President Report Sue Hill

We are in that post ARBA convention time frame when everyone takes a deep breath to relax a bit before the Holidays hit us full force.

It is interesting to hear of the number of shows that are held from Thanksgiving through New Years Eve, and how many people plan to attend them. But then again, what better way to enjoy this season than to spend it with fellow bunny lovers??

Indianapolis once again proved that Dutch are one of THE top breeds in popularity; we had the fourth largest entry. Way to go, ADRC! And there were many outstanding animals that came across the table over the two days of judging. Our youth breeders came from the far edges of the east and west coasts to "represent", and despite the long hours on the road to get to the show, the animals arrived in very good condition to be able to compete against some really nice youth animals. It's fun to see these kids at the shows from year to year and to be able to watch them go from teens to young adults. Lots of friendships have been forged at rabbit shows that transcend the distance between the youth members. We have a strong youth group and GOOD KIDS. Kudos to those youth breeders that spent the entire day on Sunday helping get animals to and from the table, or helped with taking remarks, or ran remark cards back and forth from the Secretary's spot at our booth!

This year, we had three booths at ARBA which really helped to make it roomier (Thank you, Indiana Dutch Breeders for donating the third booth!). This was a first for us but it will not be the last time we will expand to three. The Board felt three booths were in order for any of the larger conventions and will continue to approach it on a year by year basis to see what our needs will be. If the show is held on either coast, we may only need two. Our booth committee got help this year from Val and Kelli Slack (and their helpers) and put up a very nice display, complete with a Nascar helmet from Bill Stremkowski's vast collection of Nascar items. A Dutch Rabbit race car driver cast a watchful eye over our booth and quickly became a popular photo shot. Nice job, team Indy!

Here are some highlights as I remember from convention;

1. Having a National Rabbit, Cat and Chicken show all within a three building span. Seems like a lot of rabbit people also dabble in poultry so this was a big thing for many! Lots of crowing and honking was coming out of the back of rabbit vehicles during our convention...

2. Watching the Wisconsin Badgers play Ohio State and "Sconnie" losing in the last few minutes on Saturday evening. And then...

3. Having Denny Kline rub in the above loss by wearing Ohio State tee shirts all week long...Payback will be coming, Denny...

4. Enjoying warm weather each day!

5. Eating dinner at great restaurants each night.

6. LOVING our host hotel, the Staybridge Suites. It was super!!

7. Finding it difficult to maneuver through our Dutch aisles on a daily basis because so many Dutch people were grouped together, talking about the best little rabbit on the planet.

8. Having a Seller's class that had tremendous animals from both Open and Youth, and seeing them command top prices.

9. Seeing the youth work as hard as they did to help out during judging.

10. Having so many members volunteer in advance to help out where ever they could on judging day. Writers worked both days and the runners bringing animals to and from the table worked like a well oiled machine!

11. Not nearly having enough time to visit with everyone that I would have liked to talk with. Convention always goes way too fast!

12. Eating dinner with several Dutch friends at Buca De Beppo Italian restaurant. I am still filled from the wheelbarrow sized servings they put in front of us. It was great to break bread with Beau Williamson and find out what one of our past youth breeders is up to these days.

Another highlight very much worth spotlighting was the second passing for the Chin variety. This means one more acceptable showing must be made to the ARBA Standards Committee before the Chins can join in on the competition between the current varieties we have in our breed. Presenter Jill Ihrke is already planning her breedings so that she can have a strong showing in Kansas next October. Our own club Standards committee took some time to check over the Chins to be able to follow the progress closely. It is interesting to see the variations in the overall color. Back in MPLS last year, Troy Ihrke was describing the coat as needing to have a "wave" appearance where there is a rippling effect visible to the eye and not an even dispersment of black tipped / pearl white colored fur. These are the animals that have the best ring color. It will be interesting to see what happens a year from now with this variety so those of us attending the show in Kansas will need to be around the Standards area when the Chins are up for examination. We may see a bit of history being made here!

Best of Breed honors in Open went to Val Worzella with a Black Sr. Doe. This is the second time Val has won this honor and both times were in Indy for the ARBA Convention. That alone is a feat, especially when those two shows were both high Dutch entries. She did mention that she was sort of liking Indianapolis for some reason... Best Opposite went to Dan and Theresa Schwandt with a Blue Jr Buck. I had a chance to see him afterwards when Theresa was pointing out what rabbits she especially liked from their entry, and this buck was marked like a bandit and had tremendous depth of blue color.

The Youth Best of Breed honors went to a relatively newcomer to the show tables. Miss Danielle Feller won with a handsome Black Sr. Buck, and Bethany Brown took home Best Opposite with a very pretty Blue Junior Doe. It will be hard to top this year's win, Danielle! And Bethany...you continue to prove that you raise non stop quality Dutch in the Brown Bunny Barn! Our youth really had a nice display of Dutch this year. Many of these kids could easily compete on the open tables with the top animals that were down those aisles.

There will be a lot of information in this convention edition of the Dutch Reporter . Please remember to look in to what the Board discussed in their meeting so you are up on what we are doing in between the conventions and what our goals are in the future. We had an interactive Membership meeting and the minutes will also be included for your review. {Where will we be going for NDS 2015? Read through the minutes to find out!!} One of those goals is to get the information you ask for on the web site more frequently. Sanctioned shows were specifically targeted so that members are able to check on what shows are sanctioned. This comes on the heels of a show that was not sanctioned when the exhibitors thought it was. The Board continues to stand behind the policy that a sanction must include the necessary paperwork and must be paid for prior to the show date. As long as the request and an accompanying check is postmarked up to the day before the show, it will be honored.

The Board is also aware that several of the membership have requested to have Sweepstakes results more consistently available than it has been to this point. There have also been concerns about communication between members and the Sweeps/Sanction Chairs. A committee has been formed to look in to this all further and they will report back to the Board along with their recommendations. Our goal here has always been to make sure these two critical positions within the club work the best then can in getting information on Sweeps/Sanctions back to the members in a timely manner. They are two big jobs and take a considerable amount of personal time and dedication to stay on top of the vast number of requests and reports that are received. Anyone having an interest in running for Director, joining a committee, or would like to be considered for any future positions as they become available, please contact either me or Secretary Rick Billups. It is important to instill new blood and ideas in to our club positions as we continue to grow and change in the future.

Have a wonderful Holiday season and hope to see many of you in PA for our next gathering for NDS. It is when our Guidebooks should be ready for the first distribution so attending the show, aside from enjoying all the exciting things the host group has planned for is will make it well worth the travel. Chocolate lovers beware with Hershey being within striking range!

Best of luck breeding for that winner!

Sue Hill

ADRC President

Vice-President Report

Rick Lehmann

Another ARBA Convention has come and gone. Congratulations to all the winners and their beautiful animals and a huge thank you to the Indiana Dutch Rabbit Club especially Val and Kelli Slack for hosting this event and who did an outstanding job with the awards and our booth. Nobody will ever convince me that the Dutch booth was not the best decorated booth in the convention, it's very unfortunate the booth judges were so unable to see the detail that went into the decorations.

The convention facilities were very large and well lighted but unfortunately the Indiana State Fairgrounds is not near any major hotels or motels so most of the club members in attendance were scattered all over town which cut down on our "After Hours Socializing". Next year we head "Back to the Heartland" for the 89th annual ARBA convention being held in Wichita, Kansas October 27-31, 2012. Those of you that attended in 2003 will know the convention hall is the same one we used then. It is a beautiful facility as well as having the ARBA headquarters hotel adjoining the convention hall. Being located in Downtown Wichita it has the advantage of having many other hotels within a walking distance or a short 10 minute drive by car at the most, the other advantage is having many lunch and dinner establishments within a few blocks of the showroom.

At this years Convention your Dutch Club Officers and Board of Directors had another productive yet lengthy (3 1/2 hours) meeting where a lot of club business was attended to. I can say without any shadow of a doubt that this group of club officials are not only passionate about the Dutch Rabbit but also about this club as a whole. The many hours in meetings at the NDS in spring and the ARBA Convention in fall along with the numerous phone calls and e-mails during the course of the year attest to this fact. Your board does not always agree on issues, but we discuss, debate and eventually come to a consensus on major issues that effect the membership as a whole.

This a fiscally sound organization with great vision for the growth of our dutch club and the development and promotion of the Dutch rabbit. I am proud to be apart of these visionaries.

The holidays are upon us and soon the snow will melt away and flowers will bloom and of course Spring means the National Dutch Show in Lebanon, Pa. will soon be upon us. April 13th - 15th, 2012 with the showroom opening on Thursday April 12th for those early birds wanting to enjoy some local flavor before the busy weekend of showing begins. If you have not made your lodging reservations please do it soon, I just made mine at the Quality Inn / Lebanon and I saw the rooms were going fast. I have only been home from the ARBA convention a couple of weeks and already my thoughts are drifting to our annual spring get together, I hope to have the opportunity to talk with you all soon..it is going to great! Till we meet in person again... Do have a wonderful Holiday Season and here is hoping the year 2012 will be the beginning of something wonderful for us all. Until warmer times, stay healthy, stay happy and stay just as crazy about the Dutch Rabbit hobby as I.

