President's MESSAGE

I have to start off with a bit of bad news for those who are members of the ADRC. We lost one of our "Old Guard" in January. Bob Worden of Indiana passed away after having a triple by-pass in November. Bob was not only a breeder of quality Dutch, but also just a very nice guy! I always could tell when Bob had a good one. I simply said "Hey Worden, got any winners?" It wasn't his response of no, but the look that he had when he said no. I knew when he had something. This year at the ARBA Convention, he had that look. Sure enough, he came home with a winner. Bob had a good impact on the Dutch breed, and everyone who knew him.

I would like to welcome a new Board member for District three - Jill Pfaff. Jill has been appointed to fill Briony Barnes position as she now resides in District two. Along with Jill, Pete Nelson and Sue Strandwitz were re-appointed to their respective positions in Districts 3 and 2. (Their appointments were needed - as the process to run for the Board is to submit a resume by May 1st to the secretary. It is easy to forget that after getting back from an exhausting National Dutch Show.)

I have also appointed the following to the Election Committee for 2003: Denny McAtee - Chair, Eric Mixdorf, and Kim McCune, all of which are from Iowa. (This is news to them!)

Plans are coming together nicely for this year's NDS. Howdy Dunmire has been keeping me updated regularly. There has been a bit of shuffling of the judges, but all is set. I'm sure Howdy and his crew would appreciate any donations that you would be willing to send.

Speaking of donations, Rick Lehman and Bob Bergene will be heading up the Dutch activities at the ARBA Convention this year in Wichita, KS. They will need some donations to purchase awards as well, so help out if you can.

We are in need of your help for our Dutch Reporter! We now have it back on schedule and you all like to read the information in each issue. Wouldn't it be great to see four or five more information/entertaining articles in each issue? Well, that will only happen if a few of you donate just a bit of your vast Dutch Rabbit Raising knowledge to the ADRC membership! You don't need to be a writer - I'm sure not- just write something down about what you do, have done, or plan to do in raising a better Dutch. We all stand around and talk about Dutch at the shows, so the only difference is by you writing it, you can monopolize the conversation. No one else's opinion matters, just yours! Once you write it down, (or type it in), just send it/email it to Julia. She would be happy to receive it, and you would be happy to read about anything besides my old tort buck.

As of February 16, the ADRC has a new Publicity Chair. The Aisbets of Wisconsin have taken over the position from Rick and Julie Billups. There should be an updated order form elsewhere in this issue. Thanks to Rick and Julie for their numerous years of service.

Speaking of the Aisbets, I would like to again complement Angie on the Dutch web site. It looks good and is up to date. We will be adding more information as we go.

The cold weather may affect the number of the juniors at this year's NDS. It has been cold consistently throughout the winter. I have had good success raising litters this winter, if they conceived. Other than those bred on December 15 and 16, and a couple of December 26, and January 11, the conception rate has been pretty low. We'll know if a couple of months how this affects this year's show.

Kevin Hooper
New Vienna, Ohio

Sec/Treas MESSAGE

Greeting from the frozen Northland. I hope you are all enjoying the peace of the winter season. It is always a challenge to keep the rabbits healthy and happy during this long-night and cold weather part of the year. But, since the days are beginning to grow longer you should be finding the does ready to accept service and prepare for the beginning of spring and the normal production season again.

My usual reminder for you in this Jan/Feb/March issue of the Dutch Reporter is always that it is time to get your resumes into me if you are interested in the adventure of being a member of the Board of Directors of the America Dutch Rabbit club. May 1st is the deadline and as usual I will be happy to accept your resume at the National Dutch Show. So, come one and all, put your toes into the water and give it a try. And while I am on the subject of the ADRC Board of Directors, please join me in welcoming Ray Brewer, Sue Strandwitz, and Pete Nelsen back to the Board and also Jill Pfaff as the replacement for Briony Barnes in District 3 as Briony has moved out of that district. Thank you to Briony for her service as a Director. We have her to thank for the nice youth guidelines we have for our National Dutch Show youth.

Congratulations to Kevin on his re-appointment to the office of President of our Association.

You will find the membership list in this issue of the Dutch Reporter. Please take a moment to check it over and help me to correct any errors that may have crept in when we weren't looking.

We are all looking forward to that trip to Pennsylvania this spring and await the arrival of the show catalog. And if by any chance you have not made our donation to the National Dutch Show I am sure that is not too late. Remember that it is OUR show and we need to support it if we want to keep it.

I was saddened to hear of the passing of Bob Worden of Indiana recently. We are definitely richer for having had Bob with us and will miss his quiet smile at the shows.

Thank you to all of you that remembered Larry with your notes and cards. He enjoys receiving your messages.

So, keep warm, keep your nest boxes full and we'll see you at NDS.

DISTRICT ONE REPORT

NEWS FROM RICK B

It appears that old man winter has been rejuvenated with increased strength. We have several inches of snow and ice on the ground with more expected all day today. I hope all of you have had better luck this winter than I have. We have lost most of our litters this winter and our watering system. We lost our electricity for seven hours one night in January and lost the entire system.

Lima RBA hosted the first show of the year during the weekend of February 2nd with 133

Dutch in the open and 139 in the youth. Kevin Hooper won the open show with his Steel Senior Doe and BOS went to Mike Smith with a Black Senior Buck. Katie Bickelhaupt won the youth show with a Black Senior Doe and Steven Stump had BOS with a Blue Junior Buck.

The Ohio State Dutch club has had a change in the office of Secretary/treasurer for this year. Please direct all communications or sanction request to Barb Kline at 419-595-2050.

I hope everyone is making plans to attend the National Dutch show during the weekend of April 25th in Washington, PA. I now that Howard Dunmire and his group are hard at work preparing to make the show a success. Please contact Howard with donations or for show information at 724-258-4191 or you can email him at dunmire@stargate.net. That's all for now and I hope to see everyone in April!

