President's MESSAGE

I hope your Dutch have fared well in this summer's heat. I feel for those of you who have been baking in the 100 degree heat. We rarely have to deal with those high of temperatures, but we do get the high humidity.

Those of you who have tried to e-mail me, my e-mail address in the last DR was incorrect. It has been corrected now.

We have computer programmer working on our sweepstakes program, which if it goes according to plan, should be on line to start the 1999 sweepstakes year. This program will be capable of calculating variety points, Quality Points (Best In Show, 4 class, BOB, and BOS. This will enable us to pick rabbit of the year based on its' show record. We are also having a secretaries program developed to fit the position's needs. It will speed up the processing of sanction information, allow for computer communication between the secretary, and our sweepstakes chair. Our secretary puts in a bunch of time through the year processing not only 700 or so memberships, but around 1400 sanction requests. This is an investment that will improve the efficiency of the secretary and our sweepstakes person. We have had a nice computer donated for our sweepstakes chair to use. We may have to look at replacing the club's computer as it does not have the capacity to do what our program will allow. The clubs' current system was purchased in 1993, and at the time was pretty modern.

The ARBA Convention is rapidly approaching, and may be here before this issue reaches you. Those of you who will be attending, give the Northwest crew a hand. This is no small job, and they don't have many experienced members to run the show. I will not be attending, but I may be sending some Dutch.

I have been made aware of something that I want to bring in front of the membership. The reason I do so is because this is the type of thing, if left unchecked, could slow or destroy the progress that we have been making in the ADRC. There are a few who supposedly have the impression that the Ohio State Dutch Club is running the ADRC. Those who have this impression are not always, or may have never been to the NDS, and ARBA Convention, nor are they very active in the club. This impression is dead wrong! Yes, I am also the President of the Ohio State Dutch Club, and one of our Directors, Todd Uran, is the Ohio Dutch's Vice-President. When I was elected President, the first thing I did was to appoint someone to replace me as Director of District 1. I wanted someone in this position who was visible, would represent the ADRC well, and would be an asset to the Board. This was an obvious choice, Todd Uran. I also had to appoint someone to another District 1 position as no one ran for the vacant seat. Here it was an obvious choice in Martin Preede of New Jersey. All other officers have been duly elected. The only other appointments that have been made are committee chairman for various committees. They are from; Iowa, Michigan, California, Kansas and Indiana. Last year, we were looking for someone to head up the development of our next Guidebook, and Todd Uran volunteered for this at one of our semi-annual Board meetings. When looking for people to do jobs for the ADRC, I look for reliability, experience, and someone who will work for the betterment of the Dutch rabbit, and the ADRC! I could care less where they're from. Those who have this impression, should realize that it takes a lot of work from a lot of members to get as many things done as we do. If some of our leaders of the ADRC like to contribute a lot of time and energy to the club, then I'm all for it, regardless of whether they are members of the Ohio Dutch, Upper Midwest, Kansas Dutch, or the California Dutch Club. If you want to contribute to the ADRC or its leadership, contribute to the DR, help at the big shows, or run for office. Petty griping about things that you only think, but do not know, are not in the best interests of the ADRC!

The Publicity Committee will be looking at having a Dutch Poster made this next year. This would have all of the varieties color pictures, and possibly views of the Dutch form underneath, as well as close ups of proper tort shading, Gray ring color, depth of color on blacks blues and chocolates, and good steel color. The Mini-Rex club has something similar that looks great.

We will be working on the new Guide Book in the next year, which should be out early in 2000. More will be coming your way on this.

DISCLAIMER

Articles, statements, and opinions printed or expressed in the DR may not be those of the ADRC or the editor and are solely the responsibility of the authors.

There may be more Dutch specialty clubs in the country now than ever before. This past year has seen the formation of the All Southern Dutch Club, The Louisiana Dutch Club, The Missouri Dutch Club, and now there is a new Dutch Specialty Club in Florida. It is great to see the interest in our Dutch Rabbit at such a high level. Lets work to keep that interest by making good breeding stock available to our new members. We all like to win, but what good is winning if there is no competition.

I hope you took the time to vote for the judges for our future National Dutch Shows and the ARBA Conventions. Those of you in District three should have also nominated a person for Director. (We had no one submit a petition for Director of District three, so one will be appointed by the end of the year). Your write in votes will give an indication of who should represent you in District 3. We could use a representative in the Northwest.