Joy Rick

Report

The 2011 ARBA Convention in Indy will go down in the history books as the biggest with 916 Dutch rabbits judged in the open show and 385 in the youth. Best of Breed honors went to Val Worzella in the open show with a nice black senior doe with Dan & Theresa Schwandt taking BOS honors with a blue junior buck. Newcomer Danielle Feller won BOB in the youth show with a black senior buck and BOS went to Bethany Brown with her blue junior doe.

A big thanks and "Job Well Done" to Val and Kelli Slack for coordinating everything at this year's convention. They handled everything from awards to booth decorations and even the banquet. I know they put a lot of hours and late night making sure the show was a success. We ended up with 75 people attending the breakfast banquet which was better than I thought would attend considering the cost was $18.00. As a club we need to decide when not to have an awards banquet and when to pass them out at the general membership meeting.

The ADRC Board meeting was very productive at this year's convention with a few lengthy debts and several good decisions being made. Please make sure you read the board minutes and contact your director if you have any questions. The board is elected to serve our members and all decision should be made for the betterment of our club. The board decided to create a special committee to work with our sweepstakes chairman to see if there are ways to streamline our processes. One goal is to improve the communication channel and possibly increase the frequency of website updates.

The general membership meeting was well attended with the membership in attendance voting to make a change to the Sellers Class rules. Sellers Class rule number 5 will now read "All rabbits must have an accompanying complete 3 generation parentage pedigree per the ARBA definition. This was added to prevent rabbits from being sold with incomplete pedigrees.

The 3rd quarter financial report is included in this issue of the Dutch Reporter for your review. Our club is in very good financial order with $32,622.43 in the bank prior to convention expenses and earnings. This office continues to look for ways to cut expenses and to be good stewards of your money. We also receive 2 donations for the scholarship fund as part of Scott Williamsons challenge. The Ohio State Dutch Rabbit Club sent in $1,000 and Leroy Morey donated $100.00. Remember we only have until summer 2012 to take advantage of Scott's generosity.

The 2012 National Dutch Show in Lebanon, PA will be here before we know it. Let's make sure you keep those nest boxes full this winter.

Merry Christmas and have a safe New Year!,

Rick

The 2011 ARBA Convention is now behind us and what a great time everyone seemed to have. Congratulations to the Open BOB winner Val Worzella with a Black Sr. Doe and to BOS winners - Dan & Theresa Schwandt with a Blue Jr. Buck. Youth winners were BOB, Daniella Feller with a Black Sr. Buck and BOS, Bethany Brown with a Blue Jr. Doe.

By the time you are reading this issue, hopefully the nest boxes are full of kits growing rapidly to become the NDS Jrs in April.

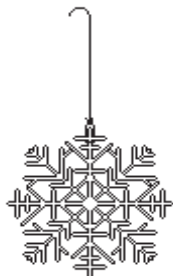

John Graybeal and his crew are meeting regularly to finalize plans for the 2012 NDS, April 12-15, at Lebanon, PA. Plans are to have the showroom ready to accept animals by 12 noon on Thursday. It will be a no ear number entry and another idea of Secretary Debbie Athey will be to email or mail your entry coop numbers to you so that you can put the coop numbers in your rabbit's ears prior to leaving home.

Also in this issue should be a form for special awards donations and for 2012 NDS catalog ads. This information should also be on the ADRC website. Plans are to have catalogs mailed out around the first of February.

The motel room raffle was drawn at the ADRC General Meeting at the Convention. Winner for the free room was Ron Russ of PA. Congratulations Ron!

Best wishes to everyone during the Christmas holidays and New Year. Hope to see everyone at the NDS in the Spring!

Billy

Director's Report District One John Graybeal

We just returned from the ARBA convention. It was wonderful; a record number of Dutch were entered in the Open show. It was amazing to see the many rows of our beauty rabbits. Also, the Indiana State Fair Grounds provided a wonderful venue for the convention. For those of you who have never been the Indianapolis site you really missed a great event. There were plenty of adequate cooping, lots of room and a really friendly staff. I also want to thank Kelly and Val Slack and their IDRC club who did a wonderful job hosting the Dutch breeders. Thank you so much Kelly and Val. I can't wait to come back there again. Show results will be posted elsewhere I am sure.

Congratulations to Jill Irke on her successful 2nd showing of Chinchilla Dutch. Honestly, there did seem to be a lot of improvement in them and there also seemed to be a good amount of interest from other breeders. Good luck Jill, with your third showing. Maybe by the time the ARBA convention comes to Pa. in 2013, the Dutch breed will have a 7th variety.

The CRDBA crew is working hard to prepare for the 2012 NDS. There is a lot of local excitement over this. Everyone is excited to host all of you in central Pa, an area known as Pennsylvania Dutch Country. For the weekend in April, we'll make it Pennsylvania Dutch Rabbit Country. Look elsewhere in this issue for additional information. If you have any specific questions feel free to call or email me. I will try to get you whatever information you want. Hopefully, you can all join us.

I want to tell you something. I believe the ADRC membership is truly fortunate to have one of the best and most dedicated Board of Directors. I have belonged to several National Specialty Clubs. I can tell you there is a lot of work that goes on behind the scenes. Many issues you may not even know about are discussed and important decisions are made to guide the club. Not only are the officers and board members very dedicated, the ADRC is lucky to have a number of very willing committee chairmen. Even if some of these people get some minor compensation, none of it makes up for the hundreds of hours they spend doing the work they do for our club. People like our club President Sue Hill, Secretary Rick Billups, Promotions Chairman Jeff Brown, Sweepstakes Chair Norma Hart and our Web Master Julie Hume, all spend a lot of time for the good of our club. While many of us are enjoying a quiet evening with our family, they are working at their computers doing reports or updating information for our club. We all have a tendency to complain about a person that does not seem to be performing up to our standards. How often do we say thank you. As a Board member, I personally and publicly want to take a moment and say THANK YOU! Also, how often do we offer to assist? Sometimes I think we need to look at how we can MAKE THE BEST BETTER (the 4H motto) instead of simply throwing criticism and complaints.

I want to make one final comment from convention. In general, I noticed great improvement in fullness of hindquarters. But I will also say that I personally feel we are creating a lot of very long bodied Dutch. We fool ourselves; we push them together so much that they become half-moon shaped rather than having a gradual slope like the standard calls for. For the betterment of the breed, we should really be cautious that we don't lose that wonderful naturally short compact body that our breed has been known for.

Enjoy each other's company and our Dutch fancy. Time is too short. Life is too short. Hope to see you at a show. Hope your breeding season is successful.

It sure was a great Convention! Dutch was the 4 largest breed in both Open and Youth that says a lot about the popularity of our Dutch Breed. Congratulations to the winners in open; BOB- Val Worzella with a Black Sr Doe, and BOS- Dan & Theresa Schwandt with a Blue Jr. Buck. Youth BOB- Danielle Feller, with a Black Sr Buck, & BOS- Bethany Brown with a Blue Jr Doe. Way to go everyone, great job.

The Board meeting was held on the Saturday afternoon during the convention. A lot was covered during our 3 hour meeting, and you can rest assured that the board is made up of a group of individuals that are dedicated in making the ADRC the best that it can be. My fellow Board Members spend countless hours and lots of hard work to serve the membership, and I for one greatly appreciate their efforts and dedication.

I wanted to bring to your attention a couple of items that were discussed and approved by the Board at the ARBA meeting. First is the change in the age of the Lord and Lady Division in the youth royalty contest that held each year at the NDS. Starting in 2012 only 7 and 8 year olds will be able to compete for the Lord and Lady crown, and we will allow youth ages 5 and 6 to partake in the contest for participation purposes only. The 2nd item was the approval of the bid submitted by the Ohio State Dutch Rabbit Club to host the 2015 NDS. The show will be held April 24 -26, 2015 at the Roberts Conference Center, near Wilmington, this is the same facility as the 2010 NDS.

Keep those nest boxes full, and I hope to see you next spring in Pennsylvania at the National Dutch Show!

What a great convention at Indianapolis! The Dutch had an outstanding showing in both Open and Youth, the quality of the animals was as good as I have seen, and the winners were spread around....that means MANY of the ADRC members are raising some excellent Dutch!

Congratulations to all winners, both Open and Youth, and to everyone that was a part of the Dutch exhibit. I had quite a few people say they saw that Norma and I had an entry, but alas, evidently just a computer glitch. We did not have an entry, as much as we wish we did. Maybe one of the upcoming conventions....we are still pumping out litters, just that it is difficult to ensure the rabbits are taken care of properly at the bog shows when so much time is dedicated to other venues. That's the problem with wearing multiple hats, I guess.

Anyway, you will find a list of the winners elsewhere in the issue, as well as pictures of the BOV and BOSV animals that Julie Hume could track down. PLEASE.. remember that when you win a BOV, BOSV, BOB, or BOS at the NDS or ARBA Convention, to make it a point to look up Julie Hume or Steve Wilch to get your animal's picture taken. Not only are we able to print it in the DR, but it also gives us the picture for historical purposes.

The ADRC Board was active during the meeting, and several topics were discussed. You can read about them in the minutes printed within this issue. Should you have any questions or comments, be sure to contact one of the Board and make them known.