DISTRICT TWO REPORTS

NEWS FROM SUE

Of course now that the spring shows are starting, winter puts in its appearance. As I type this, we are having blizzard conditions in Wisconsin. It swirled through MN and is now headed out east. The really cold stuff is on the tail of the storm and will add to the hardships many seem to be having getting litters thus far. May the groundhog be on target with his predictions of better weather being just around the corner!

I have some questions for anyone that is able to email me back with a response; when weaning babies, do you give them a special diet during the transition to a single pen? What kind of hay do you feed and how often? At what age do you tattoo your youngsters? If you live in a colder climate, what method do you use to insure your animals have adequate water? How do you winterize pens or your building? If you live in a warmer climate, how do you keep your animals cool? What have you found to help keep a thick coat on your bunnies? It would be really nice to include some tips in my future columns from my district that may help those that are just starting out.

Since the shows have just begun, it'll take another month to see how the numbers are with Dutch. So far, the youth seem to be in the lead with higher numbers. Should you notice a new breeder at a show, welcome them at the show table to raising our wonderful little animal. We would not enjoy these competitions half as much if it were not for the conversations to be had between exhibitors. It sure makes all those early mornings we have loading and then transporting rabbits across the state worth it when we see a familiar face.

The group putting the NDS this spring in PA must be hard at work with preparations! It will be exciting to see what they have done and to be in the midst of hundreds of quality animals under one roof. Be watching for their catalog to be coming out fairly soon. When I called to get rooms at the headquarters, they were really filling up quickly. It'll be nice to see everyone again at the show!

Julia Anderson mentioned that the article on the Bergene Rabbitry was very well received and she'd like to feature others as well in the coming DR's. If you would like to write to a director and send photos as well as an article on your rabbitry, we'd love to hear from you!

Lastly, those that have had the chance to meet Mr. Bob Worden will miss his presence at the shows. He was extremely dedicated to producing quality animals and was very well known for helping others start out with good dutch. He was always fun to joke with at the National shows. How fitting it was that he helped put on the 2002 show in Indy. We extend condolences to his family from his Dutch family.

Continue to work hard with your bunnies and best of luck with the coming show season.

Sue Strandwitz
Verona, WI

NEWS FROM TOM

The show season is starting to kick off. I attended the state 4-H show at East Lansing during mid January and it was nice to see the incredible interest in rabbits overall. 120 Dutch were shown.

As the cold weather continues it is important to make sure the animals have access to water (not ice) and feed. In raising winter rabbits outside it is important to have good milk does as the babies do a lot less exploring if their bellies are full. They stay in that nice warm next box instead of getting out and freezing. Also during the birthing process it is important to have a heated area for the does, as even the best mothers need time to recover. I usually return the rabbits outside with a well-furred strawed next box within a couple of hours of birth. If it is going to be 15 degrees or less, I bring the nestboxes in at night and return them early in the morning. The doe's hop right in and feed. I recheck within 15 minutes to make sure all babies are in the warm part of nestbox.

It is a lot easier to raise rabbits in the warmer months. Spring thru July in Michigan, but a lot of good ones come at other times too.

Best of everything,

Tom Dietrich
Mayville, Michigan

NEWS FROM DAWN

HELLO FELLOW DUTCH BREEDERS. Hope everyone is trying to stay warm. We have had quite an odd winter, from 50 to -20 with wind chills all in the same week. I know we are all anxiously awaiting the arrival of spring.

The show season opened the first weekend of February here in Illinois sorry to say the numbers being shown was WAY down. Hopefully all of the breeders that missed the show just had prior commitments & have not given up the hobby. Looks like the Illinois breeders in will have to start doing some heavy duty promoting of our breed here in Illinois.

Anyone that has info for the Dutch Reporter from District 2 please feel free to email me with it. Dan & I don't get to many out of state shows so that would help support the other states within our district. The NDS is only two months away, just think one of us has that winner sittin in the barn, just waiting to shine!

In closing Dan & I were very sad to hear of the passing of Bob Worden. Dan always had such a good time kidding around with Bob, he will be greatly missed.

Till next time,

Robert F Worden 1927-2003

Bob Worden, Dutch breeder from Indiana, passed away on January 12, 2003. Bob's enthusiasm for Dutch and winning grin will be greatly missed. For many of us, Dutch shows will never be the same. Bob Worden was a cornerstone for the Hoosier Dutch Rabbit Fanciers. He exhibited excellent rabbits, good sportsmanship, and exemplified breeder integrity. Bob was a good friend and a champion Dutch rabbit breeder. He helped young 4-H members when they wanted to raise Dutch. He would help older folks get started. He would often rather trade a rabbit than sell it.

Bob served on the Board of Directors for the Hoosier Dutch Rabbit Fanciers. He was a key factor in bringing the bid for the National Dutch Show to Indianapolis in 2002. Bob worked as a planner for the show, helped fund the building, and carried rabbits all day long. He worked as a table superintendent to help the show go smoothly. He was instrumental in the success of the largest Dutch Show of record.

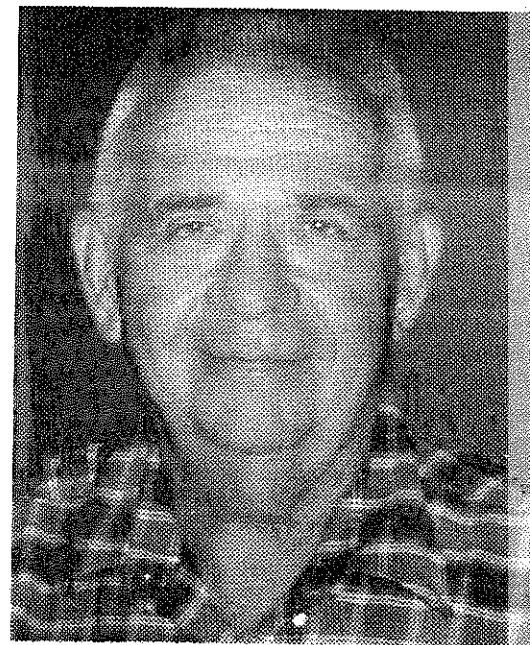

Bob's herd experienced a setback in 1997 when one of his best bucks was stolen at the ARBA Convention, but Bob didn't give up. Bob won numerous awards, many Best in shows and even best Four-class awards. His most recent wins included Best in Show at the 2002 Indiana State Rabbit Breeder's Convention and Best Opposite Sex dutch at the 2002 ARBA Convention with a black junior doe. He attended about 20 shows a year to encourage and promote the breed. Bob was always willing to support the Dutch Breed with both time and money.