What would you like to see the ADRC working on or implementing? Your input helps us guide the organization. We welcome new ideas, as those of us who have been doing this for a while may have used up all of our good ideas.

Sec/Treas MESSAGE

Dear Friends, Have you received your ballot? This is the first time with our new voting procedure. Ballots went out early in August and I have heard from many of our members saying that the delivery has been very fast. It should make it easy for you to make your opinions known and get them into the election committee. Every member (adult) should have received a directors (non) ballot and a judges final ballot and nomination ballot. Included in the packet was a ballot envelope and an addressed outer envelope. It was the goal of this change to make the voting process so simple that you couldn't not vote. I do hope that was the case and all of you grabbed those materials, marked your choices and dropped them into the next mail. If you didn't, could you tell us if there is anything that we could do to motivate you? Please look for the ballot results in the Oct/Nov/Dec Dutch Reporter. And while I am on the subject of voting, THANK YOU to the hard working election committee in Michigan headed by Tom Dietrich. If you noted any errors, or you did not receive a ballot, please let me know so that we can track the error and correct it.

Member pins are now being mailed to members that have been "in" the ADRC for 5 years or more. If you feel that you are entitled to a pin and you do not receive yours when you renew your membership I would be glad to check and see if we can re-create the history of your membership. It is now standard procedure to include your membership joining year in the lower right hand corner of each membership card. I know that we have many Life members of the ADRC and will get to mailing those pins out as time permits.

Each year we have two large events in the ADRC that require many hours of volunteer time. Those being the National Dutch Show and the ARBA Convention. If you have been involved in producing one of those events you know how much it takes to get results. I am asking you, please, if you would try to adhere to the deadlines set for these activities and respond on time as much as possible. I know that I am one of those people who sometimes gets there a little later than I should and I will try very hard to change my ways and hope that I can motivate some of you to do the same.

I am hearing of lots of new Dutch Specialty Local groups forming. It used to be that the ARBA required the parent club to approve the chartering of local clubs. Apparently that is no longer a requirement and consequently the ADRC secretary's office isn't always aware of the local clubs. The publicity committee has spent time working on a sheet with the local club information and I would encourage you to let us know who you are and I will be happy to send the information out to new ADRC members who may be in the market for breeding stock or just some Dutch connections. And while I am discussing local groups, I noted as I proof read some of the articles this time for the Dutch Reporter that we are printing names of people who are not members of the ADRC. Now, I am not against doing that, but I can't help but wonder why those individuals are not members. Maybe they just haven't been approached?

It is coming close to Hall of Fame nomination time again. Forms are available from this office, this issue of the Dutch Reporter, and at the ARBA Convention in Portland. Ask for one and give the committee some people to consider for Hall of Fame 1999.

You have probably noted that we are no longer printing your expiration date on your DR mailing label. It was requested that we stop doing this at the Post Office. From now on, please check your membership card for your expiration date. Thanks.

We are sitting on the edges of our chairs awaiting the now being developed computer program that is going to make the ADRC a high tech operation. Work is progressing and we will let you know more details as they develop.

Check this Dutch Reporter for information about the 1999 National Dutch Show, and I hope to see you in Portland.

DISTRICT TWO REPORTS

NEWS FROM SHARON

We've had our fill of litters this year, so have really slowed down on the breeding. We hope to get some bred in the fall for Oshkosh.

We had one breeder in this area who has hardly raised a live litter this summer. We just broke the record in Waterloo for the driest July ever. You can tell where the weeds are in the lawn as they are the only thing green. The rabbits are doing fine but some have had to be moved into the house a couple of times due to the heat. It is hard to write any tips on winter breeding at this time of year. We cheat by bringing our rabbits into the basement during the winter to have their babies. They come in about 2 days before they are due. If they miss, then they are usually really willing to breed back, after being in the warm house. We just keep breeding all of them because most of them will miss.

We had our first litter of Harlequin Dutch this summer and are hoping we get to have an A.O.V. class at Oshkosh.

We won't be attending the convention in Oregon so we are looking forward to spring already. We are hoping to attend the Illinois state convention, which is a cooped show with a double Dutch show that weekend, in September. Then on October 24th we have our double Dutch show at the Iowa state convention, in Des Moines. No pre-entry. Don Dowd usually gets us some really fantastic awards for the Iowa State Dutch show. He keeps them a surprise until the day of the show, but last year for Best of Breed there was a clock with a Dutch hand painted on it. Our other plans to make up for not going to the A.R.B.A. convention, are to maybe go to the Missouri State convention. This is also a cooped, pre-entry show. Usually lots of fun. Hope to see some of you at these shows.

