will shock all of you!

To Whom it may Concern:

I am writing in response to Dick Gehr's article "The Blue Steel Variety" in the October -December issue of THE DUTCH REPORTER. Although I realize that by the time this letter reaches you it will be too late to in any way influence voting on the acceptance of the Blue Steel variety, I still feel it is important to express another viewpoint.

I've had Dutch rabbits for about six years but have only really been breeding them for two years. In this time I've come to believe that while every breeder's goal is to achieve perfection in every kit in every litter every time, this is about as attainable a goal as breeding chickens with lips.

My rabbitry contains specimens of all six recognized Dutch varieties. I only actively breed three colors — blue, steel and gray. Periodically a blue steel shows up. Without exception these rabbits have had the best type, best markings, and except for a small technicality (like it's not recognized) the best color. Rather than being detrimental to the overall quality of the breed, if these rabbits were accepted they would be a benefit.

Some people like cooking, others like gardening. I like blue steels, my mother likes tortes. Both colors present their own challenges and likewise offer their own rewards. If people are successfully breeding blue steels on a regular basis why should they be penalized by rejection of the variety?

I don't like chocolates, I've never liked chocolates and unless someone asks me to breed them and guarantees that I won't get stuck with chocolate babies I refuse to breed my one chocolate doe.

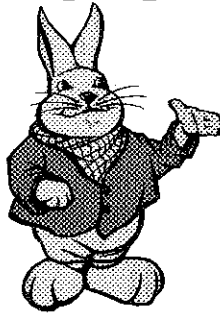

On the other hand if other varieties are introduced I would be very interested in breeding them. I already have several blue steels in my breeding string. The variety may not be recognized and therefore ineligible for show but I will continue to breed them to my blues and steels because of their excellent quality and the quality of their offspring. And because of this breeding the variety will show up again and whether or not you vote to accept it this year.

I would also like to address Mr. Gehr's comment about having enough problems with the steels and grays to give anyone enough challenge to work with. It is not very often that people from Idaho can make it to National Convention and so it's been awhile since we've been able to compare our animals against breeders' from other regions, however, our problems with all colors involve markings and not color. All judges that see our steels comment on their good color and type. No one in our area has really been breeding grays long enough to get many judge's remarks on them, but I have not seen very many up here that lack ring color over the back and hindquarters, which I understand is a common problem with that variety.

All in all, I am ready for the new challenge presented by the Blue Steel variety. It is my sincere hope that the ADRC votes to accept this new variety because it is beneficial to the entire breed and will probably attract new breeders and maintain the interest of current ones.

Sincerely,
Janet L. Louchs

Dear Ms. Anderson,

I was really honored when you asked for a picture of me and my rabbit for the DR Cover. It's nice to see us youth get some publicity too, because we do not usually have the money to fork over for advertising and also have not (in my opinion) had as much recognition as Open.

Again, thanks alot for making this youth feel special, too.

Sincerely,
Briony Barnes,

REFLECTIONS ON TULSA

My trip down to the A.R.B.A. National Convention in Tulsa, OK., this past Fall was a lot of fun. I was able to meet a lot of new people.

Meeting Jill Dobson was especially nice. Since I was unable to attend the 1993 National Convention in Puyallup, Washington, Roger Guetschow took a junior blue buck of mine, named "Maximilion" to enter in the youth show. I also entered him in the seller's class and Jill Dobson purchased him. Jill and I have been writing back and forth ever since. It was nice to finally put a face with a name. Jill and I had agreed ahead of time to swap rabbits in Tulsa. I now have "Dave" a blue buck and she has "Paige" a black doe. I was glad to finally bring home one of Jill's rabbits. I hope I can get something out of "Dave" in time for the upcoming NDS show in Oshkosh, WI., but my does haven't been very cooperative lately. "Dave" was not happy in the beginning because Winter in Wisconsin is not like Winter in California. But he now has adjusted just fine. Jill tells me that Paige is doing well, of course she got to go to that warm weather.

On another subject I think the Tulsa convention was run rather well. The rabbit carriers kept on top of things and made sure the next classes were up there on time. I don't think a show like that could run things very well without carriers. They allow exhibitors to sleep in or watch other breeds or even just visit with people they might only see once a year at the convention.