Bob began raising rabbits when he was 10. He received a crossbred rabbit as a gift, and then began raising Checker giants, Californians, and Florida Whites. His first Dutch experience was 34 years ago when he and his wife received a pair of Dutch named Don and Donna. He raised all 6 varieties of Dutch, then cut down to three. He specialized in Black and Blues. Bob once said his most exciting wins before 2002, were BOS at NDS, BOS in 1995 at ARBA and BOB at NDS in 1996.

He was a life member of the ADRC, the Hoosier Dutch Rabbit Fanciers, the Indiana State Rabbit Breeders and the old Huntington Club. He retired from International Harvester. His wife Donna, daughter Jenny, and two stepsons survive Bob.

Bob's broad smile and reputation for great Dutch made him a favorite person to see at shows. His never-ending faith in a youth member made a huge difference in at least two people's lives. I will always appreciate the way Bob served as a mentor for my daughter. He taught her about breeding, sportsmanship, maintaining a good reputation, and how to develop a sense of what was fair on both sides of the show table. Bob was an encouraging man, a person of integrity and above all a good friend. Bob enriched our lives. He gave us the gift of a love for rabbits. I will always be grateful for having been fortunate enough to know him.

Bob Worden

A FAREWELL TO MY FRIEND

I was deeply saddened to hear of the passing of my friend Bob Worden. Bob was a talented breeder, an accomplished showman, and a good friend to many. I first met Bob in the late 80's when traveling with my father to the National Polish Show in Indiana. I was eager to get to the show site, but Dad wanted to stop on the way to visit Mr. Worden. Dad had the utmost respect for the quality of Dutch that Mr. Worden showed consistently at ARBA conventions and National Dutch Shows.

We ended up spending two hours at his place looking over all the Dutch he had. Each time he brought out another one (always better than the last one he showed us) he'd turn to me and ask, "Isn't this one better than a Polish"? Well, even though they weren't Polish, I was impressed with the quality. Dad on the other hand was completely enamored. When Bob offered us a pair, Dad couldn't get out his wallet quick enough, but Bob wouldn't accept any offer Dad made. Instead he made us promise that we would raise lots of Dutch and owe him a Dutch down the road someday. We graciously accepted Bob's offer and took home that pair of Dutch.

That was my defining moment. That was when I decided I was going to slow down on the Polish and concentrate on Dutch. I had two goals in mind. The first was to raise a Dutch good enough that Bob would want to take it home. The second was to beat Bob. A few years down the road I was able to reach my first goal. Bob came to me and said "I was looking at Steel does and when I found one I liked looked down on the coop card it said Bengtson's on it". He then said he was so surprised that we had a Steel that good that he thought maybe it was someone else's rabbits put in our cage by accident so he double checked the coop number and the ear number (chuckling the whole time he said it). Bob and I traveled over to the Steels to discuss her. Bob said that her head markings were near perfect and would make a nice match with his Black Sr Buck. I offered to take home his Black Sr Buck and breed the two together (chuckling while I said it). Bob said that wasn't exactly what he had in mind. I smiled and offered her to him. Bob said sure. I was very excited and quickly told everyone that would listen that bob got a Dutch from the Bengtson's.

Unfortunately I will never be able to reach my second goal.

Good-bye my friend. Thank you for the encouragement, the laughs and your friendship.

Observations on Steel color

By, Jill (Dobson) Pfaff, by the way for those of you who don't know I have changed back to my maiden name after being divorced for five years, I did not get married again!

I would like to share some of my observations of Steel Dutch at the last few national shows I have attended. I personally have not raised this variety in my barn for many years but still have a few pop up in litters from some of my breeding experiments. One of the things I enjoy about going to national shows is walking up and down all of the aisles of beautiful Dutch at each show I am lucky enough to attend. For the last few years, I have been noticing two kinds of Steels. Some have eye circles and lighter tails than others. At home in my spare time I've done some reading and found that in our last Guidebook the Genetics article listed two genotypes for Steels a-B-D-eg-, which is a non-agouti and A-b-D-Ee which is an agouti and recessive b trait which influences denseness of color. This seems to send a mixed message to breeders. I decided to take a closer look at the way the standard is written and found it very interesting that the standard for Gray color doesn't mention whether eye circles are allowed or not. Yet in Steels lap spots are ok which is a distinct trait of agouties but ring color is a disqualification.

From my breeding experiences I have observed that lap spots correlate with belly and tail color. The darker belly color results in darker laps spots and tail color. These traits seem to be linked. I suspect that a modifier for the E series gene influences these traits. Similarly with what is seen in Tort color shadings. I have seen a connection in the traits of Torts with those having dark shadings seem to have a more orange body color whereas those with light shadings have a more yellowish orange. The other extreme involves shadings that are really dark cause a smoky orange from guard hairs that have Black tipping.

Our standard reflects these traits and consistency with the genetics that cause linked traits. The standard calls for bright orange with distinct shadings which is somewhere in the middle between fewer modifiers causing light shadings and more modifiers that cause dark smoky body color.

I would like to suggest that we as members of the ADRC rethink the present standard for Steel color. Use the current knowledge of genetics to write a standard that makes sense to breeders and produces more consistency in the animals shown.

Proposed Steel color

Add eye circles and lap spots to the list of disqualification including ring color.

This would make Steel a non-agouti or self color with the genotype a-B-D-eg-.