We are using a new printer for this issue of the Dutch Reporter, and hope you are satisfied with the new look. The cost is slightly higher, but it is felt the quality will be much better, especially with the pictures. If this works out as well as anticipated, we will be running quite a few pics in the future issues. We do have the option of color pictures on the inside pages also, however the majority of the ADRC Board did not want to pursue that option at this time. Perhaps in the future. I would really like to see the BOV and BOSV pics in color, like several of the other clubs do after their National show and the ARBA Convention.

I hope everyone enjoys the very best of Holidays, and you have a wonderful New Year.

Another convention is now in the history books and now we set our sites on the National Dutch Show in April. Not everyone can go home a winner so we go home and try to continue to improve upon our herd until our next show.

I would like to give a big thanks to Val and Kelly Slack and all the Diamond Dutch members for all their hard work in making it an enjoyable week for us. A big thanks to all those who helped out during judging with carrying rabbits, working behind the table, and writing. The Zimdars family was very helpful the whole time judging and an extra thanks to Sandy and Rachel for making the chocolate chip and snickerdoodle cookies that everyone enjoyed. They even brought enough that there were still some leftover after Bengston came by. That poor boy must have had a hotel without a free breakfast. With all the Dutch breeders we have with their many talents making baked goods maybe one year someone will have a competition at NDS like the arts and crafts contests. I would love to be a judge for that one!

The ballots went out in August asking for the membership to vote for a director and on the changes to the constitution and bylaws. Congratulations to John Graybeal as he continues to be a director. Thank you to Mike Adams for taking the time to send in a resume. I like several other board members had problems with several parts of the new constitution and bylaws. I would have liked to have left in the part that reads no one outside of the United States can be an officer of the ADRC. Some have argued that they would never be elected but let me remind you that the majority of the time if you send in a resume to get on the board, you're in because no one runs against you. I also firmly believe the amount of compensation given by the ADRC to individuals should be stated for ALL positions so the membership is fully aware of how much everyone should be receiving. I'm afraid that too many people don't take the time to read thru the changes and just assume everything is good and many others never take the time to even vote.

At the board meeting a motion passed to change the Lord and Lady royalty division. This class was for youth eight years old and younger and has now been changed to seven and eight year olds only. After this, a motion was passed to have a class for five and six year olds but only being recognized for participation. I was opposed to this change. The ARBA recognizes a five year old as someone to compete as a youth member. I understand the older member will usually win but at least let the younger member have a chance to win. To just put them in a separate class and say they can do it as a way to just participate doesn't encourage our youth to strive to be the best. These kids know that they have to compete against others who are a little older and maybe a little more experienced but at sometime a five or six year old will do better than the older youth. This is a way for them to get there feet wet and if one decides to work extra hard to excel then we need to give them the opportunity to show off their success.

At the sellers class in Indy two rabbits were entered that did not have a complete pedigree at the time of the auction. The sellers class committee approved leaving them in as is and announcing the fact just as we would if the rabbit had a spot, freckle, no ring color, unrecognized varieties in the pedigree, or anything else. A few members insisted that this was not right saying the rules call for a complete pedigree when in fact it just says it must have a pedigree. The two rabbits were thrown out of the sellers class. At the poorly attended general membership meeting the rules were changed to the rabbit must have a complete three generation pedigree with all the weights. The purpose of the sellers class is to hopefully give people the opportunity to buy quality Dutch and to raise funds for the ADRC. Both of these two rabbits were placed in the top five of the sellers class. More important our club lost out on money these two rabbits would have made. I understand some breeders don't want rabbits in their herd without a complete pedigree but no one is forcing them to bid on it. Everyone has different standards to what type of stock they are willing to use to improve their herd and if it is something you don't want then keep your hands in your pockets and let your competition buy it.

Delainey would like to say thank you to Rachel Billups and Emily, Hannah, and Emerald Nelson for playing with her at Indy. She looks forward to seeing you next time.

Another great Convention has come and gone. It seems like we wait for months for it to arrive and the show is finished in the blink of an eye. Congratulations to Val Worzella who won Best of Breed with a black senior doe and Dan and Theresa Schwandt winning Best Opposite Sex with a blue junior buck. In Youth congratulations go to Danielle Feller winning Best of Breed with a black senior buck and Bethany Brown who won Best Opposite Sex with a blue junior doe. It was an excellent showing of Dutch with 916 shown in open and 385 in youth, I believe Dutch were the fourth largest breed for Convention.

A few observations about Convention:

- An attempt was made to get a fourth judge for open because of the high number of entries. When this failed, it was decided that the judges would work until around 4:30 in the afternoon and judging would resume the next day. This was a good solution, as it still took about six hours to finish on the second day. The exhibitors with varieties that showed last appreciated this as the judges were fresh and energetic.

- A lot of people are needed to work a show with this many numbers, collecting rabbits to bring to the judge, loading them on the judging table, and running them back to their cages as the rabbits were judged. It seems that the same handful of people worked both days with little relief. Convention is a wonderful place to catch up with people you see only occasionally, but it would be appreciated if every exhibitor would give just an hour or two of help to keep the show running smoothly and quickly.

- It was mentioned at the membership meeting that it was the final chance for us to take pictures of rabbits for the guidebook and all that won a first place were asked to bring their rabbit for a photo. The response was terrific, thank you everyone for helping with this task. If you were one that participated and would like a picture of your rabbit, just email odie@cablespeed.com and I will send you the pictures that were taken.

- Top sale in the Seller's Class, went to a youth, would this be the first time that a youth received the high bid in a Seller's Class? Congratulations to Bethany Brown whose black senior buck sold for $500.00!

- Thank you Val and Kelli Slack for the great awards. A great deal of time was involved in the designing of the awards using pictures of each color of variety. The Indiana Diamond Dutch Rabbit Club decorated the ADRC booth and also donated a third space to allow more room. A special thanks to Paul, Chris and Megan Matthys of the IDDRRC who donated numerous boxes of donuts on show day.

In conclusion, I would urge all ADRC members to attend the Convention next year in Kansas and the National Dutch Show in Lebanon, Pennsylvania this spring. You will have a terrific time! And for the benefit of the Michigan Dutch Rabbit Club, "what happens in Indianapolis stays in Indianapolis!"

Respectfully,

Julie

Another Convention is behind us and now we are breeding for NDS. There could be many different reasons why but the most common reason is nobody likes their tail between their legs. Nobody likes to lose but at the end of a show there is only one winner and many so called "losers"! Why did I start this way? It must mean that we really love our HOBBY or...

Congratulations to all the winners of the classes, varieties, and breed. With Aaron turning four this year I thought I could help at the tables more. How wrong was that thought? I would like to think the Nelson Girls of Iowa that played with him while Jill got a break and I could help out. This really shows that everyone that helps out makes for a great show. Sometimes the things are behind the scene so we might not see them as working but are doing so much. For an example our Secretary Rick Billups is someone that does a lot that does not recognized very often. I am pretty sure that he would rather be by the tables then behind a computer entering and printing information for us to read. Thanks to all for a very great show!!!

We just came home from a weekend of showing rabbits again with three shows on Saturday and two more on Sunday with Sunday being the Cal Dutch RC. The CDRC had a meeting and will be putting together a bid for a NDS the next open year. It's so far out that I might be wrong if I guess that year. I also learned that a husband and wife are having a few health problems. They would really appreciate a card if you know them or not. Fred was handpicked by Rick during the auction in San Diego because of no Mike. That's Fred and Helen Schmall, 28698 Rd 162, Visalia, CA 93292.

If you did not hear the Chins passed number two. I thought Kevin Hooper killed them. All the years watching the processes it was seen that when you seat down and one of the committee members brings you a rabbit it's the death sentence and they are showing you the reason why you failed. Kevin grabbed a junior doe and all I thought is what do I say to Jill. Wow was that a low to a high in such a small amount of time.

Is anyone out there thinking about getting a COD and for what color? Lilac to me makes the most sense. How about Steels? By adding a Blue or Chocolate Steel might not mean more varieties but just multi base colors. Why do I say this? That's because the Steel color is about the Ticking not the base color. I think those colors would help out other colors the most in our breed with very little harm. Yellow and/or Golds could complement the Torts. Bottom line is the more colors that go together would widen the gene pool making better Dutch!

Wish everyone well this holiday season and NO deer this year!

2011 ARBA Convention

"The Race to Indy"

Gosh!, Where do I begin? So many things to report since my last report, not the least of which is the ARBA Convention, I'll start with our most recent events first. The ARBA Convention in Indianapolis, Indiana was once again, one to remember for several reasons. The sponsors of the convention honored my father, Wilbur Williamson, and my longtime friend, Mr. Ronn Mauck with the dedication of the ARBA Convention for their years of service and dedication to the Indiana State Rabbit Breeders' Association, but more importantly the youth served by them and that organization.

I know that my dad was indeed very proud of this honor. Several of our Dutch family expressed congratulations to him for such a tribute. My dad would like to thank you for your kind words and support over the years. If you know my dad, as many of you do, you know that he has been dedicated to the youth programs of our organization and the rabbit hobby. He is very aware of the many positive benefits of our hobby, it made a profound impact on his own son. Our hobby keeps "idle hands" busy and our minds focused on goals.