I also appreciated the office workers running things so smoothly and getting reports out before we left. In addition, the show room had very good ventilation, which sometimes is a problem at a show of this size. Youth and open being under the same roof made it much easier to go from looking at open rabbits and then youth. I feel this is vital for a A.R.B.A. convention to strive for or otherwise open and youth tend to ignore each other. The youth were treated with the same respect that open breeders were.

I saw alot of good Dutch in Tulsa, both open and youth, and I hope to see them all again in Oshkosh. My club, the Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club is the show sponsor.

Sincerely,
Mandy Anderson Age 16

Dear Fellow Dutch Breeders,

First let me introduce myself. My name is Nick Wenger from Southeastern Minnesota. I'm a sophomore at Winona Senior High. Currently, I am unemployed, but since I just turned 16, My parents will make sure I get a job. I teach religion to 5th graders once a week and I'm also active in our local 4-H club. I've held several offices in 4-H but presently I'm Vice President and in July I'll be busy helping with the rabbit exhibit. A highlight of the past three Summers has been to win a state fair trip with my 4-H rabbit project. Soon after I graduate, I plan on going to college in the fields of teaching or vet science. but then, I might change my mind. I'm still a teenager and mostly just want to have fun! When I'm not hanging out with my "rabbit friends", I like to fish, bowl, play football, or listen to music.

When I was still in diapers, my mom got her first rabbit, a mix breed. Soon after she began raising a few Mini Lops in the backyard. When Mom added Netherland Dwarfs, she had so many I could not count that high, so I never knew how many she had. About 1987, my mom took me to a couple shows and after noticing a black and white rabbit, I convinced her that I needed one. Next thing I knew I had a Silver Martin. When this was not the black and white rabbit that I meant, my mom brought home a broken black Holland Lop. It was when I spotted a gray Dutch for-sale that I could point out exactly the kind of breed that I wanted. The gray and black Dutch were my first colors but a trip to Dale Zentner's in Iowa soon added blue, tort, and chocolate. At first, I only had one or two Dutch of each color but I have to thank the Dutch Breeders in this area for helping me get started. They would answer any questions I asked or just chat regardless if I were a "rookie." Larry Bengtson deserves much of the credit for teaching me about Dutch and has helped me to improve my line. If rabbit breeders have role models to look up to, as baseball players do, then Larry would be mine. My rabbitry began to grow and grow until after four years I had about 45 Dutch; and that's the way it's remained.

Since my first year of showing in 1988, I have had my share of wins and defeats. Today I have black, blue, chocolate and tort Dutch excluding my two gray and steel does. Over the years, my Torts have consistently been my most successful color. Lately, my favorite and better quality color are the chocolate. At larger shows and conventions it seems the chocolates win less often than the other five colors. My greatest award was winning B.O.S. at Tulsa with my chocolate buck "Jaz". For me, that was the best award I have every received, even though I won first place in the National Dutch sweepstakes last year. Winning first place in the 1993-94 came as a surprise since the youth competition in the Midwest had been stiff.

This Spring my Dutch club, the Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club, is hosting the National Dutch Show in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. A good friend of mine Mandy Anderson, and I are the youth superintendents. I look forward to meeting more people and to visit with those I have not seen since Tulsa.

NEWS FROM KANSAS

COVER STORY

My name is Briony Barnes, and as most of you know, I won Youth Best of Breed Dutch at the ARBA National Convention in Oklahoma. Most of you are probably wondering who in the world I am, and how I managed to win BOB in Tulsa.

I am 14 years old, in 8th grade, and live in rural Kansas. I have a very small rabbitry (7 holes) and I raise Dutch only. I have one steel, but Torts are what I love best.

It all started about four years ago, when I bought a mismarked Tortoise Dutch buck from Bob Bergene. I had fallen in love with Dutch at the state fair the year before, and from looking at pictures I decided to raise Tortoise. So I called around to find someone who had them. I finally got ahold of Bob, and a few weeks later I went over and got my buck. Later on, I bought a Tortoise doe from Bob also. I bred her to my buck, and in the early summer of 1994, she kindled a litter. My pick was a little doe, whom I named Callie.

Several months later, it was Convention time. I loaded up Callie and my show buck, and we were on our way.