OR

Proposed Steel-Gray color

Allow eye circles, lap spots and ring color in the standard and change the name from Steel to Steel-Gray. This would make Steel an agouti color with the genotypes A-B-D-Eeg or A-B-D-Ee.

Luckily the club has time to contemplate these suggestions. As a member of the current standards committee I would like to add my own recommendation.

Poll the current list of steel breeders taken from sweepstakes shows over the last two years. Ask for opinions and suggestions be sent to the Standards Committee Chairperson that will advise the committee members. The standards committee should report to the ADRC bi-annual board meeting all findings and suggestions. Hopefully by the time the next standard is published for 2005 we will have changes that will provide a more consistent guide for judges and breeders of Steel Dutch.

*Sincerely yours in Dutch,
Jill E Pfaff*

KT139

2-1-94 to 12-21-2002

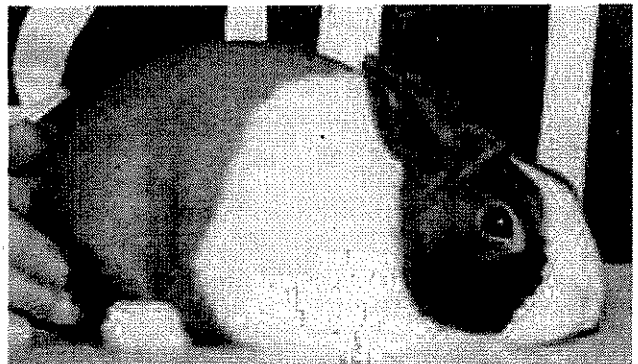

Some people were joking and razzing me about my article I wrote in the 3rd issue of last year. I mentioned that I used an 8 1/2 year old buck in the heat of summer, and produced a litter. I also mentioned who that rabbit was - my old tort buck, KT139. Well I only ended up with one litter out of him from last summer, and kept one doe. One breeder joked that one day I would go out and find that he had croaked (died) in his cage. Another said if he had to see another article on that rabbit..... (jokingly, I think.).

Well the evening of December 20, I found him lying on his side breathing slowly, not moving at all. He died sometime during that night. So this is the last article I will ever write about him. Word got out that he had died, and I even received one sympathy card. It was very sad to lose that old buck. He had been with me for nearly nine years.

He is survived still by one son, and two grandsons (which I have), and hundreds of other descendants. He had 52 legs of Grand Champion, 3 Best in Shows, 4 Best 4 Class, 25 Best of Breed, 8 BOS (including the 96 ARBA Convention) and numerous other awards. I quite showing him when he was almost three years old, as his sons were doing well. I brought him back out at five years, and he won several times, including the Sr Buck class at the ARBA Convention.

LOUISIANA DUTCH RC

DANICA NORRED WON 2nd RUNNER-UP TO BIS IN SHOW!! Danica took this honor at the Haynesville All Breed Open show Jan 18, 2003 with a Blue junior doe. Congratulations Danica! We are proud of you!

Congratulations to two of LDRC's youth members for their super wins at the Cameron Parish Fair. Rabbit Judge Frank Farrow from Texas did the honors and when the dust settled, Best of Breed went to Thomas Lee Trosclair with a Steel Sr. Buck and Best Opposite Sex went to John Paul Trosclair with a Blue Sr. Doe. We are also proud to announce that Thomas Lee was awarded Best Overall Showmanship. Thomas Lee, a junior entrant, scored highest in his age division, and then went on to become the high scorer in all age divisions combined. Way to go, Thomas Lee! You showed the "big boys" how to do it! Awesome job, guys! Keep up the good work!

Sweepstakes winners for 2002 have been posted to LDRC's website, along with photos of the Dutch Danica Norred has been winning with. Her 2nd Runner-up to Best In Show win at Ruston with a Blue Dutch is an award we are all proud of. Congrats again, Danica!

FLORIDA NEWS

by Dale Grabenbauer

I invited a past president of the ADRC to come down to Florida and show with us so he could see what a good Dutch looked like. And do you know what? We showed him and he whupped us!

In both shows, A and the specialty show, I figure the judges were the same ones that officiated the National College Football playoff between the Ohio Buckeyes and the Miami Hurricanes! Just Kidding!! Both judges did a very good job; we take our hats off to Bill Whaley and Erik Bengtson.

That fellow and his wife, Fred & Kathy Mullinax whupped us. Paid for my lunch to heal the pain. Florida Dutch Club members do not like to get beat. However, we are all one family, when it comes to Dutch.

The specialty show had 52 entries. The judges were consistent. Kathy's steel doe took BOB (just barely over my tort doe) and Fred's black buck took BOS. In show "A" Fred's black buck took BOB and Kathy's steel doe took BOS. Some of our members said "I bet you don't invite them to another show", but I said they were wrong - I will pay their way the next time.

I asked Fred what he did for a living. He said he played pool or billiards all through the US, England & Canada, playing against Jackie Gleason and other professionals. When he finished traveling he sold his farm and purchased an old building and made it into a pool hall, which he still owns and operates. And he sells no alcoholic beverages. I understand that he was a good pitcher and played for the Cleveland Indians on their farm team. His wife Kathy doesn't shoot pool or throw a fastball, but she is better looking than Fred!

DUTCH IN THE SOUTHWEST

by Pat Mareska

Dutch Rabbit Club of Southern California held a specialty show in Nov. in conjunction with a double O & Y all breed show. Beau Williamson continued his winning ways by taking BIS in the specialty plus one of the open shows.

The Dutch Club of Arizona has undergone a few changes. Dick & Linda Mattingly relocated to Pennsylvania before the end of the year. They left two of their best Dutch with me. The gorgeous doe is now raising a nice litter. Youth, Amber Wright decided that she no longer had time for rabbits, so Bill sold all the Dutch. Now he is having second thoughts and we are trying to convince him to get back into Dutch. Another youth, Anthony Campbell, almost got out of Dutch, but he still has a few. He had some excellent Harlequins, but because of the continued failure to get that variety accepted, he decided to sell them to a Holland Lop breeder who plans to breed the Dutch for the pet market.

