President's MESSAGE

It has been a hot, dry summer throughout most of the country this year. I have not heard of anyone losing any rabbits, but I'm sure it has. I know many I have talked to have not bred anything since the temperatures have soared. (See more on this in my article on various subjects.)

I need your input on a couple of items. What would the membership think of either adding your email address to our membership list that is published in the first issue of the DR each year? Email is an easy way to contact each other - much easier than trying to reach someone by phone.

The other question; Would you like to see a different style of cover on the DR? We could go to a color cover similar to the Domestic Rabbits. What do you think. Any other suggestions for improving the DR? (other than keeping it on schedule).

The ARBA Convention will be history by the time you read this. This will have been a different experience for me. This will be the first ARBA Convention that I have been to that I have not been able to show (I was one of the open judges). It is hard to imagine arriving at the show and not having to write coop numbers in ears, coop and care for the rabbits, and not being able to walk down the aisles of Dutch until the judging is complete. Sounds like an opportunity to look at other breeds, the youth Dutch, and work the Dutch booth.

The ADRC Guidebook was sent out in July. I hope you find it helpful in learning more on the Dutch breed. I thank all of those members who contributed articles and ads for the book. There were a couple of screw-ups. The first was that the old Standard was put in the issue. (Evident by the Gray still being called the Brown-Gray). Also, the printer labeled the varieties and used the common spelling for Gray (Grey).

The other error was on the 2000 ARBA Convention Best of Breed Youth. That was listed as being won by Emily Smith. This was incorrect. The winner with a nice Tort Sr Doe was Kelly Slack. This was listed incorrectly in the DR after the Convention in the show report, and that is from where the results were compiled. Sorry for the errors.

The 2003 NDS will be here before you know it. The Washington County PA RBA, will be putting the show together. They can use your help. All expenses are not covered by entry fees alone. Your donations and contributions are what makes the NDS possible. It doesn't take much from any one person, but a little from a lot of people really adds up. Donations from members are usually used for all of the awards. Don't complain about the awards, if you don't donate. Several years ago, we received several complaints that the youth awards were not equal (in number) with those of the open. Well, the youth breeders had not donated much. We can only offer what we are given. Thanks in advance for your help.

All ideas for the betterment of the ADRC are welcome.

DISTRICT ONE REPORTS

NEWS FROM RAY

Things usually quiet down in the South during the summer. That certainly has not been the case this year. Seems like if there is not a show or other event locally, then we are off to another part of the country to judge! Don't get me wrong, Margie and I love to travel, there's just this long list of things I need to do here at Brewer Family Farm! And, the Convention is just around the corner! Speaking of convention, I'm looking forward to a great time in Peoria! We have a just few weeks to put some condition on those animals that we've selected to show. I'm sure there are going to be some great Dutch in Illinois. So, we are going to strive to be ready.

Hey, I have been reading with great interest my new addition of the Dutch Guidebook. There are a lot of super articles within those pages. Our Guidebook ranks among the best in style, presentation, and content. All who were involved in this project are to be commended!

SOUTH CAROLINA

A rabbit show in July in South Carolina? Oh yes, it can be done - if you have air conditioning. This year's Fire Cracker Challenge was held on July 6 in Saluda, SC. We had a couple of young fellows; ARBA Director Erik Bengtson and Josh Humphries(TN), for our primary judges. They did a super job and it was great to have Erik down here for the first time. I was a little disappointed in the Dutch turnout, but we had some nice animals shown. OK, it was a Holland Sweep with that breed taking BIS in both open shows and the Youth Show. The Brewers and the Mullinax's divided the BOB Dutch honors with Fred and Kathy's super black Sr. doe taking Best Reserve in the second show. The Charleston Fancy RBA's "Almost Midnight" Show was held on Aug. 3. Again, Dutch faired quite well with Jessie Ray (SC) winning Best Reserve (Youth) with a nice Blue.

ALSO IN SOUTH CAROLINA

A group of Holland, Dwarf, Dutch, Mini-Rex and Jersey breeders are getting together on Nov. 9, to put on a show in Spartanburg, SC. For info, contact Susan Smith at naturesnook@earthlink.net or 828-586-9698. This event promises to be a fun time of competition and fellowship.