DISTRICT THREE REPORTS

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

by Fran Schettler, Calif.

There haven't been too many shows, other than fairs, going on here in California this summer. We did have one weekend in July where you could drive to Nevada for a double show on Saturday and then drive to the coast for a double show on Sunday in Watsonville (near Santa Cruz). Actually, I think our show rabbits were the lucky ones that weekend because they got air conditioning on Saturday and the coastal coolness on Sunday, while the home bunnies heated up in a 105 degree heat wave.

Probably the biggest news, other than the fast approaching ARBA Convention in Portland, is that we have a new Dutch club forming here in Northern California. The Double Dutch Club is organizing to serve the regional needs of the northern California Dutch breeders as well as Dutch breeders from Nevada. I understand that they will sponsor some Dutch specialty shows, possibly in Gridley and Red Bluff, and I am sure many other locations are being considered as well. California is so large that it is hard for one club to serve the whole state. The Secretary for the new club is Kimra Balliet, Box 1711, Diamond Springs, CA 95619 for anyone interested in getting membership information.

I hope to see all of you at Portland in October! Stan Burke of Nevada is looking for someone with a motel reservation who would be interested in sharing their room. He reports that an Amway convention has taken up many of the rooms that had been set aside for the rabbit show, and he can't find a room any where, but would really love to go. I don't have his phone number with me here at work, so, if you don't have his number but have a room to share, contact me at 925-838-8036 evenings.

NEWS FROM BRIONY

Hi Dutch Breeders! I hope the summer has been a little nicer your way. It was in the 100's here for about three weeks straight and now raining almost daily. I don't have much news to report, since like last time I only got news from one source. This issue's Director Friendly Award goes to Pete and Debra Nelsen with the Northwest Dutch Club. I received one of their newsletters in the mail. Wow, state clubs, what a neat idea! (hint, hint). Their "Nothing but Dutch" show was held this summer. In open there were 88 shown (!!). BOB went to Lloyd Gregg with a Black Jr Doe and BOS to Jan and Russ Coffelt with a Brown Gray Jr Buck. There were 27 shown in Youth. Bob went to April Hegland with a Black Sr Doe and Dorothy Ann Johnson's Chocolate Sr Buck won BOS. Congratulations! Also a big congrats to new "Grandma & Grandpa" Pete and Debra.

The Kansas Dutch Club held their second annual picnic show at Hederstedt's in Salina. Open BOB went to Earl and Teresa Bogart with a Black and BOS to Marvin and Marjorie Cole's Tort. Youth was won by John Gardner with his Brown Gray Jr Doe and BOS went to a Blue Jr Buck of Emily Hederstedts. A week later was the Sunflower Night Show in my hometown. The judge's conference started well but was interrupted when hail on the roof made it too noisy to hear. In a few minutes everyone was headed across the street to the police office in drenching rain. Someone spotted a tornado a few mile south but it didn't last long and soon we were back in the showroom dripping on the floor.

After all the excitement the show ran well. Youth BOB was awarded to Alan Kennedy's Black Jr Doe and Opposite to my Blue Jr Buck (first homebred blue winner!). In Open BOB and BOS went to Bob and Char Bergene with a Black Sr Buck and Blue Sr Doe.

Hopefully everyone is making plans to be in Portland. When you are making your entries why not get a ticket to the youth banquet? The food is actually good (this is from a picky eater!) and a couple hundred awards are given out to hard working youth. Believe me, it means a lot to a youth breeder to have an adult show interest in their project.

Now for the downside of Portland show. Hopefully this year we can put an end to this string of Dutch thefts. I will be locking my cages and would encourage everyone else to also. If you are the one doing this, please just realize that stealing hurts people. There are ways of legitimately and legally getting a nice Dutch (check the seller's class). And this way you can enjoy showing off your beautiful rabbit without worrying that someone will recognize it.

Until next time, talk to me with your show wins and let me know what you think about what the Board is doing before the meeting. Hope to see you all in Portland.