On judging day, I was proud when my buck took 3rd in his class. (This is a 2 1/2 year old rabbit who I expected to place last). My Callie placed first in her class, much to my delight, and shocked me when she took Best of Variety. When the writer told me she had won Best of Breed, I was hysterical! I could not believe it, I had actually won Best of Breed!

I never knew how Callie did on the Best in Show table, since I had to leave Monday evening, but I will probably always wonder.

Going back to school on Tuesday was sort of a let down, after the excitement of the Convention, but when I told my class how Callie did, the room went silent (a first for my class), and then one of the guys started saying "Briony's Bunny!" (He thought maybe there was a cash prize involved and wanted to remind me he was my friend)

Callie seems to be happy she is home, but I am looking forward to the next show and that possible third Grand Champion leg.

EARLY SPRING

Dutch Rabbit,
with those ears you grow
You should be
the first to know
Signs of Spring
before they show:

Trees telling
of buds swelling,

Earth rousing
from long drowsing,

Hills shouting
of grass sprouting...

Hearing things
before they show,
With those nice little ears you grow,
You should be
the first to know,

DEPTH OF COLOR

By Kevin Hooper

You don't hear many judges comment on the depth of color of the Dutch. If this term is new to you, it means how far down the hairshaft the surface color runs. Ideally, the color will go all of the way to the skin on blacks, blues, chocolates, and torts. The deeper the color goes, the darker the animal usually looks.

Blow into the fur of a blue. They usually have better depth of color. The torts also have good depth of color if the tort has a shorter coat of fur.

How do you get deeper color? Selective breeding.

You may have also heard of people breeding blues to chocolates. Why you ask? To get the color to run deeper on the hairshaft of the chocolate thereby making the color deeper.

It will also work by breeding a tort to a black. The tort should have a good dense coat for best results. I have known several breeders who have said their best blacks always came from torts.

Improving your depth of color will improve the general appearance of your animals making them stand out on the show table.

GRAYS & STEELS

Over the years I have written several articles on the breeding of Grays and Steels. I will try to give you a little guidance in this article on how to increase the quantity and quality of these colors.

First I feel it is of utmost importance to start with a gray that has a complete ring pattern. (The tan band seen when you blow into the fur must be visible over the back.) Using only grays in your breeding program that have this color will not only improve the quality and consistency of your gray color, but also your Steel color when breeding grays to steels.

The evenness in the ring of the gray when used with the steel breeding will give you much more even coloration over the back of the steel. Using grays with poor ring color will give many more steels that show little steel coloration over the back, and more grays with poor ring color.

Second, look for the other colors in the pedigree of the steels and breed accordingly. If the steel has one or more blues in the pedigree, breed it to an animal that has no blue, in the background. This will increase the number of agouti animals you will get, (grays and steels) by minimizing the other colors that are in the background of the animal. The same will hold true of blacks in the pedigree. (or even chocolates or torts if they are in the pedigree.)

Third, breed dark steels to grays (with good ring pattern only). This should give you mostly steels, and nicely colored grays. Breed light steels to dark steels, blues or blacks. It would also help if these blacks or blues had steel in their background. This will give you the best chance to get good colored steels, with a few blacks and blues on the side.

Fourth, breed grays and steels that you believe have no blue in the background to blue steels. If the steel or gray isn't carrying blue you have a very strong chance for only steels or grays.

In summary, start with nicely colored grays, with complete ring pattern. Don't mix steels and/or grays that both have black or blue backgrounds. Light steels to more solid colored animals and dark steels to grays or light steels. Blue steels to grays and steels that don't carry blue.

I'm now breeding steel to steel and getting entire litters of steels. I'm getting grays with good ring color out of steel to steel, steel to gray, and blue steel to steel breedings. You also will find that your gray bunnies will show a full ring pattern at three weeks of age. In case you wondered, I do breed gray to gray a lot as well.

If you have questions, write or give me a call after 9 PM (eastern time) weekdays, whenever on weekends.

NEWS FROM SUE

On behalf of the Midwest Dutch Club, I would like to welcome those of you planning on taking a trek up North to Oshkosh, Wisconsin for our National Dutch Show. We are very excited to be your host, and have been working hard to finalize all the details that go along with such an event.

Along with the famed Oshkosh B'Gosh clothing label, Oshkosh is world renown for the annual Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) convention held in August in the very fields visible out the windows of our Hotel Headquarters. If there are any flying enthusiasts in our group, the EAA Museum is a must to visit while in Wisconsin.