PENNSYLVANIA

Thanks to Sue Toth for sending me this report: Washington County, Pennsylvania - is VERY proud to have been selected as the host of the 2003 National Dutch Show! Committee members have some great works in the plans including showing off the new exhibit/banquet hall at their fairgrounds. If you would like information, or a catalog when they become available, please contact Sue Toth, Show Secretary, at 179 Clinton Avenue, Monongahela, PA 15063; or toths@att.net. The show headquarters motel is filling up fast so get your reservations made at the Comfort Inn, Meadowlands, Pa. (ask for the National Dutch Show room rate). The Washington County Rabbit Breeders Association is anxious and excited to be the host of the show - they're also proud to have selected a very reputable slate of judges, including our ARBA President Chris Hayhow and ARBA District 9 Representative, Ray Brewer!

Next April I'm scheduled to judge 3 National shows (Lops, Dwarfs and Dutch). Being asked to judge any National Show is an honor. Being asked to judge the Dutch National is very special indeed!

Please send me anything you think that might be of interest to Dutch Breeders. I really enjoy seeing those stories that come in from time to time about those unselfish breeders who are tirelessly promoting our breed. If you know of someone who's done something that deserves to be acknowledged - send me the details. No good deed should go unnoticed. Keep those random acts of kindness flowing!

NEWS FROM RICK B.

Hello to everyone and I hope your rabbits survived the hot dry summer. I find myself writing this report while on vacation with Julie and Rachael during the last week of August. Both are still sleeping while I look at the stars and listen to the waves roll onto the beach, waiting for daylight so I can take my morning stroll. Old habits are hard to break and I forgot to shut of my internal alarm clock. This is our first family vacation with Rachael and our second vacation in our eleven years of marriage. For some reason Julie doesn't count the ARBA Convention as a vacation, I wonder why?

I haven't been able to attend many of the fair shows this year so I am looking forward to the fall season starting up. Congratulations to Danny and Cody Lape for having BOB at the Ohio State Fair in the Youth Show. The Ohio State Dutch Fall Show will be held on the Saturday of Thanksgiving week with Erik Bengtson and Bruce Ormsby judging. Mark your calendars to attend this fun event and call or write Vicki Bogan, Kevin Hooper or myself for additional show information.

I received my election/ballot information in the mail last week and it was disappointing. I knew that we had only two resumes printed in our last issues of the Dutch Reporter but to receive a ballot that requires no response is scary. Either our membership is happy with the current selection of officers, afraid to run for office or want to stand on the sidelines and do nothing. This club is for the entire membership and I would like to encourage anyone and everyone to get involved by running for office or asking to be on a committee. We have several committees that require no election, just someone willing and eager to chip in. I hope are membership is happy with the current officers but will start taking an active roll by running for office. It would be fun to see eight to ten ballots in next year's issue of the Dutch Reporter.

This year's ARBA Convention will be upon us or over by the time you receive this issue. Unfortunately, Julie and I will not be able to attend but wish we were there. I know the Peoria Convention should be well attended with a large Dutch entry. Just a reminder, the Publicity Department was only able to secure one booth due to the restrictions at this year's convention and will be unable to provide a hospitality area.

The Harlequin Dutch will make their first presentation at this year's ARBA Convention, good luck to Jill and her group. It takes a lot of time and sacrifice for someone to work on a new variety and to stay with that commitment as Jill has over the past several years. We as members to need analysis all new varieties and decided several things:

- a) How do they improve or compliment our current six varieties?
- b) What are the results of breeding this variety with current ones or should they be? Positives and negatives of either.
- c) Has their been enough education to make these decisions?

This is enough for now, the sun is up and it's time to hit the beach before everyone wakes up. Good luck at convention!

DISTRICT TWO REPORTS

NEWS FROM SUE

We are winding down here in the midwest after a pretty hot summer that took its toll on rabbit fur.

Hopefully, as the fall shows start, there will be some animals out there that still have some. How in the world do you guys do it that live in hot climates year 'round?

Minnesota and Michigan have had some strong showings in Dutch at the later spring shows. Look forward to a good fall representation by everyone. With next years ARBA convention being hosted in KS, perhaps those that have not been able to travel the distance to a convention before will be able to join us then. Here in Wisconsin, we had a gorgeous Black Dutch Doe owned by Warren Wiltman win Best in Show for our State Fair. She and her owner should be in Peoria for this years ARBA Nationals to give everyone a run for the top awards.

While reading through the show reports in the last DR, I noticed that several reported winners were apparently the same person; Non Member. He or she must drive quite a bit as they turn out all over the country, sometimes attending two shows being on the same day.