*Briony Barnes
El Dorado, KS*

If a packet hits a pocket on a

 And the bus is interrupted as a

 And the address of the memory

 Then the socket packet pocket

 If your cursor finds a menu item

 And the double-clicking icon puts your window in the trash,
 And your data is corrupted cause

 Then your situation's hopeless,

 You can't say this? What a shame, sir!
 We'll find you another game, sir.
 If the label on the cable on the

 Says the network is connected to

 But your packets want to tunnel

 That's repeatedly rejected by the

BREEDING DUTCH IN THE WINTER

WINTER BREEDING

by Kevin Hooper

Winter breeding can be challenging in not only the colder areas, but also in the south. The cooler weather is not the only factor that will influence your breeding success.

The first challenge is to get your does bred. As the days grow shorter, the conception rate will diminish accordingly. Rabbits will breed based on the amount of daylight. The shorter days beginning in September and running through late January will lower the conception rate. You can alleviate this problem by hooking up lights in your rabbitry that are on a timer. I have four, 4' shop lights in my 24' x 32' barn. The timer (about $13 from any hardware store) turns the lights on at 6:00 AM and they remain on until it gets light out. They will come on again at dusk and remain on until 8:00 PM. This provides the optimum amount of daylight per day for conception. Even with this additional light, the conception rate will not be quite as high as in the spring months.

The challenge then turns to keeping the bunnies alive during and after kindling. I now have an insulated nursery which I can keep above freezing throughout the winter. However, until 2 years ago, I raised them in my unheated, un-insulated barn. My kindling pens were a double row (side by side) of hung cages (only one cage high. I would then put the nest boxes of the four adjacent corners of the pens, so one heat lamp would warm all four nest boxes. I used a 250 watt inferred bulb, hung about 12"-14" above the top of the box. I use open top boxes so the heat has easy access to the bunnies. I know heat rises, but I did not want the lamps under the pen for fear the doe would urinate into the lamp and cause the bulb to burn out or the circuit to trip. If you do this, you should use the lamps that have a wire guard, so you can fasten the heat lamp to the cage to keep it from moving. Also, the does like the heat too, so you should put a piece of a board in the cage for the doe to sit on. This usually keeps the doe from setting in the box.

In very cold weather, I would take sheets of Styrofoam insulation board, and lean them against each other over the top of the pen (kind a' like a tent). This would aid in holding the heat in. I had good luck with this when we were having a high of only -9 for several days in a row. I have also piled snow around the outside of the barn to help insulate the barn from the wind (if we had any snow).

Lastly, if you have a doe that is not a good milker, she will not raise as many bunnies in the winter. This means you may want to foster some bunnies from larger litters to smaller ones, or possibly cull some of the mismarks or runts at birth.

Most likely, you won't have as much success in the winter as the spring, but the ideas above will help you have more juniors for those spring shows.

WINTER BABIES

by Briony Barnes

About three years ago I got up the courage to try a few winter breedings. After working trial and error (lots of errors!), I finally came up with a system of raising winter babies that has worked well for me.

As you all know, the first step to getting a litter is getting the doe bred. I have been very lucky that has never been a problem for me. Of course, now that I said that .... I only breed my does when they are receptive. The way I tell is to sex them, if they kick their legs it's off to the buck we go. If not, I wait a couple days and check again. It also doesn't hurt to give them a little say in who they are bred to. My girls are a little picky and occasionally one doe absolutely refuses to breed to one buck. Force matings are not the answer. Even if I can get them bred, I have never had forced mating result in a litter. So cross your fingers and try again in the Spring.

Something that has almost always held true in my barn is the doe will kindle around the time of day in which she was bred. So I will breed once when I get home from school (about 3:30, also the warmest part of the day), again an hour later, and a third time about 6 hours later when I am out feeding. This way I can time when they will be born and find them as soon as possible.

Now the doe is bred, pregnant, and it is nestbox time. I use a metal nestbox. The bottom layer of bedding is 2-3" of shredded aspen and on top of this I pack the box full of straw. When the doe digs a next out (or I dig one for her if she's the last-minute type) I will add a handful of a fibery stuff called "Litter Saver". I am not sure what it is but I got a bag of it from KW Cages and it really works great. The aspen will pack tight and mix well with the fur and litter saver while the straw keeps everything in place, making a nice warm nest. If it is especially cold I will put a couple of folded newspapers under the box to prevent heat from escaping.

Occasionally I will have a doe who does not want to build the next in the box. Depending on temperatures I will either cover the floor of the cage with a few inches of straw or bring her in and induce labor. Giving a doe a shot of oxytocin (or its synthetic form, pitocin) will not do serious damage. In order for it to cause labor there have to be other hormones present that are waiting for that kick of oxytocin to start labor. If she isn't ready, she won't kindle. I give 0.1 cc to induce labor and 0.05 to help with milk letdown.