Welcome to new Dutch breeders, George and Laura McNeil of Tucson. Also joining our regional club is Marie Garcia & Christina Frank of New Mexico. In Dec. we had a Dutch specialty in conjunction with a double O & Y all breed show. We had 56 Dutch in each of the 3 shows. Then in Jan at our double all-breed shows, there were 52 Dutch.

Feb 15-16 we had another specialty show in Casa Grande. There are 9 specialty clubs in the state. We share judging expenses when we have shows in addition to each club paying for their own sanctions and awards. Since ARBA doubled sanction fees to $20 a few years ago, most of the smaller clubs are having a tough time trying to hold shows. For some time I have placed Kevin Hooper, Eric Mixdorf & Briony Barnes on the list of requested judges for our Arizona shows. We also have Al & Barb Butler judge. It helps that they can fly and stay together, plus Barb is also a Cavy judge.

We have had a very warm winter in the Southwest - around 80 in Phoenix in Jan and 90 in LA. It isn't doing much for rabbit fur or the power bills, as it means running the cooler with water pump in Jan! Warm weather has been good for bunnies in the nest boxes. Of course, one of my Dutch does who had successfully raised litters of 6 or 7, had a litter of 8 during the only "cold" spell of the year - coldest day of 49 degrees. She pulled almost no fur. After they all died she pulled fur - nest box was full of fur and no bunnies. I save the fur and rebred her and now she is raising the BEST litter she ever had. After more than 20 years of breeding rabbits, I still find that they can perplex and amaze me.

Although I would never try to encourage anyone to come to the Arizona deserts between May & October, some of you in the colder parts of the country might consider planning a winter vacation sometime and take in one of our double or even triple shows. Our numbers continue to be 50 or more at most shows.

Wishing everyone nest boxes filled with delightful little Dutch Bunnies,

Publicity Department

Julie and I are pleased to announce that Angela Aisbet has offered to take over the Publicity Department this year. We are planning on making the transition during the month of February so that Angela will have plenty of time to get ready for the NDS. I will continue to be a member of the Publicity Committee and look forward to working with Angela over the next several years.

Both Julie and I have enjoyed serving the club in this role since 1994 and we hope that it has been a benefit to you, the membership. Many thanks go out to the members who helped work the booth and donated raffle items over the years. I feel comfortable in knowing that each of you will give the same support to Angela. Please direct all future orders as of this issue to Angela Aisbet as noted on the order form.

Thanks,

Rick & Julie Billups

Harlequin Dutch Color Genetics

What I've learned so far 9/5/02

By Jill Pfaff

The genes controlling hair color in rabbits are quite amazing in the way they turn off and on receptors during development allowing for pigment in the hair shaft. Even though this is a pretty complicated thing going on. I choose to approach breeding Harlequin Dutch like a living experiment. What I love most about the Harlequin variety are the many patterns, each one is so unique! One of the consistent things I see is the variety of color distribution on the pattern and I am focusing on gaining more uniformity.

In a litter sometimes there are animals that are a bright yellowy orange that you know is not Tort and when you turn it over the belly is a light cream with lap spots or crotch markings. Often there is a splotch of black on a hind leg or tail area. These animals are not showable Harlequins because they don't meet the requirements of two colors, black and orange on the four parts of the animal (head & ears, body/belly, feet & legs and tail). These animals do have value in the breeding herd if they have excellent type to outweigh their color faults. I have kept several animals with light color pattern and been happy with their ability to produce better-patterned offspring. It's a bit like keeping a Charlie broken pattern to breed to back to a heavy patterned broken and getting nice color distribution.

The amount of orange factor is also important but really isn't affected by a separate gene, but the variation is controlled by modifiers attached to the gene. Which means if light orange animals are used they produce more light orange animals. This is similar in Torts with shadings. Breeding heavily shaded animals to light shaded animals produces some of both but also animals with moderate shadings. Sometimes the best-typed animals don't have the best color but with careful selection can be improved in a generation or two. Looking at type first is always the priority.

Also there appears to be a connection between the self-gene "a" and the extension gene "e" to produce shadings. This became apparent to me through breeding Harlequins to Torts in the early stages of my Harlequin breeding program when my main concern was expanding the gene pool. When Harlequins are bred to Torts there are different outcomes depending on the parents genes. Because Torts are self "aa" with two non-extension genes "ee", the Harlequin gene "ej" is allowed to express itself because it is dominant to "e". If a Harlequin had two "ej" or homozygous then all offspring will appear Harlequin and have the genes "eje". But if the Harlequin is from a Harlequin/Tort cross and is crossed back to Tort then there is a possibility of Harlequins, Torts and Golds in the litter. The interesting thing about Torts from Harlequins is they cannot carry dominant Harlequin genes and therefore cannot produce Harlequin without another Harlequin. I like to use the analogy of blond hair parents can't produce brown haired children.

At this point I believe that a combination "A" gene for dominant agouti factor is necessary with the "eje" or "eje" genes. The reason that Torts don't work well in the breeding program is that they are a non-agouti and shaded, so when crossed to Harles the Tort passes on an "e" for the next generation. I strongly suspect that animals with a heterozygous genotype of AaB-D-eje are always shaded Harlequins.

I have done numerous test-matings for color to prove which alleles an animal carries. Keeping records is a must and I have found the Evans Rabbitry Program Deluxe version with genotypes for breeds very helpful but need more breeder requests to have a program made to include Harlequin in Black, Blue, Chocolate and Lilac, along with Golds.

In genetics there is always the possibility of an exception, which could lead to a mutation. There is also incomplete dominance, which allows a red rose and a white rose to produce pink roses instead of just more red roses. I have discovered this in mating Harlequins to Gray, which is another agouti variety. This breeding experiment produced a range of colors including Blacks, Grays, Golds and sometimes Harlequins and Grays with Black barring similar to the Harlequin pattern. I called these animals "barred agoutis", they seem to carry three alleles E,ej,e. I'm beginning to think some combination with incomplete dominance produces Steels also but need more research and just don't have the space right now.