Seriously, if those in our club who regularly show would be willing to have these non members check out our website, which is packed with good information, or contact a director, we may be able to persuade them to join our Dutch family. Invite them to attend a convention or a NDS to see how their show and friends horizon may be broadened. I always carry a spare subscription blank to give to someone who may be thinking of joining. This way, it makes it easy for them to sit down and actually fill it out.

Speaking of conventions, by the time you receive this report, Peoria will be upon us. The last time this group ran the ARBA convention, it was quite a bit of fun ( how can a convention not be??). I remember going out with a bunch of friends to a superb steak house not far from the convention center and laughing away the evening. We will be limited in space with our hospitality booth but we'll still have the great merchandise with our Dutch logo. Come have some cheese and visit with the rest of the bunch. It's one of the few times a year when we can talk rabbits until we're actually weary of it. By the end of it, we share hugs and promise to see one another at the next one.

And this leads me to my final comment. We recently lost a friend in the rabbit world who judged our Dutch from time to time. Harry Boots III from IA, died the first part of August of a massive heart attack. I see while looking over the reports that Harry had judged at various shows. For those of you who knew him, you were aware of his gentle nature and kind spirit.

While he was nationally known for raising some killer Mini Rex and Polish, he was locally known for always flashing his smile or getting those around him to chuckle when he started in with his trademark laugh. It's important to value what others bring into your lives while they are with us and not only when they are gone. Perhaps at your next show you can tell someone you've learn from or have enjoyed years of showing with just how much you look forward to that next time.

Best wishes for the fall shows~

NEWS FROM DAWN

Hi Fellow Dutch Breeders,

The Illinois Rabbit Breeders have been busy putting all of the last minute touches on this years ARBA Convention. We hope that we have thought of even the smallest of details so we can have another successful convention. By the time you read this, I'm sure the convention will have been history. I hope all that attended had a wonderful time.

The numbers of Dutch being shown in our are always seems to go up & down. No rhyme or reason. Dan &

I laid low all summer & didn't attend any shows. We attended our first show in Bloomington, IL the last weekend of August. The numbers seemed to be quite healthy. This show always seems to have a good entry, as it is really the first show for the Fall season. However this year Mother Nature decided to let us know that it was still Summer, it was very WARM! I think we're all looking forward to those COOLER Fall shows.

That's All For Now!

IN MEMORY

Just A Few words to let you know Willard Morris of Lake View, Ohio died July 20 at the age of 91. He had been Dutch Club Publicity at one time. I did not look up the dates. He has not been a member since the Detroit ARBA Conv. He was active with Ohio Dutch Club and a life member.

We saw a lot of our country together with our Dutch.

*Jack Wireman
of Jack's Bunnies, but I have no rabbits now.*

Illinois Dutch Breeder Jorri Rawailot passed away just before the Peoria Convention. He and his wife Cindy attended many rabbit shows and loved Dutch rabbits. He was 41 years old. He will be missed by many. I remember meeting him at the Peoria Convention a few years ago - and he took many lovely pictures that he submitted to the Dutch Reporter.

DUTCH TOPICS

by Kevin Hooper

Some thoughts that I have regarding the topic of Blue color that was talked about in the last DR. Our Standard does call for a medium blue. However, the question is how do we get, and keep the medium blue color.

Have you ever had a problem with all of your blues being too dark? Have you ever used light blues in your breeding program? I have seen some blues that were too dark - nearly black in color, but these have been few and far between. How many very dark blues do you see at shows? or in your Dutch?

On the other hand how many light blues have you seen on the show table?

I see quite a few light blues. I have also seen and used them in the breeding program. This is what I have found. The lighter blues are a very hard thing to eliminate. They will throw a more silvery appearance as well.

The darker blues do not throw light blues, but will throw blues who are lighter than they are..... medium blues. Light blues produce mostly light blues, unless bred to a very dark blue.

The easiest way to produce good blue color is by breeding medium blues to medium blues, with an occasional darker blue thrown in.

It used to be said by the old timers when I was starting out, that the blues will lighten over time. That is why they said to breed blacks into them. I may not agree with breeding blacks into blues, but it was the reason that I wanted to mention.

The other thing I wanted to mention. Most breeders think that the older bucks go sterile in the summer. Well, we had about 20 days of low to mid nineties the first three weeks of July. I was looking over my torts, and decided that I needed to shorten the mid section on some of my tort does. I thought about which tort buck would be the best to use, and the answer was the "Old Man", as most breeders who know this buck have called him. The Old Man is my old tort buck (KT139) who was an outstanding show animal for 5-6 years. He has been called Old Man since he was about three years old. He is now 8 1/2 years old.