As soon as the babies are born and nursed I bring them inside. New-borns do not have the homeostasis (ability to regulate body temperature) to keep them alive outdoors. To keep them in the box I use a piece of netting (the stuff tutus are made out of) and hold it in place with magnets. The babies stay in the coolest part of the house and go out once a day to nurse. At first they are left out only long enough to eat, but I gradually increase their time outside. They go out to stay at about two weeks.

I have been able to raise many litters through winter (even snowstorms) using this system. Good luck with all your winter Dutch!

BREEDING BLUE DUTCH

by Kevin Hooper

There is no real secret to breeding blues that have good color. There are some ideas out there that don't always work. Remember, the obvious is not always what to do in breeding Dutch.

Our Standard calls for a medium Blue, yet most of us strive for the darkest blue possible. Why? I believe it is because it is easy for the nice blue color to fade to a light blue, if the breeder isn't careful. It is also because it is not easy to get the dark blue, so if we're not quite to the dark blue, then we'll be at the medium blue.

Breed blue to blue. Start with animals that have the blue color running all the way down the hair shaft to the skin. If you start with this, you'll have little trouble. These Dutch with the excellent depth of color, will appear darker, as there is no light colored fur beneath the surface to lighten it.

You can breed other colors to blue. I rarely do this as once the blue color is there, then the other colors can do nothing to improve on the blue. Some breeders breed blacks to their blues to darken the color. Unless the black that they are breeding to has: excellent depth of color, or dark blue in its' background, or the blue that is being bred to the black is pretty light, the black will do little if anything to darken the blue.

Developing good color in any variety of Dutch takes a few generations. When you begin seeing the progress and the color darkening, you know that you have done something right. This feeling is much better than if you go out and pay top dollar for the darkest blues that you can find. Plan the development of your Dutch, step by step. Get one aspect such as the color where you want it, then work on something else. You can work on more than one aspect at a time, but plan your progress.

MY DUTCH MENTOR

John Eubank is perhaps the finest Dutch mentor I have had ever since I began Dutch. I met John at the Ventura Fair two years ago. That is where he sold me my first brown-gray Dutch. I showed him my Dutch and he gave me a blue to breed to my black doe. That blue buck later became a grand champion. He showed me how to tell a good Dutch from a bad one by placing them all in a row and typing all of them. He showed how to look for good markings. When I first got started and did not know much about different medical conditions, he helped save as many of my rabbits as I have fingers! He gave me a few of his grand champion does to breed for better marked and better typed babies. And the latest of them produced MY VERY FIRST EVER BEST OF BREED! I was so surprised I wasn't even at the table when they called best of breed. He has given me as many rabbits as he has sold me. But best of all he taught me by example to be a mentor myself! I have been able to help several other kids to get a good start in Dutch because of what I learned from John.

LOCAL DUTCH NEWS

NORTHWEST DUTCH RC NEWS

Our summer show calendar has been busy again this year with both a July and August show. On July 4th we hosted a Dutch specialty in conjunction with an all breed show sponsored by the Great Northwest Rabbit Show Circuit. BOB and BOS went to Pete and Debra Nelsen with a beautiful Blue Sr. Doe and Brown Gray Sr. Buck, respectively. This blue doe also Best in Show A at the Washington State Convention in June, and runner-up in the second show. It's the first time in many, many years that a Dutch has won this prestigious title. We are all very happy for the Nelsens and proud of "Ribbons"!

This year Pete Nelsen's father made a gorgeous swing for our club to use as a fund-raiser and we successfully raised $366.00 which will be used for sweepstakes awards. Thank you to Ken Nelsen for his generous donation.

Our next show is August 8th with a cluster of other specialties. We'll be having a morning brunch organized by the youth followed by the afternoon show. During the brunch our two youth contest winners, Rochelle Duane and Jennifer Grega, will be awarded trophies. Both these young woman are very accomplished with their Dutch and have made significant contributions to the rabbit world.

Our last show of 1998 will be Nov. 14th in Monroe, WA in conjunction with a Northwest RBA all breed show. The Northwest Dutch fanciers look forward to seeing you at the National Convention!

LDRC NEWS

The Louisiana Dutch Rabbit Club was one year old this past June. They celebrated by hosting a show and had lots of fun on the side. They had a dynamic raffle and had games for the kids, which included a dart board game.