Another variety I find very attractive is the Gold. The bright yellowy orange with light cream to white belly, eye circles and ear lacing, which are easily distinguishable from Torts. There have been theories that Golds could help brighten the orange in Torts but unfortunately I don't believe this to be possible because of the difference in agoutis and non-agouti selfs. Tort to Gold matings also produces Golds with more smut or shadings.

I have also seen Golds produced from Gray/Tort matings and Gray/Gray breedings. I have heard the term "wide-banded gray or WBG" used to describe Gold offspring from Gray/Gray matings. These tend to have more black tipped hairs even on the head as well as the body. This I can't totally explain but I suspect there must be modifiers attached to the agouti allele.

In conclusion record keeping in a big part of doing any research and I strongly recommend that breeders keep a notebook or diary. I started doing it in 4-H when the fiscal year was October 1st to September 30th. After College when I started the herd I have now, I would start a new notebook for the New Year by making a list of my animals as an inventory and then write down my goals for the upcoming year, like things I want to change, improvements, etc.

I hope this account of my color breeding experiments will help other breeders better understand color genetics in Harlequin Dutch.

BUILDING A LINE

by Kevin Hooper

You always hear people talking about line breeding. It sounds good, but what does it mean? Some of us who have been in Dutch for a long time try to line breed, but it doesn't always work. Some of you who have not been raising rabbits that long wonder what it all means?

Line breeding is just that - breeding rabbits together that are related in some way. That may mean breeding a nephew to an aunt, or cousin to cousin, even granddaughter to grandfather. The point is that once you have traits that you believe are desirable on several related animals, you try to keep those traits going within that color or group.

There can and will be problems that come up from time to time, if you go from line breeding to inbreeding (See Jill Pfaffs' article in the last DR). It is important that you keep some distant relatives to use in the line. That could be something with only 25% to 50% of your line, and the remainder from another line.

Let's look at my grays for instance. I have three herd bucks right now for about nine gray does. One herd buck is the father of five of the does, one is the father of two of the does, and one is a grandson of a doe I sold. I can now use that buck on any of the does, the first buck on four of them that are not his daughters, and the other buck on the first five does. All of these are related, but not so close as to cause inbreeding problems. By using these three bucks and rotating the herd bucks among the offspring of the other bucks, the line keeps going, and continues to produce desirable traits.

When you first start raising Dutch, you usually combine several lines ,

HERD SELECTION

by Tom Dietrich, Michigan

What to look for when selecting quality rabbits for your herd, is consistent for other livestock as well. These are the same qualities I used in purchasing racehorses as well as rabbits.

1. Confirmation - how the animal is put together. For rabbits, it refers to type. Body confirmation is harder to get and keep in your line than markings for Dutch rabbits.
2. Family/Production. Whose bloodline is it - I look for animals that have impressed me in the past to be in the pedigree. Does the pedigree show animals that can win at ARBA, state conventions or state Dutch club's shows? If not, why? Examine the whys, (the breeder might never go to these shows). If possible look at a lot of the relatives to see their good and bad points in that line.

This is a brief overview. In future articles I will analyze pedigrees and give my insight into producing that show winning animal.

which have desirable traits. When you do this, you will get the same thing as when you let volunteer plants grow in the garden. You get some that look like what the plants produced last year, some look like the one relative, some look like another. You don't know exactly what you are getting. You are in essence breeding two hybrids together, trying to get the parents, and that doesn't always work. You may get some good ones, but you get some odd ones as well.

By selecting the desirables out of these crosses, and breeding them, your Dutch should improve. The more times you do this, without inbreeding, the more consistent your line should become.

I had the Best Dutch at the NDS in 1998. I kept her and her sisters, mother and aunt as the core to my black breeding program. The problem was, none of them ended up having good mothering ability. This is one of those traits that can be picked up and passed along when line breeding. I was forced to basically start over with my blacks, and recreate a line. I have produced a few good blacks in the last few years, but the consistency was not there. Now, I am starting to see some consistency after bringing in a few from various breeders. They still aren't as good as where I want them to be, but they are improving. They key is it takestime.

Some breeders start out and the first cross they try works, and works, and works. Others never get it to work. The best way to start is to get a pair or trio from a breeder that have some common ancestry, and work from there. Your consistency will be better if you start off in this way.

NEWS FROM THE ADRC YOUTH REP

My name is Megan Kline and I am your new Youth Representative. I am 16 years old and a sophomore at New Riegel High School in New Riegel, Ohio. I have been raising Dutch rabbits for six years. I would appreciate it if you could email with reports on how the youth shows are going in your area. In Ohio we just got started on Feb. 2nd in Lima, OH 139 youth rabbits were exhibited with Katie Bickelhaupt taking BOB and Steven Stump taking BOS. We have a lot of shows coming up in Ohio and I am sure there will be big numbers of youth Dutch. I recently moved from showing in youth to open but I still am very much active with the youth breeders. I hope everyone is getting ready for the NDS in Washington, PA in April. I am sure Howard Dunmire and his crew will put on a great show! Congratulations to Adrienne and Mac Gerhart on being awarded the Ohio Youth Dutchman of the Year award! If anyone has any questions, concerns or comments please do not hesitate to write, call or email me. I am here to represent the youth of the ADRC. Good luck at your local shows and I can't wait to see everyone at the NDS!

CALIFORNIA DUTCH BREEDER MEGHAN HOOPER

When I was in third grade I told my mom I wanted to have a rabbit for my 4-H project. Everyone else in my project had Netherland Dwarf or Mini Rex. I thought I might like one of those, but my mom had a Dutch when she was young and she always liked them. She started looking for Dutch but couldn't find any near our home. We decided to go to a show in Santa Rosa and that is where I bought my first rabbit.