One of my best memories of ARBA Conventions is observing families attending the conventions over the many years and enjoying the many facets of the convention from the travel to the competition to the friends, both young and old, who last a lifetime. I get a big kick out of watching the parents work with their kids or even grandkids to compete at the national level. Most of you know that I "inherited" the youth gene from my dad. He and I both enjoy seeing our youth succeed and grow through our hobby. My son, Beau, is an excellent example of growing through participation in our hobby. He learned so much about people by showing rabbits. Those experiences have assisted him in the success he enjoys today. I am confident that our youth Dutch breeders and exhibitors have and will benefit some way through active participation in our hobby. So never give up on a goal or a dream, the only thing in your way is your perspective.

The winner of the Best of Breed honor in the Open, Valerie Worzella, personifies drive and determination. She owns Indianapolis! For the second time, a beautiful black doe, bred and owned by Val, won the top spot at the ARBA Convention.

In 2005, Val won Best of Breed with a Black Junior Doe, and was seriously considered for the group winner by Randy Shumaker. I know her Dutch mean a great deal to her and is always very competitive. Just check the past show reports. Of course, I would like to congratulate the Schwandt family on winning Best Opposite Dutch in the Open with a Blue Junior Buck. Dan and Theresa have developed a stud of Dutch that are constantly in the winner's circle at local and national events. It must be all that great competition in Wisconsin. Please note, for those who may not know, both winners are from the great state of Wisconsin. Highlight the Dutch members from Wisconsin and you will know why the competition is so good in this state.

In the youth, first timer, Danielle Feller grabbed the Best of Breed honor with a sweet Black Senior Buck. I am confident that winning at this level will undoubtedly encourage further commitment to our wonderful hobby. And no stranger to winning, Ms. Bethany Brown, showed an outstanding Blue Junior Doe for Best Opposite Dutch in the youth. A veteran of winning at national shows, Bethany has also won Best Opposite Dutch at the 2007 National Dutch Show in Kalamazoo, Michigan and Best Black Dutch at the 2009 National Dutch Show in Hutchinson, Kansas. Bethany also entered the highest selling Dutch in the 2011 ARBA Convention Dutch Seller's Class, fetching $500 for a Black Senior Buck, CD349, with over 60 legs. Great Job, Bethany!

Wow!, What a great Seller's Class! I am sorry I missed it, but I was attending the ARBA Convention Dedication Ceremony. Several very good Dutch were presented to the crowd of potential buyers with the top single Dutch selling for an outstanding $500 from Ms. Bethany Brown, a youth entry! The top selling open entry was the first place animal in the class, a Black Buck, 95RJ, by Rick, Julie, and Rachael Billups for an excellent selling price of $250. Repeat favorite Kristy Hume sold a Black doe for $210 in the Seller's Class and the Klines put together a very nice trio of Grays that sold for $300. In total, $1,922.50 was added to the ADRC treasury to help better serve our members. Congratulations to everyone! Tommy D would be very proud! In studying the Seller's Class results from the past, to experience a measured degree of success, an animal of quality should be entered in the class. Does appear to be preferred and bred does may produce the best results (top selling Dutch to date: $520, a bred Blue doe from Briony Barnes at the 2011 National Dutch Show in Manitowoc, Wisconsin).

Record shattering numbers of Dutch were exhibited at the 2011 ARBA Convention. Our breed was ranked 4th in numbers for both open and youth entries. Only Mini Rex, Netherland Dwarfs and Holland Lops outnumbered the Dutch. The 2011 ARBA Convention recorded the highest number of Open Dutch at 916 and the second highest Youth numbers at 385, second only to '05 ARBA Convention, also in Indianapolis, total Youth Dutch was 439. I congratulate everyone who showed Dutch at this year's convention.

I would also like to sincerely thank our 5 Dutch judges for the daunting task of evaluating such a large, quality entry. Allen Barr, Joe Lugo and Paul Jurgelonis worked very diligently and professionally to judge the open entry for 2 days while the youth judges, Kelli Slack and David Moll were able to finish judging in one day. As chair of the Judges' Selection Committee, I would like to officially thank each judge for their commitment and service to our club by evaluating our Dutch at the convention. In addition, I believe that if you listened very closely to the comments offered by each judge, a foundation was offered to improve our direction. Using these tools to improve our breeding program will certainly help us achieve our goals. I find that if we take the time to listen or read the comments offered, we will find a way to help our program progress in a favorable direction. I would also like to thank Ronn, Max and George for allowing us to finish judging on the second day. Adding another judge at the convention is always challenging since the exhibitors entering the show expected the judges listed in the catalog to do the honors.

Finally, I would be remiss if I did not shower our breed chair people with the appropriate accolades for the outstanding job they did in representing our club by building an outstanding booth and having people present at all times to answer questions or sell raffle tickets. I certainly thought the theme of the convention was properly incorporated in our booth and the hospitality offered the day of judging was just another first that I know other clubs will copy. Free coffee and pastry the morning of judging was very well received by everyone. In addition, the awards were useful, unique and memorable. Val and Kelli Slack and all the members of the Indiana Diamond Dutch Rabbit Club as well as Melody Stremkowski are to be thanked and congratulated for all their hard work and effort in representing our club with a superior booth and great awards.

Don't forget our youth scholarship drive and grand champion certificate reimbursement!

Scott

Wow, summer flew by. It was a very wet spring, a very hot and dry summer, and fall is here with cool mornings and sunny afternoons.

My summer was hectic. I missed 4 shows I normally attend so my sister and I could fly to California to spend some time with the Cumming family. We had a great time with Elle, Mattie, and Hannah Williamson. Thanks for the great hospitality. After coming home I went to 3 basketball camps, a volleyball camp, 3 family vacations, and a vacation with a friends family. Talk about busy, I only attended one 4-H show in June and held out until the Illinois State Fair mid August to show again.

The Illinois State Fair is always fun. Entry fees are $1.00, the building is air conditioned, and there's premiums. You can't beat a deal like that. Everyone should try to attend next year.

The Bloomington show on 8/28 was a huge success with well over 100 youth dutch shown. Sweepstakes points are tight at the top and you can sure tell. Youth are traveling farther distances for the points. Alexa Demland from Ohio came and took one show with a nice black junior doe. Jacalynn Gumz from Wisconsin and Hibberts were there. My sister Brianna took the other show with a nice chocolate senior buck who has won alot. It seems if they look at him, they like him. I would like to thank the youth and their parents for the time and money spent to come to our Illinois shows. It's nice to see friends and the competition is deep.

After missing the 4 early summer shows we decided to travel to Owatonna, MN for a double show labor day weekend. After a truck breakdown on the Interstate, thanks go to my Grandpa and Dad for bringing us another truck to finish our long journey, we made it to the show with only a couple hours to spare. With the exception of nationals, this is our first Minnesota show and I must say the people were wonderful. Lots of thanks for coming and wishing us safe travel home. I also want to thank the club for helping us promote our FRESH SQUEEZED LEMON SHAKEUPS for a $5 donation to the ADRC Scholarship Fund. We made $50 for the fund at our first show and everyone said they were the best. If you see us at a show please be sure to support our cause. I want to encourage other youth members to find ways to fund raise for our scholarship.

To finish out Labor Day weekend we went to the SEIRBA show in Altamont, IL. Morgan Leka took both BIS with a nice blue senior doe that has been giving me fits. I can't find a rabbit in the barn better.

Brianna has beat her a few times with her chocolate buck and a steel junior doe. I think the competition at home is as tough as anywhere.

By the time this edition is out Morgan Leka, my sister, and I will have attended our 1st Indiana State Convention, the Illinois State Convention, and the famous Waterloo, IL weekend. Don't forget to breed everything in the barn for 6 month juniors at nationals (Sept. 15th). Keep your nest boxes full and I will you at the shows!!!!

Editor's note: Erica sent this report after the last issue of the DR had already gone to press, so I am including it in this issue.

GARY RAY CLARK
MEMORIAL SHOW

On Friday night, December 2nd, the Missouri Dutch club sponsored a show in Sedalia, MO held in memory of Gary Ray Clark.

77 Dutch were shown by 12 exhibitors, and when the judging was completed Briony Barmes won Best of Breed with a Blue Doe (Gary's favorite color). Rick Lehmann had Best Opposite Sex with a Black Buck. (Briony also received the Gary Clark award for BOV & BOSV Blues.)

Donations, along with proceeds of the show were given to Gary's family. They donated the total amount of $2,200.00 to the American Dutch Rabbit Club Youth Scholarship Fund.

Another Dutch Specialty show is being planned for next year at the Missouri State Convention. Make plans to attend the first weekend of December and join the fun in memory of a great Dutch breeder and friend, Gary Ray Clark.

MINUTES OF ADRC BOARD MEETING OCTOBER 29, 2011

The meeting was called to order by President Sue Hill. Members in attendance were: President Hill, Vice President Rick Lehmann; Secretary-Treasurer Rick Billups; District 1 Directors Billy Bounds, Allan Gerhart and John Graybeal; District 2 Directors Julie Hume, Dick Gehr and Dan Schwandt; District 3 Director Scott Williamson and Troy Ihrke. Excused from the meeting was Anthony Campbell.

Julie Hume moved to approve the minutes from the board meeting held during the 2011 NDS in Wisconsin as printed in the 2011 April-May-June Dutch Reporter. Billy Bounds seconded the motion. Motion passed.