I bred a doe to him (3rd time I had tried) on July 20th. I was surprised when I palpated the doe at 14 days and found that she was indeed pregnant. I then decided to breed two more does to him. One doe is due in 12 days, while the other was just re bred.

The Old Man does not have the stamina to chase the doe around the pen and then breed her. He will breed her if she is not running from her. I was amazed that the first doe conceived! Surprised that the second doe did, and hoping the third one does. The first doe has a litter of four, three being keepers, which are now 15 days old.

Do the older bucks really go sterile in hot weather, or when they get older? That has always been the theory, but is it that if a doe misses when bred in hot weather, do we assume it is the fault of the buck? Is that true, or is the Old Man a freak?

Any thoughts on these two subjects are appreciated.

TURNING THE WORLD OF CULLING UPSIDE DOWN

JUDGE: Ray Brewer

Most veteran breeders adhere to the philosophy that type is the most important criteria when culling young rabbits - even the marked varieties like our Dutch. As far as type goes, I consider overall balance to be the most important aspect - the proper relationship between length, width and depth. The true purpose for this article; however, is not defining good type, but to present a slightly different method for evaluating desirable type attributes- something that you may want to incorporate into your culling practices.

The Dutch breed has been cursed with a propensity towards serious type faults: pinched hindquarters (V-shaped butts) and cow-hocks (rear feet that turn out). These problems, though bad enough on their own, often go hand-in-hand with flatness on top of the hips - a lack of depth. Where did these type problems originate? One theory links them to crossbreeding. Over the years breeders have tried lots of things to improve the shape of heads and to shorten ears, including crossing Dutch with other breeds - Polish in the 1960's and Netherland Dwarfs later. This whole dwarf gene thing is extremely undesirable in Dutch! Not only does it induce fine bone and reduce the size of your animals, it causes your average litter size to go way down. I raised Dutch as a teenager in the 60's and saw some of those early experiments with the Polish crosses. They were cute little things (little equals fine boned) and often placed high on the show table. That's sad, because, there is still a cult out there, including some judges, who prefer the "Toy" Dutch. Many of you have heard the stories being told about particular juniors who continue to win year, after year as JUNIORS. Our standard states that 4 ½ pounds is the ideal weight for a Dutch. And, if everything is in balance - 4 ½ pounds is indeed the ideal size for a Dutch! I used to tell folks that I thought the best typed Dutch were the ones that weighed 4 pounds. I disproved my own hypothesis at the 1995 ARBA convention when I weighed the top five animals of the senior classes that I had judged. They were all within an ounce or two of four and a half pounds not four! Judges are cautioned to weigh any suspect, small seniors and to question any junior who appears fully developed.

After short hiatus, I came back to rabbit raising in the late 70's. I spent the first two or three years trying to develop a picture of perfect Dutch type in my mind's eye. OK, I had the Dutch Reporter and the guidebook to go by. What I didn't have was much interaction with veteran breeders. That all changed when I met Lowell Jones in 1981. After talking with Lowell and studying some of his stock, my mental image of the perfectly typed Dutch began to come into focus. Three attributes: round heads, straight hocks and depth that equaled width were goals set by Lowell. His goals became my goals - not one or two - but all three together.

As my quest continued, I was forever turning Dutch bunnies over to check the straightness of their hocks - up for depth and over for hocks. My analysis of the inverted bunny has evolved over the years to point that now it not only includes looking for parallel rear feet set wide apart, but also checking the length and width of those rear feet, the placement of the front feet, and the taper from head to tail. There's a lot to be learned about the correctness of a rabbit's structure (bone) from the view from underneath! (My wife uses a similar process to check the bone of her Holland Lops.)

I have included a photo of a young doe that comes extremely close to my goals for Dutch type. Notice how far apart and straight her rear feet are. Also notice how short and wide those rear feet appear (good bone). Next, check the placement of the front feet; also set wide apart and coming straight out from her shoulders. Now look at the taper from her head through to her hips. The key words for taper are gradual and smooth! You really don't need to see any more to determine that this rabbit has many outstanding type attributes. I've also included a side view of the same rabbit so you can see that she indeed does have good type from this aspect as well (rounded top line and depth).