The Dairy State is unsurpassed when it comes to cheeses. We are proud of the award winning factories within miles of the show room that have been family operated for generations. And we plan on tempting your palates with some of these tantalizing cheeses after your long journey up yonder.

And I must put a good word in for our fantastic, extremely convenient shopping malls for those of you that like to shop till you drop. The Manufacturer's Marketplace across the highway from the hotels has all top name brands at hard to beat prices.

Roger Guetschow and I are co-chairs for the show and will be putting some signs out for easy identification of exits. He spent some time in Hawaii this past Winter, where he has tried to convince us that his is a rotten job, but someone's gotta do it...

Now for the Main Details...Both our Showroom and Hotel sites are eight miles from each other with direct access off Hwy 41. Oshkosh is approximately 80-90 miles north of Milwaukee. We have the Outagamie County Airport in Appleton, or Austin Strubel Airport in Green Bay that would be closest to fly in to. If you need a ride from the airport, please call or write to me, and I will try to arrange some transportation for you.

The main headquarters is at the AmericInn Motel on Hwy 44 right off Hwy 41. It is brand new, and has a beautiful pool that we reserved on Friday night for a youth Pizza party. They also have a whirlpool, sauna and complementary continental breakfast.

Phone 1-800-634-3444 or 1-414-232-0300. These rooms are going pretty fast. We have 42 available, and if they would be filled by the time you make reservations, our other main contact point is a block down the road. This is the Super 8 Motel, and it is new as well.

For anyone planning to travel by motor home or campers, there is also a set-up for that at the fairgrounds. Cost is $5.50 per night with water and limited electric available. If this is your option, please let me know, and I'll arrange it.

Our Banquet facility has been changed at the last minute, so please check on this upon arriving. The meal is affordable at $10 a plate. Children 12 and under are half price with those under two eating on the house. Cocktails per cash bar are at 6 PM with Dinner at 7 PM. PLEASE send your Banquet reservations and money with you when you send in bunny registrations. It will help us coordinate things that much more.

And finally...the showroom itself. The Winnebago County Expo Center and Fairgrounds is located one mile south of Hwy 41 off of Hwy 45 and Co Trk Y. The facility was built four years ago and is beautifully landscaped. We have the large white building with the arch over the front entrance. It is heated, and has a great kitchen with an area we will block off so we won't be eating furry food.

There will be a map included in the catalog for you to find making this show a memorable and affordable one.

We already have our trophies and ribbons lined up and they are really something! Our specials to be awarded are very much that indeed, so we think that those attending will leave our show with wonderful memories and some beautiful awards. The next month will be busy for us with our preparations, but it will all be worth it when the old and new friends come together to share a special hobby. If you need to call me, please don't hesitate. I am usually around every day before 2 PM and most nights. I have a recorder and a husband to take messages, but the recorder usually has a better memory. My number is 1-414-729-9577. We look forward to seeing you all!

February 25, 1995

Hello from the Upper Midwest!

Things are progressing nicely for the National Dutch Show in April. We look forward to welcoming everyone to the Upper Midwest to celebrate the weekend with us. We will do all in our power to help you enjoy your stay. I checked with our motels just before sitting down to get this message done and there are still rooms available at both the Super 8 and the AmericInn. But they are beginning to fill, so don't wait to long. The Show Catalog will go into the mail on February 28, 1995 as promised. If you have not received yours, you will have to give us a call (Bengtson's) at 507-864-2103. Catalogs will be mailed to the officers of the ADRC, catalog advertisers, specials donators & Upper Midwest Dutch Club members, and last years NDS exhibitors. Also any special requests have been honored. Please note the April 10th postmark date for entries. We will not be able to accept entries with later postmarks, sorry. So, mark your calendars and get them done before income tax day.

It has been several years since the last NDS in the upper midwest. Everything that we can control will be attended to, we hope. Since the winter has been so mild, we hope that spring will be ready to pop just for the NDS weekend. See You all There.

SPECIAL NEWS REPORT!

Reported from the desk of Erik Bengtson

Of a nationwide poll of 1,000 leading physicians, 85% believed that there could be a link between missing the 1995 National Dutch Show and 92 illnesses, 77 which could be serious if not treated correctly!
So please don't miss this one, your life may depend on it!