The LDRC has donated $20 for specials for a Dutch Special show that is being sponsored by the Southern Dutch Fanciers on Sept. 5.

The next LDRC Dutch show will be a Double Dutch Show on Oct 3 in New Iberia, LA. This show will also be sanctioned with the Southern Dutch Fanciers. Make plans to attend and be sure to bring a potluck item for lunch and items for the raffle table.

Current LDRC Sweepstake leaders are as follows:

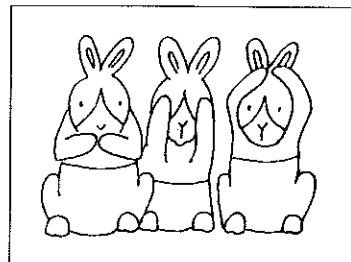

YOUTH: Marcus Stanga, Tyler Neagle and Ethan Molinere. OPEN: Judy Duthu, Jimmie Daniel and Warren Guidry.

LDRC patches are now ready. They are $4 each. Please contact Judith Duthu at 113 Jane St. in Chauvin LA 70344 for more info on these patches or any other LDRC happenings.

NEWS FROM CALIFORNIA

There is a new Dutch Speciality Club, call the California Dutch Rabbit Club. This club was born in southern California to allow our local Dutch rabbit breeders to have some fun showing their rabbits. We have just had a double speciality show with about 90 rabbits shown and are planning another double show for November. Everyone has pitched in at our shows so no one missed having a good time. Several of our members rank in the top 20 in open and youth sweepstakes which has been no guarantee of them winning at one of our shows.

Our club emblem demonstrates we are here to have some fun showing our Dutch. If you would like some more information please contact:

REPORT FROM THE ADRC STANDARD'S COMMITTEE

The following is a continuation of a report from the last Dutch Reporter. Please refer to the April/May/June Dutch Reporter page 6 for more information.

For starters there is one additional comment for question #2 that read: Give us two sentences that are very descriptive of the correct color of the "gray" variety to be included in the Standard of Perfection.

"An agouti pattern with a minimum of 3 distinct color bands, those being slate blue, tan and black-brown with a lighter tan top color. The tan top color should be evenly dispersed with black guard hairs to create an overall agouti appearance to the coat."

In addition please read on for the rest of the story.

The description of a gray Dutch has been worked and re-worked for over 40 years. The Dutch Reporter, printed in 1958 offered several articles detailing the correct color of the "gray" Dutch.

When I undertook this project as a member of the ADRC Standards Committee, I believed we had a problem educating our judges, especially the older judges. As you read the descriptions, notice how different we, the breeders see the same rabbit. I attempted to capitalize the overall descriptive terms. Notice how many call the color DARK, MEDIUM or LIGHT with ticking of jet black or tan. Some of the descriptions are lengthy while others are just what I ask for — two sentences; a mental picture for our breeders and judges to use. I question if we have not overloaded our judges with unnecessary words to describe our "gray" Dutch. Is our wordiness demanding more time of the judge than he is allowed as he sorts through 200 - 250 rabbits at a show?

My proposal to the ADRC Standards committee is continue to call the agouti variety of the Dutch — "BROWN GRAY", and shorten our description to read "Surface color light brown with black ticking. A chestnut agouti coat with distinctive bands of color". While those polled vote to change back to "Gray", it appears the term "BROWN GRAY" more closely describes the color the majority are raising. Notice how many describe the surface color with these terms — tan, caramel, sandy, light colored, and light brown. Another five years of the same name could unify both our judges and breeders so that all of us are looking for a sandy colored rabbit with black ticking.

We have fought this battle for many years. I am hoping by submitting a simpler, more open description, it will allow for breeder satisfaction and give our judges room to interrupt the color which is only worth 10 points presently. Less points for color could ease the dispute gray breeders have over correct color, whereby they could spend more time on developing better marked & typed animals.

I realize this is a big change from our last entry in the Standard of Perfection but I ask each of you to close your eyes and just listen to the words in those two sentences. Picture this — 'SURFACE COLOR LIGHT BROWN WITH BLACK TICKING. A CHESTNUT AGOUTI COAT WITH DISTINCTIVE BANDS OF COLOR.' Don't you get a picture of a "Brown Gray" Dutch, who is nothing like a steel?"