Rick Billups provided a 3rd Quarter 2011 Treasurer's report which stated a net income of $4,152.48. Rick also reported bank account balances of $12,465.42 in the Contingency Fund, $12,683.98 in the General Fund and $7,473.03 in the Scholarship fund. Motion was made by Al Gerhart to accept the treasurer's report as presented and Dan Schwandt seconded. Motion passed.

Committee Reports

ARBA Booth Decorating: Sue Hill discussed booth sizes for upcoming conventions. After a lengthy discussion a motion was made by Julie Hume to have 3 booths in Wichita and seconded by Dan Schwandt. Motion passed. The board will continue to make decisions on the number of booths required for future conventions.

Website: Julie had sent year to date website statics to the board prior to the meeting. The breeders listing and sweepstakes are always in the top 5 items being viewed. Julie reported that the website has required 68 hours of her time between January 1st and the end of June. She continues to encourage the membership to contact her with suggestions for the web site.

Sweepstakes: Dick Gehr reported 901 show reports had been received and processed with 21,371 animals being exhibited in open Shows and 10,584 animals in Youth Shows. This totals 31,995 animal, or an average of just over 35 animals per show.

Sanctions: Dick Gehr reported that Norma was at home processing show reports to get caught up. October and November see an increase in show reports due to the large number of county and state fairs that sanction Dutch. Dick discussed the issue of late sanction requests and how club secretaries wait until the day before or the day of a show to try to obtain a sanction. No change will be made to the current rules concerning sanctions.

Seller's Class: Dan Schwandt asked the board as to when the Sellers Class should be held during this year's convention. The board agreed it should be held at the conclusion of selecting BOB on Monday.

Scholarship: Sue Hill reported that Tiffany Wayne will be the new chair of this committee. This year's raffle item is a digital camera.

Publicity: No report given.

Standards: No report given Sue Hill reported that the group will become active again in Spring 2012. They will look at any possible concerns with our current standards and review the status of the Chin Dutch.

Dutch Reporter: Dick Gehr made a recommendation to the board to review the possibilities of changing printers. The board listened to the proposal and reviewed samples provided by the new printer. The Dutch Reporter will revert back to an 8.5" x 11" format as we had in the past with color inside and outside covers starting with the Oct-Nov-Dec. issue. John Graybeal made a motion to change to the new printer and to print both inside and outside of the cover in color. Julie Hume seconded the motion. Motion passed with Dick Gehr abstaining.

John Graybeal made a motion to increase the cost of an Inside cover ad from $60.00 to $100.00 for two years since it will now be in color. Julie Hume seconded the motion. Eight in favor, 1 against - motion passed.

Election: Nancy Kennedy and her committed counted the votes and submitted the results on September 26th. There were 215 votes submitted in this election. John Graybeal will continue as Director for District 1 and the C&B passed by a vote of 193 to 22.

Historian: Rick Billups reported that they had just received a box of material from Al Butler along with several photos.

Hall of Fame: Stan Goeglein discussed the 25 individuals that were approved by the board to be inducted into a new group recognizing them for their past contributions to the ADRC. The board received 5 suggestions for the name of this group and they decided on "Hall of Greatness" which was submitted by Troy Ihrke. Troy will receive a check in the amount of $50.00 for winning the contest.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

By Jeff Brown

During this Convention the ADRC booth seemed harder to move around in. I am not sure if it was because the floor space was smaller than in the past, we had more people helping to work at the booth, we had stocked more merchandise to sell, more customers stop by just to talk before, during and after their purchases or just a combination of all the above. The unlimited supply of free Hershey kisses and hugs provided by the Chesapeake Regional Dutch Breeders Association to promote NDS 2012 also probably added a part to the equation.

We arrived at the fairgrounds Friday evening after cooping Bethany's rabbits and unloaded all the bins of merchandise and equipment. It was too late to actually set up the booth, so we put that task off until early Saturday morning.

Between the well received "new stock", our standard and "clearance" items we sold $1,725.00 worth of merchandise during the Convention that shall be worn by many folks here in the US, as well as the Country of Canada and the Continents of Asia and Australia. It can be said that the American Dutch Rabbit Club has world wide appeal because we all know "You Can't Beat the Dutch".

The ADRC website online store provides an opportunity for those members and friends who can not attend the National shows to view a limited variety of ADRC items via the website and then contact the publicity department to pay and make shipping arrangements to receive your purchases at home or have items sent as a gift to others has been well received at the rate of two to three transactions per month.

The booth was manned most of the hours each day of the Convention, thanks to the help from Shelia Sartori, Luann Martin, my dearly beloved wife and myself. As always it was a pleasure to have the opportunity to meet and chat with so many of our clubs members during the time spent manning the booth.

We are always happy to receive input from our members as to what they would like us to obtain and "ADRC personalize" in the future and will do our best to make those suggestions continue to happen. Sue Hill had suggested to us the canvas tote bag idea and what a hit they were from the moment we took them out of the shipping boxes.

Looking forward to seeing all our members and friends at NDS-2012 in Lebanon, PA

2011 ARBA CONVENTION BEST OF BREED OPEN Valerie Worzella

What a great feeling to win BOB at the ARBA Convention again! The Black Senior Doe that won the 2011 ARBA Convention in Indianapolis, IN is Val's Gina. I have been raising Dutch for 23 years now and I still get butterflies in my stomach whenever the big shows come around. Thank you to all who congratulated me, it means a lot to me to hear those words.

For those of you who don't know me well, I am extremely passionate about raising and showing Dutch. My rabbits have been there for me during every rough patch in my life and they have helped me get through many difficult times. They are more than a hobby for me. I know this sounds silly, but you have to experience this to fully understand it. I have learned many important life lessons in the past 23 years, many somehow connected to experiences that have occurred because of my rabbits.

I'm not going to tell you that raising and showing Dutch is always a pleasant experience; it takes a lot of hard work and determination. I have had many ups and downs during the past 23 years, but I never gave up. The key is to believe in yourself and be willing to try even harder if you stumble. Always be willing to learn new things, for that is how we better ourselves. It is the great and memorable times that make all of the difficult times worth the heartache.

I also won BOB at the 2005 ARBA Convention in Indianapolis and I will say the Indiana host crew really puts on an awesome show. This year's Best In Show ceremony was very memorable for me. Caleb Thomas talked about what the difference between being lucky and being good when raising rabbits. His main point was that hard work pays off and we need to strive to achieve our goals.

The saying is true, You Can't Beat The Dutch!

THE BUILDING OF (HB86) THE ARBA 2011 YOUTH DUTCH – BOS by Bethany Brown

Have you ever tried opposite fault breeding?"

Mr. Imes, a well respected and long time Dutch breeder, asked me during an Allegheny Mountain Dutch Club show in Meadville, PA. Mr. Imes has been incredibly helpful to me and when an ADRC Hall of Fame Breeder gives you advice, you should listen. It was just before the NDS in Kansas and all I show are blacks. My rabbitry had only twelve hutches and I had been debating whether to expand to sixteen and start breeding blues. However, I had no experience with that variety and risked getting creamed by Nate Graybeal, a fellow Youth member of our Chesapeake Regional Dutch Breeders Association.

At thirteen years old showing and breeding were beginning to become a science for me and instead of breeding the two cutest rabbits together I began learning to recognize the traits that would give me the best chance for raising Grand Champion rabbits. So I heeded the advice given to me by Mr. Imes and got two opposite faulted blues, Mickey and Minnie. They were my first "real" pair of blues, with pedigrees that listed only blues. The buck, Mickey (CJB1) was a small buck from my New England Dutch Rabbit Club friends Paul Jurgelonis and Vinny Consiglio. Mickey wasn't much of a show rabbit but he had great Dutch fur. The doe, Minnie (SR212), from my NEDRC friend and mentor Sharon Sartori, was a DQ with a deep blue color. I planned on introducing my own lines to create better body type in the future generations. The M&M bunnies produced a DQ blue with the color and fur I wanted. I knew exactly what to look for after examining proper blue color from rabbits I had seen at conventions and those raised by fellow CRDBA members Mr. Martin and Nate Graybeal. I could not show this first generation rabbit due to a color spot on her back. The next generation would come from my mismarked blue doe to a blue buck (52HB). The buck was the result of two blacks that were bred to create a kit with stronger bone and a bigger head. The outcome was a show quality blue doe with deep color who I named Carrie (HB73) - finally a showable kit. This rabbit did well for me, but there was still more needed to do. When Carrie was old enough I bred her to my black buck (HB76), I must thank Mike Smith who helped me pick HB76 parents EM74 and 404 from, David Stuart, and Hall of Fame Breeder Mr. Hooper 's lines. This was the magical pairing that created Blue Jr. Doe HB86, Honey Bunny's Dallas, ARBA's 2011 Youth DUTCH-BOS. Developing my breeding lines and winning at the national level could not have been possible without the support of all the fellow ADRC & Regional Club members mentioned in this article. Thank you again to all my friends across the nation that have helped me over the years and to my parents and "Dutch Family Debbie Athey, Marrisa Wells and Morgan & Mr. Doak" for supporting my hobby.