I not only report the news, I also make it up.

For those of you who are planning to come to the National

Dutch Show in Oshkosh, the Upper Midwest Dutch Rabbit Club will have a photographer taking many pictures. If you would like him to take a picture of you and your rabbit, be sure to ask one of the club members. Roger Guetschow's son Jeff, who is an excellent photographer, will be the show photographer. Don't hesitate to ask him to take a photo of you and your lucky rabbit. We will look forward to seeing these pictures in the next issue of the Dutch Reporter.

In addition, Roger's other son, Bill, is planning on taking a video recording of the show. Bill is a news director of a local Madison
TV station, so he is a professional.
He started out as a camera operator. It is the hope of the UMDRC to offer these for sale after the show to anyone who wants one. It is a great way to record the history of the show, and hopefully this will continue to be a tradition for future National Dutch Shows. Twenty years from now, it will mean so much to Dutch members to be able to view these recordings.

SPECIALITY CLUB NEWS

NEWS FROM NEW ENGLAND

The New England Dutch Club was founded December 1, 1963 in Woonsocket, Rhodes Island. The founding members came from all over New England including one of our still active members - Wayne MacKinnon.

(From what I have heard Wayne played a very important role in keeping our Dutch Club together during crucial times over the past 30 years). The NEDRC's first show was held October 11, 1964 in Brookline, New Hampshire. Our judge was Arthur Burke. Sadly enough, I do not have a show report of our first show. The cost per rabbit was only $1.00 per animal. The cost hasn't gone up that much from 30 years ago!

Our club offers two shows a year, a 50/50 auction, raffle items and a newsletter published twice a year by our President Valerie Dahl.

For our 30th anniversary show held October 9, 1994, the NEDRC was honored to have youth member Jessica Gittleman of New Jersey win Best in Show with her Black Junior Doe. She also won Best of Breed the same day at the Central CT. RBA show. Not many open exhibitors can boast of such accomplishments!

We currently have 28 members and hope many more join. We would love articles and ads for our newsletter from anyone in the country. It would be fun to hear from different parts of the country. We will send a newsletter to anyone who places an ad or submits an article.

We hope to see you at our Spring and Fall shows!

SUN VALLEY DUTCH FANCIERS CLUB

The Sun Valley Dutch Fanciers is just a local specialty originally started with members in San Diego County, but has expanded to members north of Bakersfield and South to Arizona. As far as youth members, the biggest news I have is Jean Zimmerman, age 15, has just gotten her Registrar's license. For one year Jean worked shows. Her next challenge will be her driver's license! Jean is very active in band, Girl Scouts and hockey. Following is some upcoming show dates:

May 7: Sun Valley Dutch Fanciers, (backyard show at my house) Escondido, CA.

July 30: Sun Valley Dutch Fanciers & San Diego Beach & Rabbit Club, Cardiff, CA. Jamie Green, judge.

Oct. 1: Sun Valley Dutch Fanciers (backyard show at Joanne Purpus home), Leucadia, CA. Allen Barr, judge.

Julia,

Congratulations on your appointment as Editor of the Dutch Reporter. Kelly & I wish you much success! We are editors of the Hoosier News, the Indiana State Rabbit Breeders Association newsletter - it's a lot of work, but it does have it rewards?! The ISRBA newsletter is why I am writing you so close to your deadline, we had an issue due this month (we are also officers in the Hoosier Holland Lop Club and Directors of the ISRBA).

Enclosed with this letter please find copies of our Dutch clubs latest newsletter, our spring shows catalogue and a copy of the Hoosier News for your review. You can use any information in these publication for the reporter. The Dutch publications should give you a lot information about what is going on with our club this year. I will be happy to put you on our mailing list for future Hoosier Dutch newsletters and catalogues.

As of today, we have 63 members in our club - 37 being adults, 26 being youth. I have also enclosed a membership application which list our dues. Our sanction fee is $3.00 for both Open & Youth. A listing of our officers is inside the spring show catalogue

I can not speak with authority about the history of the club, but will try and get you some "history information" for your next Dutch Reporter.

If there is anything else you need from me, please don't hesitate to call or write. If I don't know the answer, I'll try and find it! Congratulations again, I look forward to communicating with you.