QUALITY FOR YOUR $$$! (When to buy Dutch)

by Marti Dill, Alabama

How many times have you found a breeder who has rabbits that you feel would improve your lines? We all know rabbits in the Spring are in high demand. Spring is probably the only time of year that any breeder of rabbits can pay his/her feed bill from rabbit sales.

When is the best time to buy excellent breeding stock? Most breeders raise rabbits for two major shows — the A.R.B.A. Convention in the Fall and the National Dutch Show in the Spring. Since Spring is the easiest time to get litters, many rabbits are born from March to May. Those litters fill the barn during June, July and August. Only the “cream of the crop” will find cooping for the A.R.B.A. convention. Those “good” rabbits will probably go into the sell/cull group even though they would make outstanding brood animals.

Supply and demand, like everyone else, applies to rabbits. Those “good” spring/summer rabbits are more abundant and usually can be purchased for very reasonable prices.

Another excellent time to purchase breeding stock is in the late Fall — November & December. The A.R.B.A. convention is over. The very best animals went to the convention and were probably sold for high $$$! Their littermates are home but other litters have been born. Once again there is an overabundance. Besides, who would be “Rabbit Shopping” at Christmas ... if you’re smart, it will be you!

Kevin Hooper’s name was omitted on the ballot that was sent out. Please feel free to add his name as a “write in” to judge 2001 for the NDS or ARBA Convention.

EDITOR'S REMARKS

If you get this Dutch Reporter before the ARBA Convention in

Portland, I wish you all safe travel as you make your way out west. I spoke with a few who had reservations with Northwest Airlines, and presently they are on strike. Needless to say, alternate plans have to be made. I really wish I could go, but we are in the midst of finishing up our new house and moving.

For those of you who have been so supportive of me this past year — my son Adam is coming home the middle of September. He has been in hospitals and rehab facilities since his car accident 13 months ago. It really is a miracle how well he is doing, considering he was in a coma for 3 months. Thank you all for your prayers and well wishes — they meant more to our family than we could ever possibly say.

It is not too early to make your plans and reservations for the National Dutch Show in Oshkosh this next Spring. I hope your nestboxes have been producing some nice bunnies for you to bring to Oshkosh. Should be another great show. The national shows these past few years have had record numbers of rabbits. But the friendships that we all feel for one another, is certainly a big reason why many come. It is almost like a family reunion, as many of us — young and old alike — have come to regard each other as “family.”

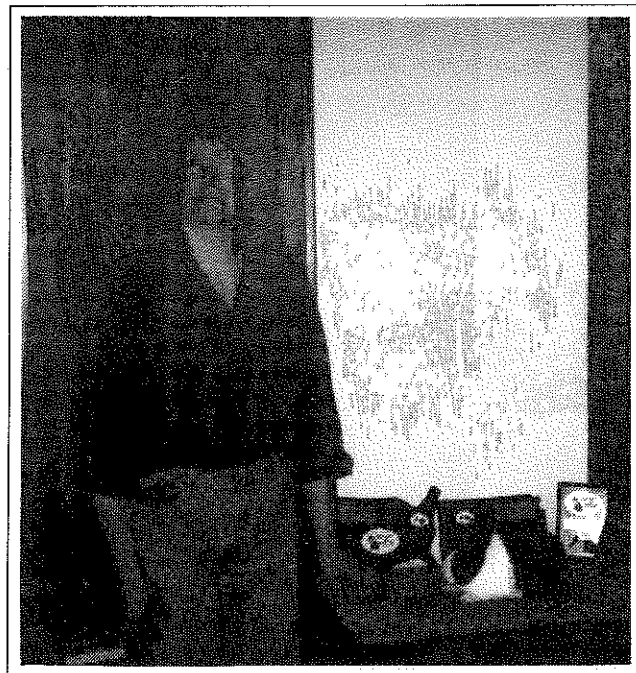

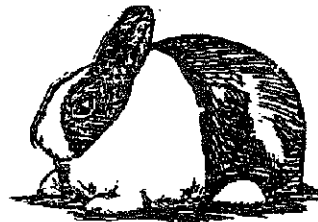

Just another reminder — if you have a change of address, or think your Dutch Reporter is lost in the mail, please contact Doreen Bengtson. She generates the mailing list & labels from her place.

Don't forget to send in your articles. I did not hear from many youth breeders this time. Schools back on, so you kids — get your pencils or computers going and send me an article or something about your latest win! Check out my new address. Good Luck to everyone at the Fall shows!