To get your rabbit to give you the best view underneath, start with the bunny held firmly against your midsection, vertically in the proper pose. Then, gently roll the bunny forward keeping her in the "pose" similar to the way good Dutch judges check the undercut. Use both hands and don't allow her to stretch out. Voila! You have the proper inverted pose. Now, go turn your culling world upside down!

Dear Friends,

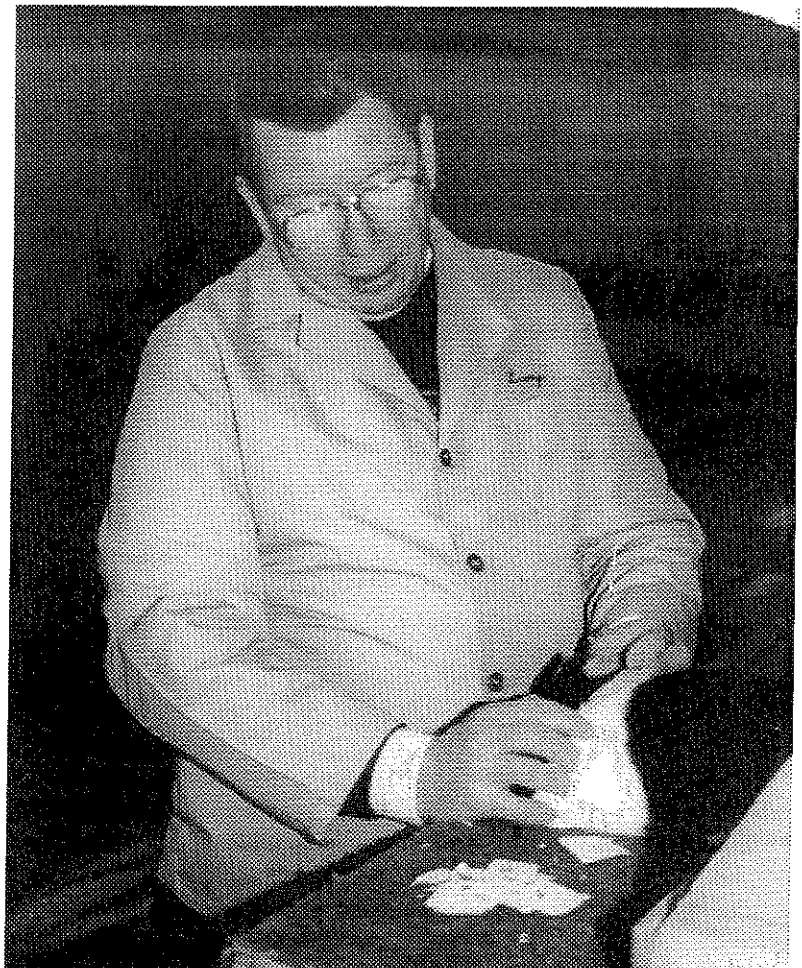

I have started and stopped this message so many times that I have lost count. It has been a difficult couple of months here in Lewiston. My 94 year old Mother passed away on Memorial Day. She had only been ill for a short time, but we were glad that she didn't have to suffer for a longer period of time. We buried her early in June and have spent the summer taking care of all her affairs and house. Our son Neil will be moving into the Rau family home, so we won't have to break the ties to the property. Our family (Dad, Mom, Tom, Renee and I built the house and barn that stands on that property. I raised Quarter Horses, Rabbits, Geese, Cattle, Bees, and other things along with our parents. Although it was not the home that I grew up in, we had lived there for quite a while.

Along with the all the other changes, my dear Husband, Larry entered a local nursing home on July 10. It is an unbelievably difficult decision to cut ties that have existed since 1968. He and I and the children are Working at adjusting to the new arrangement. Our journey took an unexpected turn in 1992 when Larry mentioned to me that he felt like he was "losing it." We had a brain scan done at the local hospital and it did not show any problem. However, the problems did continue and we finally ended up at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester where the diagnosis indicated impending dementia. It has been a long and difficult journey, and although it is not over, our travel has changed. I continue to stop almost every day to spend time with him and I did take some address labels along to the Convention in Peoria for the use of any of our Dutch family that wanted to send him a card. If any of you would like to send him mail, the address is:

Larry Bengtson
Maple Manor Nursing Home
1875 19th St NW
Rochester, MN 55901

He enjoys opening mail and would appreciate the thought. He always loved Dutch and Dutch people more than anything in this world. Thanks to all of you for your kindness and friendship over the years.

Doreen Bengtson
Lewiston, Minnesota

Larry Bengtson judging at the 1996 NDS