Raising Dutch has always been fun, but it hasn't always been easy. I bought my first Doe from Julie Toth in January 1998. She was BOB the first time I showed her, but died a month later. So we called Julie and her mother, Kathy, and made plans to visit them and buy another doe. In July we made the long trip to Arroyo Grande (5 ½ hours one way) and ended up buying a doe and a buck. Unfortunately, the doe died while kindling. But we still have the buck, and he has given me many good show rabbits.

We bought my third doe in January 1999, and she successfully had a litter that June. I kept two does and one buck from that litter. She had her second litter in December, but died right after having the babies. I came home from school and found the doe dead, one kit dead and six alive. I was still showing the does from the June litter, so we had no others due at this same time. So we called a local 4-H leader and found that one of her Californian's had three kits the day before. She was willing to move the three California kits to another doe, and put the six Dutch with the California mother. That doe raised all six, and we still have two does from that litter. I learned a lot from that experience, and now I always have more than one doe due at a time.

There are many people who have helped me with my rabbits. Julie and Kathy Toth have sold me a total of six rabbits, and they continue to be very supportive. Scott and Beau Williamson have also been very helpful, and are always willing to look at my young rabbits and help me decide whom I should keep. In 2000 I decided to start raising grays, and Fran Schettler has helped me purchase some good grays. When it comes to grays she is the first person I go to when I have questions about body type or ring color. I got my steel rabbits from Jill Giron-Lee, and she is the person I go to when I have questions about steels. These people not only give me help when I need it, but they have also become good friends. My mom has also been a big help with the rabbits. She and I work together, and she helps me feed and water when I have too much homework.

I go to approximately 15 shows each year. I find rabbit shows are very unpredictable. Some days your rabbits look great and you win a lot, and other days your rabbits have a very bad day and you DQ in every class. Don't laugh! That actually happened at a show in Dixon where I had six rabbits and they all disqualified, each for a different reason. One of my best wins was at the 2001 ARBA Convention in San Diego, where my black junior doe took first place and Best Opposite Black. In September 2002 my black junior buck got Best Reserve in Show at the Big Valley Rabbit Association Show in Stockton. I've also won many BOB awards, but I'm still working on getting a BIS.

I now have 43 Dutch that are black, blue, gray or steel. I really don't have a favorite variety. I like all of them. My parents like them because they don't tear down the fences like our cattle or chew up the fence posts like our horses. I keep them in a stall in our barn.

The hardest thing about having rabbits where I live is keeping them cool in the summer. Our summers get very hot. When I had just a few rabbits we would run fans and put large frozen soda bottles in their cages to keep them cool, but now I have too many rabbits for that to work. So we went out and bought a swamp cooler and it works great.

Last summer one day got to 112 degrees! On that day the transformer between our neighbors and us blew up about 1:20 p.m., and we didn't get our power fixed until 5:30 a.m. It was miserable. Luckily my dad came home right after our power went out and he started the generator. That evening my mom brought home pizza, and we took the small TV and pizza out to the barn and ate with the rabbits.

I plan to continue showing Dutch through high school, and maybe longer. They are wonderful animals.

OHIO YOUTH DUTCH BREEDERS Nathan & Katie Spellmire

Favorite Dutch color: Nathan – black/steel/chocolate. Katie – blue/gray.

How they got their start: Dad (assistant district mgr for USDA). Mom (& veterinarian) started an ARBA sanctioned rabbit show at our county fair in 1994. We saw some pet Mini Lops at the show and Mom gave in and bought them. It kind of snowballed from there! Mom had raised and showed Dutch in Michigan during the late 60's & early 70's. Her breeding stock came from Tony Micallef, Carl Filiator, Ray Wiley & Clyde Smith. When she came to Ohio to work, she sold them. It was here that she met and married our Dad. She thought we should try Dutch too. We bought stock from Bob Hessick, Tony Micallef, Bob Worden, Shelly Thompson & Kevin Hooper. Bob Hessick helped us by breeding our does and buy better quality bucks. Bob & Joanne Feathers of New York has helped us with tips on conditioning our show rabbits and encouragement to show at national shows.

Our greatest thrill was taking 1st place Gray doe at the 2002 NDS. At the 2002 ARBA Convention we had 2nd place Jr Chocolate doe. We purchased a Jr Tort doe at the NDS from Rachel Antonelli, and she went on to win BIS at the Putnam Co RBA show. Nathan won BOB and BOS at our local county fair with Jr blacks. The Jr doe was then named grand champion doe. This was a first ever for a Dutch ton win. We also felt much honored to be 14th in the ADRC show sweepstakes and 4th in grays and 5th in blues. Mom promises to try to get us to more shows in 2003.

What works for us in our rabbitry? We have a converted one-car garage that services as our rabbitry with stacked cages with dropping plastic pans. We have learned through trial and error on what works in regards to the effects of ventilation and lighting on the health, conditioning and reproduction of our rabbits. Once Mom finished vet school in 1999, she and Dad reworked the building. We put up ventilation vents, fans and better lighting. Additionally, Dad made a two tier outdoor cooping that has removal wire cages and dropping pans that have protection from the sun and rain. Nathan also made a 6 ft by 2 ft moveable wire pen that we use to give some outdoor time on grass for the show bunnies. It helps their attitudes and build up the hindquarters.

To get our rabbits ready for show we do things long before the show. We start culling mismarked bunnies for pets as soon as they start eating on their own. The show bunnies are weaned at 8 – 10 weeks, tattooed and put into group pens by sex. When space allows, we move them into individual cages especially the bucks. We check for DQ's and faults and cull again. Katie is constantly handling and playing with the bunnies. WE feed Purina Advanced Show formula and also feed a conditioner that Mom makes up in bulk. Two weeks prior to a show, Katie and Nathan practice posing, check for DQ's, trim nails, and check for stains, groom, and check teeth and hind legs. We get the show cards and entry forms ready (the new computer program is great). The truck gets loaded and we are off to another show and exciting wins!