My final thought, Nate you have been such a good competitor and enjoyable to show with the past 8 years. Our blue jr doe class was very competitive and you had both 2nd and 3rd. The judge said it could have gone your way easily too. I was very fortunate to win once before you head up to open, Good Luck!

THOUGHTS AND MEMORIES AND JUDGING IN INDY

By Paul J. Jurgelonis A.R.B.A. Judge #238

I have been raising Dutch since 1959. My biggest thrill was winning Best Blue Open Dutch at my first convention in Syracuse New York in 1970 under Tom Shufflebotham and Don Reid, two legends who became part of my reality at this event. I was mentored and encouraged along the way by Dutch Specialty judges Fred Franklin and Wayne McKinnon. For me, this was my first judging job at a National Convention in awhile mainly because my superintendent of schools is very frugal with time off and our use of sick days and personal days. At the last Indianapolis Convention, I was scheduled to judge Netherland Dwarfs but had to cancel because of my frowning superintendent. As I approach being able to glimpse the sunset of my career in teaching and discovering that I have 200+ sick days and personal days and knowing that I will lose them without severance pay upon retirement, I have become more adventurous in utilizing my clutch of days. So, when I was honored to be asked by the A.D.R.C. to officiate, I jumped at the opportunity. I thank all of the judges' selection committee and the Dutch exhibitors for giving me this opportunity.

Classes in all varieties were competitive and placing them was an arduous task. Giving each animal a fair evaluation, especially with an entry fee of $14.00 per animal and considering the sweepstakes points awarded for ten placements in National events and the honor of the placements being printed in the Dutch Reporter, made my responsibility a serious one. Application of the full standard with type and markings taking a priority over fur and flesh condition made the job more time consuming. Assessment of type begins with the proper posing of the exhibits with a rule from "Judging 101" of placing the toes of the animal's front legs parallel with the eyes and the toes of the rear legs parallel with the hip joint (formerly called the stifle) allows the animals to be evaluated for compactness and cobby type. This pose, so basic to all our breeds, might seem novel to some who are addicted to the current trend and erroneous method of posing rabbits so "tucked-up" that their rear toenails may endanger their eyesight and bloody their elbows. Tucking rabbits of any breed is not the proper method of posing. It is an attempt to make long, narrow rabbits look shorter and makes naturally short-coupled rabbits humped-backed and pinched. Unless the animal is properly posed, how can it be assessed for type? Look at a rabbit's top line when it is tucked. You will find the highest point over the center of the back instead of the center of the hip. A key to compactness is the length of the forelegs. Shorter more compact rabbits have shorter limb. Longer narrow rabbits have long forelegs and want to pose full-arched displaying daylight in natural pose. Our Dutch should not be tucked. Tucking the long narrow rabbits will hide long limbs and will encourage bodies which will resemble Tans, and soon we might be running them.

My first class of Black junior bucks was a class of 87. I labored hard to give all animals a fair and equal consideration. My class winners were nice representatives of our breed. The placement of the first and second place animals was an especially difficult decision. The second place buck even had a hairline, but first place triumphed over second because of slightly better cheek placement. Untucked, my winning buck had the best depth of body of the winning blacks and was my choice for Best of Variety because of type and the best marking placement, but I was outvoted. He was also my choice for Best Opposite Sex of Breed, but when the dust settled, he garnered Best Opp. Sex of Variety.

The second class of Blue senior does saw a well-marked doe of rich color and excellent marking placement win Best Opposite Sex of Variety. She was a tad long in body and was a trifle over-conditioned to beat the senior buck for Best Sr. of variety. The senior buck won over the senior doe because of a shorter body and compactness even though he was between coats. This buck would have been my choice for Best of Variety because of markings and type.

Chocolate senior bucks saw a well-balanced, nice-headed buck with cobby type win the class. He lacked prime finish and was a bit uneven in color, but he had everything else. If the class were assessed with flesh and fur condition as the first priority, this fine animal would have been missed. He was the Best Sr. of variety but yielded to the nice junior buck that had more finish and color for Best Opposite Sex of Variety.

The chocolate junior doe class was an extremely competitive group. The top ten placements were very close with the guidance of our standard's schedule of points determining the winners. The second place doe, another rabbit with a hairline, was a very young animal that merited her placement because of excellent type and balance with great markings and a surprisingly well-finished coat for her age. Great babies like this must be assessed and credited over older animals of lesser quality and can't be dismissed because of lack of development. Don Reid fought hard and long to prevent a minimum weight in junior classes which was later required for all breeds by the A.R.B.A. Looking at this doe and other junior exhibits in many varieties the day after the judging made me better understand Don Reid's quest. First place was slightly better-marked. She had balance and was well-finished in fur with excellent color. Although not prime in flesh condition, she was my choice for Best of Breed because of her depth and type when un-tucked and her balance of markings and great color. She earned B.O.V. from the panel.

The Tortoise junior bucks were fun to judge. I have been working on this variety longer than any color of Dutch. So I was a bit disappointed when I found out that I had only one class. The class was deep with the winning buck showing excellent depth when un-tucked and nice bright orange surface color yet proper shading and dark tail color. He was good enough to win variety. The nicest buck in the class for type, markings and color had to be disqualified for a missing testicle. If this buck had had all his plumbing, he might have been my choice for Best of Breed.

Steel senior does made up a deep class with many nice animals in the top ten places. The winning doe had excellent type and color. She was well-finished and hard. She was my choice for B.O.V. After a 2 to 1 vote, she was awarded only a blue ribbon with the junior doe winning B.O.S.V.

Gray senior bucks saw quality animals cross the table. The winning buck had wonderful depth of body. He was well-finished and had excellent surface color, definition, and ring color and markings. The second place buck had the best head of any rabbit in my judging assignment. He was defeated by first place because of finish of coat which affected the definition and ring color. He was also slightly out of body balance and flesh condition because of molt. I asked his owner if she wanted him to retire in New England, but she has many great plans for him yet in her breeding program.

Gray junior does were judged by the senior judge because of time constraints. I really wish I had had the opportunity to judge this class as I saw so many fine animals in the cages the day after judging that I would have loved to have sorted. However my method of judging is slower, and moving animals to their appropriate holes requires more time, but it does ensure more accuracy of placement and more fairness to every exhibit. One is reminded of the fable, "The Tortoise and the Hare" where the tortoise wins the race. Assessment of large classes on fur and flesh condition as primary consideration of placement is faster. But taking the time to compare animals and placing deep in the classes with all parts of the standard considered leads to more accuracy and better animals in the top placements.

Thanks so much for exhibiting such fine animals and for allowing me to adjudicate. Hope my assessments and complete remarks on every exhibit gave you your money's worth. Special thanks to the carriers at my table. I am indebted to Mrs. Zimdars and her daughter Rachel for helping me manage a few of the unruly bunnies and for taking complete and accurate remarks for the rabbits that crossed my table. Rachel also kindly reminded me that that the first five placements had to be weighed.

JUDGING DUTCH IN INDY

Dear Sue and Dick

I take great pleasure in writing this response to you about my experience as the 2011 ARBA Senior Convention judge for the Dutch rabbits. I was very much surprised when I arrived in Indianapolis to hear there were over 900 Open Dutch entered. I expected a large show but nothing like this! With a show of this caliber I really wanted to be sure that I completed and sent in my observations for the Dutch Reporter. I want to say Thank You to the Judges Selection committee and the members of the club in making the selection to have me this year. I truly can say it was a high point of my judging career so far! I also want to acknowledge the judging efforts of Joe Lugo and Paul Jurgelonis on making this convention a memorable one for me.

I arrived on time and found my table that was located at the right side and the surveyed my work area. For those of us that have judged many Conventions and National shows the facilities at times are nominal at best. Having good lighting, tables of the correct height, good holding coops, adequate runners to have the table filled with rabbits and good secretarial help are all of those factors that I look for before I start. I was especially concerned knowing the size of this show. The lighting was good and at times in the morning there was even too much light! The tables were the correct height and I even had quite a few holes to use. The carpet covering on one of my tables was a 1960's shag carpet of Yellow, Orange and Brown which basically hurt my eyes to look at it! I then decided that I was going to walk all those rabbits down to my other judging table which had "normal" Grey carpet to sort and check the rabbits out. I turned around and I was extremely fortunate to have more than (30) holding pens behind me and walkway that I could easily turn around in. The height of the top row of holding pens was at eye level for me which was awesome! The next item was I had two very capable gentlemen that carried for my tables - Scott Braden and Gene Zimdars. Those guys always kept me informed of what was left to come up and every time something new was loaded. They did an outstanding job and I never would have kept up the pace to get everything done without their help! The last item was my secretarial help and when I looked up on Day 1 I had Val Slack and Penny Nelson. Those ladies were performing at a World Class level and I truly enjoyed that along with their own work they watched what I was doing! For Day 2 I had Kelli Slack, Rachel Braden and Penny Nelson for a time I believe. These ladies kept me in a great spirits and though we had only one mix-up over the two of days of judging we still had fun and it was very exciting!