Since the time of the monks in the Middle Ages, rabbits have been caged to be used as a source of food and fur production. Today, because of their ease of care and quiet nature, rabbits have gained popularity as domesticated pets. There are several breeds of rabbits that vary greatly in size and in the ratio of body surface to body weight. Rabbit breeds are usually grouped according to size. Dwarfs, standards, and giants are the three major groups; however, specialty groups also exist. Small breeders (under two kilograms) include the Dutch and Netherland dwarf. Medium breeds (two to five kilograms) include the Angora, Californian, New Zealand, Chinchilla and Rex. Large rabbits (more than five kilograms) include Flemish and Checkered Giants. Lop-eared rabbits are considered a specialty group. These rabbits have long, draping ears. There are four types of lop-eared rabbits based on size (from smallest to largest): Holland, Mini, French, and English. In general, the smaller the rabbit, the earlier the onset of sexual maturity and the greater the caloric requirement per unit of weight.

ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY

Rabbits have well-developed sensory systems to prevent capture and destruction by predators. The most noticeable external characteristic of rabbits is their long ears. The ears gather sound and are an easily accessible blood collection site because of the presence of readily visualized vasculature. Some believe that the ears also serve as a thermoregulatory organ; however, most mammals have internal methods of thermoregulation via the hypothalamus. The eyes of rabbits are well adapted. Rabbits have a field of vision that is approximately 170 degrees for each eye. Rabbits also have a wide, panoramic field of vision created by the lateral positioning and prominence of the eyes; a small binocular field to the rear; and a small area of overlap in the front due to the small nasal area. These adaptations give the rabbit an advantage in escaping predators. Rabbits also have a well-developed nictitating membrane. During sleep or anesthesia, this fold moves from the medial canthus across the cornea to protect the eye. Rabbits have pupillary dilatation that is extremely light sensitive (about eight times as sensitive as that of humans). This type of dilatation helps rabbits to detect slight changes in their environment. Rabbits have a cleft upper lip and an undivided lower lip that form a relatively small external mouth opening. The external nares are ovoid shaped and merge with the cleft in the upper lip.

Rabbits are fairly delicate animals

Only eight percent of the body weight of a rabbit is skeleton. The vertebral formula for rabbits is $C_7T_{12}L_7S_4Cd_{16}$, but 13 thoracic vertebrae are present in some animals. Rabbits have powerful hindquarters that are adapted for jumping. Proper restraint of the hindquarters is essential in rabbits to prevent injury.

Some differences occur in regard to the internal organs of rabbits. The heart of the rabbit is smaller than the heart of other mammals; the right atrioventricular valve is a bicuspid instead of a tricuspid; the liver has four lobes; the pancreas is diffuse; the simple stomach lacks specialized regions and is thin-walled and large; the cecum is large, thin-walled, and (when coiled with its termination) is a thick-walled vermiform process.

The rabbit is a monogastric herbivore that is also coprophagic; therefore, gastrointestinal adaptations are important in understanding nutrient requirements. Hindgut fermentation of plant material is accomplished via adaptation of the large intestinal group of the rabbit. Two types of feces are passed in rabbits. The type most commonly passed is round and firm. The other type is known as night feces or cecotrophs. Cecotrophs are soft, wet stools of cecal origin that are a source of B vitamins and protein. Cecotrophs are ingested by the rabbit (usually directly from the rectum) to provide the rabbit with B vitamins and protein. Anorexic rabbits should thus be supplemented with B vitamins. Rabbits cannot vomit, and this is important to remember when histories are taken.

Sexual maturity occurs earlier in females than in males and earlier in small breeds than in large ones. Small breeds can be bred at four to five months of age. Giant breeds are not ready to be bred until nine to twelve months of age. Rabbits do not exhibit obvious, reliable external signs of estrus. Behavioral changes and a turgid vulva in rabbits during estrus may be noticed by some observant owners. Male rabbits have a hairless scrotum and do not have a glans penis. The testes descend at about 12 weeks of age. Male rabbits, or bucks, do not have nipples. The inguinal canals remain open for life. This is important to remember when rabbits are neutered. If a rabbit is neutered via open castration, the inguinal ring or tunic area needs to be closed to prevent herniation of the intestine. The estrous cycle of the female rabbit is irregular. There is a four to seventeen day period of receptivity with one to two days of inactivity interspersed. Females, or does, are induced ovulators, and ovulation occurs ten to thirteen hours after breeding. The gestation period is thirty to thirty-three days. Pseudopregnancy can occur and generally lasts fifteen to seventeen days.