Nathan is an honor roll freshman and is very active in sports - primarily football, weight lifting and baseball. He is currently serving as treasurer of his 4-H electrical club & Auglaize Co RBA club's rabbit king with Rachel Paul serving as Queen. Even though he is very busy, he still manages to make a few late summer shows and the local fair.

Katie is a straight A honor roll student and is active in basketball, plays trombone in the band, 4-H and showing and training her Quarter Horse mare and filly. She recently won the Holy Rosary School Geography Bee sponsored by the National Geographic Soc. She makes the time to show her favorite blues and gray Dutch. She still has her Mini Lops too!

We really enjoyed showing our Dutch rabbits have had made some really good friends; Rachel & Maddy Paul, Danny & Cody Lape and Rebekah Bogan. You just can't beat the Dutch! We're looking forward to attending the NDS and maybe the 2003 ARBA Convention in Wichita, Kansas.

WISCONSIN RABBIT BREEDER
Warren Wiltman

I had my first Dutch rabbit more than 35 years ago when I was in 4-H. A friend gave it to me. After loosing interest during my high school years, I did not have any rabbits until years later when my sons decided to show rabbits in 4-H. We had a number of different breeds over the years and one of those of course was Dutch. I really don't remember where our first Dutch came from, but in the early to mid 90's we went to visit a guy named Roger Guetschow. I thought I would buy a couple of Dutch to improve the ones we had. If I remember correctly, we ended up borrowing a carrier to get the rest of them home.

A few years later my sons began to loose interest much like I did when I was younger. So in the late 90's I made the decision to show the rabbits myself. By the time 2001 rolled around I had gotten rid of the other breeders we had and went exclusively Dutch. My hobby of just raising rabbits had now gone to the overwhelming obsession of trying to breed the perfect Dutch. Over the past six years I have bought Dutch from many different breeders, but most of my stock still goes back to those rabbits I bought from that Roger guy.

Last year I kept about 20 breeding does. By the end of this year I will be up to about 40. Most of this increase will be due to my increased interest in all six colors, but I still don't think anything is more striking than a good black Dutch.

I raise my rabbits in a building that resembles a mink shed with a ground floor. The sides are covered and very little light gets in. This seems to work very well for me. Over the years it seems the darker the shed got, the less breeding problems I had. All the rabbits are raised on wire and I use wooden nest boxes with pine shavings. Their diet consists of Pen Pals pellets, Doc's Enhancer, occasionally hay, and of course softened water. I believe in the soft water because it promotes the intake of more water and all my animals seem to do better. I have tried many things over the years as far as cooping and breeding practices. I have learned two things; never be afraid to try new things and nothing will ever work for you exactly the same way it works for someone else.

I do very little with my rabbits when they go to a show. Most of the times I just check if their nails need clipping and make sure they are in good health. Once in a while I will comb a little or tackle urine stained rabbits. I believe in keeping their pens as clean as possible, and the rest is up to them.

Besides just the rabbits, I raise miniature donkeys, pigmy goats, pigeons, pheasants, peacocks, guineas and a variety of bantams. With my oldest son Michael getting married this year and me getting older, I am sure this list of critters will start to dwindle. I have stayed active in 4-H over the years too. Currently I am president of our county poultry and rabbit committee, vice-president of the 4-H leaders board, and belong to a number of small animal clubs.

The show season in Wisconsin is just getting started again. I still have not seen the perfect Dutch pop out of any nest boxes, but I am ready to go. There are only about a dozen or so shows here in Wisconsin and you hate to miss any of them. I am planning on going to Pennsylvania in April. I've only been to a few NDS so far and always had a good time.

Dutch people are some of the best around.

NEWS FROM JILL

Greetings from Oregon! After nearly 30 years in ADRC I'm taking my turn as a director stepping into take Briony Barnes position now that she is taking up residency in Arkansas. I look forward to hearing from District 3 member and reporting their news.

We have had a quiet winter show schedule here and the shows are generally spread out. The last show I was able to attend was Thanksgiving in Corvallis (home of the Oregon State University Beavers). There were about 70 Dutch shown and BOB both shows went to Pete & Debra Nelsen who traveled down from the Seattle area (a good 4 hours away). I was happy to see several new faces to encourage as Dutch breeders.

It was great seeing everyone in Peoria at the ARBA Convention and cheering on my good friend Rick Lehmann. What a fabulous rabbit that "Percy" is and a real treat to run your hands over. My presentation of the Harlequin Dutch was a bit disappointing as two of my bucks were disqualified for alleged white spots. I plan to continue my breeding program and focus on breeder education of rabbit color genetics. Breeding rabbits is like a living experiment and there is a lot to be learned.

Over the last few years, I have become concerned with the lack of uniformity of the Steel variety and the direction it is going. I don't believe they would be accepted as a new variety if presented today. As a member of the ADRC Standards Committee, I hope that the current standard for Steels will be clarified. I found the articles written for the last Dutch Guide Book on Steel disturbing because there did not seem to be continuity in breeding Steels. There are other breeders like myself that are interested in other non-recognized varieties but it is hard to add new ones when we still have problems with some of the recognized varieties.

Well I'm starting to have a case of "rabbit show fever" and look forward to the spring shows starting in March. Hope all of your next boxes are full for the upcoming show season.

Sincerely yours in Dutch,

Jill Pfaff District Three EaglePoint, Oregon

NEWS FROM RAY

Dear friends,

I don't have much to report as I've been off the show trail for what seems a very long time. I did get to judge the Georgia National Show at Perry last weekend. Lots of nice rabbits, but few if any Dutch in the open shows. A different story on the youth side. A nice turnout there! My grandson continued his great string of wins with BIS in both youth shows. Over his past six shows he has racked up 5 BIS's and one Best Reserve. Not too bad for a beginner. There for a while it looked as if I would not be able to judge at the Dutch Nationals. My health issues continue to improve and I feel confident that I'll be able to be there! I look forward to seeing old friends and making a few new ones.