The Black senior bucks were loaded and when I started they were dusty, as we forgot to add saw dust into the judging coops so after wiping those all down we were back in action. The quality of the Seniors Bucks was outstanding and the top ten were all very good examples. I then moved into the Junior Does and I would get one wave of them done and then the carriers said that I don't even have half of them up yet! The class was almost (100) and the doe that came out on top my best colored and finished rabbit I had over the two days. Val Slack was watching and then commented - Pretty good class of does!!!! I just broke out laughing that I expect that it would be really hard to beat the quality in that class. When we as team had to make the selection the does were better than the bucks and the Senior Doe shook me up that she was stronger than the junior doe I selected!

I then moved over to the Blue Junior Bucks and I started going through the (28) considerably less than the class before. I then realized I was spending a great deal time on this class and than almost the entire class was going behind me into the holding coops. It then hit me that quality did indeed jump up from the Black Junior does. The top three were the hardest decision of both days as they were just awesome! The buck of that class turned out to make it to BOS. He was an awfully nice buck.

The Chocolate had many nice classes with the juniors of both sexes with very nice type and all were well marked. When we moved to pick the variety later the juniors looked outstanding and the best Chocolate was a very close decision.

The Tortoise in all classes was very strong and the type and condition was very good. What I remember most was the color of the Torts from the seniors to juniors the color was fantastic! I have to apologize for the mistake I made in confusing the senior and the junior bucks at the time of the variety selection I accept the responsibility for switching the two bucks and making the wrong call. I am truly sorry about that and the correct animal did win.

The Steel classes were not as large as the others except there were a lot of junior does! Going through and picking the best variety was probably the easiest variety for me and the two winners were very good examples especially for markings and the color.

The Grey classes were also very well represented finishing up with junior buck and senior doe and again all were very good in quality of the fur and the color.

Heading into the Best of Breed and Best Opposite of Sex selection to me it came down to the best balanced doe and that was the Black Senior Doe. The BOS decision was to start going through the rest of the bucks and going through it I was shocked that in almost all cases the bucks I was looking at were all juniors! That also got me thinking that whoever is on the hook to be judging the next NDS and the Wichita convention you better look out those juniors will get better!

Thanks for great show!

JUDGING YOUTH DUTCH IN INDY

By David Moll

Thank you for allowing me to judge your Dutch at this year's Convention. Judging this breed is a distinct honor. The show ran very smoothly, which was the result of a collective effort from a number of individuals. My table runners did a great job; I never waited for a class. After a rabbit was placed, there were several youth runners who helped return rabbits to their cages. Thank you writers, as well, for helping the show move along. I was pleased with how the Indy show committee set up the showroom. The table space to organize the big classes was much appreciated.

The Black, Blue and Gray classes were strong with quality rabbits throughout. By far, my deepest class was the Blue Junior Does. As I said before I started placing the class, even the 15th place rabbit was nice. That was just a tough class! The 1st place doe from that class ended up winning Best Opposite Sex and Best Junior All-Colors.

Congratulations to the winners! The top rabbits were really exceptional. A Dutch with type, markings, bone and finish is a big challenge, but a very pretty combination when achieved. Thank you for the opportunity to judge your beautiful Dutch!

Blast from the Past

Copies of the Old Dutch Reporters are on the ADRC website for future generations to read and enjoy. This column will feature selected articles from our history.

This article appears in the 1977 March/April issue of the Dutch Reporter

CONSTRUCTIVE BREEDING - By Keith Nall

To be successful on the show table requires a number of factors. I will discuss my methods and procedures on one of these - breeding. I think this article will probably be different from anything I have ever read by other successful breeders. This does not necessarily mean they are wrong and I am right. These are my ideas and opinions, and if it will stir up some controversy among the membership and they will write agreeing or disagreeing on points, I believe it will be good for the readers of the Dutch Reporter.

First, I do not think it is necessary for one to begin with a closely bred strain. The reason being if one could get everything he needs from one strain, it would be fine. I think all will agree that there are no perfect Dutch. They have faults, and even the best I have ever seen had some faults.

I keep a lot of Dutch in my herd that would never place high in show competition. The reason I keep them is that they have a least one outstanding quality. The thing to work toward is to try to breed better young than that parent. One should look beyond the first generation. For instance, if I raise a doe with excellent fur and everything else only fair, I might cross her with a buck with excellent type and fur, then breed this offspring to one with excellent color, trying for all three qualities. If I succeeded in this, I would go for better heads, etc. This cannot be done quickly. It takes years. If I do not have some necessary quality in my herd, I would go outside my bloodline to get it, but I would also breed brother and sister if I thought the cross would produce the qualities for which I am looking. I don't think you can get it if it isn't in the genes. Many don't agree with this because you can also pick up undesirable qualities as well. This is where you need to cull. Proper culling is a very important factor which I may cover in a future article. I evaluate my young that I put into the herd for production on whether or not they have enough good qualities to improve my future young. I pay less attention to markings than to type, color, fur, head and ears. I have bred good marked to good marked and produced practically the same percentage of good marked young as I have by using mismark to mismark or mismark to good marked.

Apparently, the gene pool for markings is much larger than it is for type, color, head, ears, or fur which seems to be easier to narrow the range of differences. Even in close breeding, the young will all be slightly different. I also do not think one herd buck is the answer. If he has a type fault, this would be hard to breed out in the future generations. I am using today eight bucks for twenty-three brood does.

One could put Dutch markings on a Himalayan, but all you would have would be a snake-looking Dutch-marked Himalayan. Apparently, from some of the stock I have seen at shows, it looks as if this is what some breeders have done. This comes from breeding for markings alone and placing little regard for anything else. These will place at a show because after all, you have 50 points on markings, but they sure do lack that classy look you can have with a good head, ears and cobby type. Type to me is the most important quality. Very few Dutch stay long on my place with poor type. Also, type seems to be what breeders and judges have the most trouble with, and there are more differences of opinion regarding type than any other characteristic.

What is good type? The drawing in our standard is what I have always sought. One sees so many Dutch with low shoulders, combined with high rear ends. This is mandolin type. I see very few judges even look at a Dutch from the side to see their profile. Some are good enough to feel their shape with their hands, but most are looking for hard smooth flesh condition. Type is visual, flesh condition you feel. There are no points in our Dutch standard for flesh condition. * I do think flesh condition is important because it fills out the rabbit so it looks its best. Conditioning rabbits for show is another topic that I may write on in the future.

In breeding to gain good qualities, watch to eliminate the faults as well. For example, I have one old buck with excellent type, head, ears, good color, but long, thin and slightly wiry coat. The does I breed to him must have a good coat. One must evaluate on what a rabbit produces. It takes time to build a herd of producing does. Patience and persistence are the keywords. After I place a rabbit in production, it is evaluated on what it can "throw". Not all throw good young. If they cannot, after several litters with several different combinations, you are wasting your time and feed.

*In the current Standard of Perfection there are five points on condition.

What Do You Think ??

This is a survey that is offered on the American Dutch Rabbit Club website. A few of the responses will be published in this issue of the Dutch Reporter and once the publication is out, the complete listing of responses will be available to view on the website. A new topic will be introduced in the Dutch Reporter and any current member of ADRC is welcome to participate in the survey. The topic will be open until the following Dutch Reporter is published, but only selections made prior to the issue deadline will be considered for publication in the magazine. Go to www.dutchrabbit.com and click the link on the sidebar that says "What do you Think?".

The topic for the October/November/December is about dealing with heat and rabbits. There were eight people who responded prior to publication.

What methods do you use to keep your barn cool during hot temperatures?

Briony Barnes from El Dorado KS: Our barn is insulated with radiant heat barrier and open on the east and west (long) sides 2 feet from the ground with flaps that can be lowered. We run an exhaust fan and have a freezer in the barn with water bottles inside. This year, with many days topping 105, we set up a mister system that we run for a few minutes at a time during the hottest part of the day.

Kandy Reif from Clarence IA: We run several fans, a ceiling fan & exhaust fan to pull the warm air out. On the super hot days where the heat index got over 100, I ran a sprinkler in front of the big front door, & the main big fan pulled the cooler air off the cold water into the barn, this helped some. I also put frozen milk jugs in front of the floor fans to cool the air.

Samantha Henderson from Brentwood CA: We use a window A/C Unit. It seems to work best and keeps things nice and cool inside the barn.

What methods do you use to ventilate your barn?

Wesley Nelson from Treynor IA: My barn is completely closed up with no windows, exhaust fans pull fresh air in through air inlets, keeping the barn in negative air pressure, this allows there to be no dead spots in the barn and turns the air over every 2 minutes. I keep it at -60 lbs of air pressure which also eliminates flies as they cannot fly with this kind of air pressure system. As I learned how my system was working, I added stir fans on the floor as my barn is 14'x50' and the air flow had a tendency to stall out in the middle of the barn. Although the air temp is the same as outside or slightly cooler, the movement of air allows for a very low humidity level, keeping the rabbits comfortable and calm despite the heat. I also only enter the barn and turn on lights during the cool part of the evening or morning if possible

Susan Loan from Nellysford VA: I run both box fans from the rafters and box and oscillating fans at ground level when the temperatures climb above 75-80 degrees. Because of the close proximity of the river, I already have some problems with moisture/dampness. For that reason I don't use misters. I also have a shallow well so I don't run a sprinkler on my rabbitry roof.

With the fans (which I clean out & replace regularly), the temps in my rabbitry never got over 90 degrees this summer. This is even when the heat index rose to close to 120. Knock wood, I have not lost any rabbits (even babies) to the heat this year. I have had litters born throughout the summer so my bucks have stayed fertile. My does also seem to "know" and kindle at night when it is marginally cooler.