In the final days of gestation, the doe builds a nest from bedding material or hair from her dewlap, thighs, and abdomen. Young rabbits are born hairless, blind, and deaf. Sexing young rabbits may be difficult because the anogenital distance varies only slightly between females and males. Does will eat the placenta and stillborn offspring, and cannibalism may be observed; therefore, external noise and handling should be kept to a minimum after a litter is born. Typical litter size is four to ten kits. Does are infrequent nursers and only feed the kits once or twice daily. Weaning usually occurs at six to eight weeks.

Many people believe that rabbits only have two large buck teeth. The dental formula actually is I 2/1, C 0/0, P 3/2, M 3/3 for a total of 28 teeth. Rabbits have openrooted teeth that grow continuously; therefore, teeth should be periodically examined to ensure that they are properly aligned to wear each other down. If the teeth are too long, they should be trimmed in an appropriate manner.

Rabbits have unique physiologic values (see the box). The blood of the rabbit and granulocyte morphology varies from other mammals. The rabbit heterophil or neutrophil (also known as the pseudoeosinophil or amphophil) resembles the eosinophil of other species. Eosinophils of rabbits have granules that are round, larger, and much more brightly eosinophilic than those of neutrophils. Lymphocytes, monocytes, and basophils of rabbits are similar in morphology to other mammals. High lymphocyte number (30% to 70%) may be normal in rabbits. Leukocytosis is uncommon in rabbits with an infection. Elevations in the number of heterophils may be evident during infectious disease. The erythrocyte morphology of the rabbit is similar to other mammals with anucleated, biconcave, and dislike erythrocytes. The only difference in erythrocyte morphology of the rabbit is that the red cell morphology looks like a regenerative response because there is a vast variation in cell size. Hemostatic cells are similar to platelets of other mammals. The mean corpuscular volume of the rabbit is 65 to 72 femtoliters, and the normal packed cell volume is 36% to 48%.

The urine of rabbits is turbid and varies in color from clear to deep orange or reddish brown. The variation in the urine color is caused by the variety of diets fed to rabbits (i.e., feeding too much alfalfa in the form of pellets and blocks may result in increased calcium levels in the urine, thus, the urine may appear cloudy white) or by porphyrin pigments present in the urine, which cause the reddish brown coloration. Because rabbits are herbivores, the urinary pH is alkaline and ranges from 8.0 to 9.0. Urine is the major route of calcium excretion in rabbits; therefore, crystals occur commonly in rabbit urine. The most frequently encountered crystals in rabbit urine are triple phosphate, calcium carbonate monohydrate, and anhydrous calcium carbonate.

DOMESTIC RABBITS DUTCH COLUMN

Thanks to Eric Mixdorf, for writing an excellent column for the ARBA Domestic Rabbits magazine. His column is a great way to get new breeders involved and to let them know we have a thriving national Dutch organization. All of you who write newsletters for your local speciality club, try putting Eric on your mailing list, so he has all of your area news and upcoming events. He needs input from our entire membership, so do write to him! The deadlines are as follows: 5th of Feb., April, June, August, Oct. and Dec. His address is 1357 Huntington Rd. Waterloo, Iowa 50701. Phone him at 319-234-6937.

ADRC 1995 ELECTIONS

If you will refer to the ADRC Constitution and by-laws included in this issue, you will see that there are annual elections. Please read this carefully and if you have any questions at all concerning this, please contact one of the officers or your director. If you have read Jack Wireman's article concerning the ADRC elections, maybe this will encourage you to become involved. If you have an interest in running for an officer or director's position, you need to get your resume to the Secretary-Treasurer prior to May 1st. If you are coming to Oshkosh, bring it along then. These resumes will be printed in the next issue of the DR. The qualifications are that you have been a member for 2 years in a row prior to May 1st and have paid your membership fees.

The final elections ballots will be in the July-August-Sept. Issue of the DR.

ATTENTION:

Kevin Hooper is the breed chairman for the 1995 ARBA National Convention in Louisville. Please help him out and send him some specials. He needs these by July 31, 1995. Write or give him a call if you have any questions at all.