David AuBuchon from Leadwood, MO: I have an open sided barn with lattice used on the sides to cut down the light getting in. Ventilation is not a problem at all.

What do you do if you have a rabbit stressed from the heat?

Scott Braden from Beach City OH: Place a jug of frozen water in the pen with them. In extreme cases place a small clip-on fan on the pen itself. We have done this for does with litters in very hot weather.

Olivia Wismer from Milford NJ: The first thing I do is put ice on the rabbit's ears; this cools the rabbits body temp the fastest. After I have the rabbit cooled down I usually spray them down with some cool water.

Kandy Reif from Clarence IA: I add a frozen pop bottle to the cage & mist their ears with cool water. I have heard putting ceramic tiles that have been kept in the freezer, in their cage helps, but have never tried it.

What suggestions do you have to prevent juniors growing long ears during a heat wave?

Briony Barnes from El Dorado KS: I believe ears may grow faster in the heat, but I haven't seen any difference in senior ear length in rabbits that were born in the summer and in the winter. I believe maximum ear length is genetic, and the heat may help them reach that genetic potential quicker, but it doesn't cause longer ears. I measured the ears of a few from the same bloodline, and found that those born in December-February didn't have discernibly longer, thinner, or less-furred ears than their relatives born in June-July. My BOV Blue at the 2011 NDS was born on July 15, 2011, just three weeks before a record-breaking heat wave!

Scott Braden from Beach City OH: I would say I'm not convinced that long ears are a phenotypic expression from heat stress, but I KNOW that they are a phenotypic expression of the genes! I have rabbits born in the hottest stretch of weather we had here in July this year and they don't have long ears. These rabbits were exposed to ambient temps in excess of 85-100 degrees for an entire month. If environmental heat stress causes long ears these should surely have them!

Susan Loan from Nellysford VA: I have no idea. The longer ears often seem more genetic than environmental. I have had babies born on the same day and one litter (usually with the larger parents) get longer ears and the other litter have normal size ears. Once they are grown, you can't shrink them back. Sigh.

PROPOSED BUS TRIPS FOR THE 2012 NATIONAL DUTCH SHOW (NDS)

Here are the bus trips we could offer if we can fill a bus of 52 passengers or get a smaller bus. Please consider signing up if you are interested, or email Beverly Cihan at bcihan@comcast.net. If we get enough folks to fill a bus we can set up the trip and finalize the cost per person and ask those who signed up to confirm their reservation or cancel. Payment will not be required until 2012. (However, if enough folks do not pay, the trip will not be offered and monies paid will be refunded.)

1. Thursday evening bus trip to Shady Maple Smorgasbord, Lancaster County's biggest smorgasbord with authentic Pennsylvania Dutch cooking (located about 50 minutes from the NDS site). Bus trip cost will be approximately $27 per person, including tip. If we don't fill a bus folks can drive there and pay on arrival at $16.50 per person, plus tip. www.shady-maple.com
2. Friday explore Gettysburg National Park Service Museum and Visitors Center and take a bus tour of the actual battlefield with a licensed guide to present the tour and answer questions. www.nps.gov/gett (Gettysburg is about 75 minutes from the NDS site in Lebanon.). Cost is approximately $65 per person.
3. Friday leave early in the AM to visit Philadelphia historic sites (travel time about 90 minutes each way) OR Baltimore Inner Harbor including the National Aquarium (travel time about 2 hours each way) for approximately $65 per person.
4. Friday: EXPERIENCE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROADING: ALL ABOARD!
Leave late morning and return at 6pm. (Bus ride about 55 minutes each way.) Authentic steam engine train ride on the Strasburg Railroad with free time for the gift shop. www.strasburgrailroad.com. Next stop is your choice: either back on the bus to the nearby National Toy Train Museum www.nttmuseum.org or cross the street to the Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania www.rrmuseumpa.org Cost is approximately $45 per person.
5. Friday Afternoon: Bus rides to Hershey Chocolate World to take a free tour showing how chocolate is made and to shop for tee-shirts and fresh candy souvenirs. While you have had Hershey's Chocolate before, you will be surprised by the taste of the same items from the factory store - fresh is best. www.hersheyschocolateworld.com Cost about $11 per person. Currently planing to leave the Lebanon Expo Center at 1pm and returning at 5pm (bus ride is about 30 minutes each way), with another bus leaving at 2 pm and returning at 6pm. (While Hershey Park does not decide its 2012 schedule until December, it does not look like Hershey Park will be open during the 2012 NDS.)
6. Interest in a Saturday trip? Pa Dutch County or Lancaster Outlets? OR.....?
Contact Beverly Cihan if you have an idea for a trip, or email her at bcihan@comcast.net.

ADRC HALL OF GREATNESS

In an effort to honor those ADRC members that have contributed to the development, progress, and Greatness of the American Dutch Rabbit Club, a category has been formed titled "Hall of Greatness".

Those inducted into this category are felt to have played an instrumental part in the ADRC past, as well as those that will do so in the future.

The ADRC Board would like to express Thanks to Stan Goeglein and his Hall of Fame Committee for extensive time and efforts put forth in order to research this project and make recommendations to the Board on those deemed eligible to be included in the category.

Stan will be contributing brief articles on the members of the "Hall of Greatness" beginning in this issue of the DR, and also in future issues.

TOM SHUFFLEBOTHAM

At the last ADRC Board meeting in Indianapolis, IN on October 29, 2011 during the ARBA Convention, it was decided to induct twenty-five worthy candidates into the newly created "Hall of Greatness". One of the most deserving of these new "Hall of Greatness" members is Mr Tom Shufflebotham, who passed away in the late 1980's. Tom was born in England in 1899, and came to this country in the early 1920's after serving in the British Forces during World War I.

After settling in Valpraiso, IN he started his Dutcheng Rabbity, the name meaning Dutch and English. He made, over a few years, several imports of Black, Blue, and Tortoise Dutch from well known Dutch fanciers in England in the 1940's. Tom also advertised the use of stud services, using his newly acquired imported bucks. Tom showed his Dutch around the country by shipping via railway coast to coast.

Tom also judged Dutch at National Dutch Shows and ARBA Conventions all over the country for many years. His winning and showing went on from the early 1930's through the late 1970's and beyond. Tom also had one, if not the most, complete Dutch Rabbit libraries in the country, having Guidebooks, Year Books, Dutch Reporters, Fur & Feather magazines, etc. from throughout the world.

In closing, I should mention that Tom himself was a prolific writer and historian for the American Dutch Rabbit Club, probably second to none.

CHARLIE LEWIS

Mr Charlie Lewis was born in 1888 in Brooklyn, New York, and has since passed away.

Charlie bred Dutch in his early years and then again, with zeal and with much enthusiasm, after World War I. He had much success showing Black, Blue, and Chocolate Dutch from the early 1930's into the 1960's. His National wins were many and continuous from the east coast to the west coast. Charlie is the fellow who first imported Chocolate Dutch into the United States from England. These Chocolate Dutch were developed in the early 1930's and were imported in the fall of 1935. A Mr E. Mitchell of Northhampton, England sent either three or four in the first group. In this group was the little Chocolate buck named Chocolate Pioneer, which was judged the Best AOC (Any Off Color) at the 1936 National Dutch Show in Detroit, Michigan.

This same Chocolate buck was judged Best Chocolate at the United Kingdom Dutch Club Show in England, prior to being shipped to the States. More importations of Black and Chocolate Dutch does followed and from these offspring many Chocolates were sold around the country. This all transpired pretty much prior to World War II. Charlie was a Vice-President of the ADRC two different times and a Director for over a dozen years.

Many articles were written by this dedicated fancier for our Dutch Reporters and Guidebooks.

Watch for more profiles of "Hall of Greatness" members in future issues of the Dutch Reporter

THANKS...to our Judges in Indy !!

HOST CLUB OF THE 2012 NATIONAL DUTCH SHOW APRIL 12th – 15th LEBANON, PA

Oh how nice and sweet it was to show our rabbits and be with FRIENDS

AWOL: Absent Without Leave & really missed: PLEASE be at 2012 NDS in LEBANON, PA

- Norma Hart enjoy the “double” size 2lb jar of honey – stay healthy and hope to see you in April
- Shelley and Eleanor Cummings totally disappeared – maybe the Aliens will return you back to the Earth in time?
- Anne Tater and Lauri Wiss you still have a lifetime warranty with unlimited mileage from Chrysler on the Van
- Mr. Imes and Ron Russ no AMDC Shows are to be scheduled in Meadville the week before NDS!
- Mike Smith there is plenty of wedding chapels and banquet halls in the Harrisburg/Hershey area!
- Madison & Mackenzie since Michelle didn’t win the CRDBA hotel room raffle after buying a whole roll of tickets, if your family would like to be our guest at a Marriott property in Harrisburg, PA we can make arrangements.
- Morgan Doak and “THE BOSS” You were really missed and you have to be there in Lebanon!!!

BEST INVESTMENTS:

- Purchase a “CD” BUCK from Phil and Sara Lape for $40.00 take it to ARBA Sanctioned shows for 2+ years and then have it auctioned off for $500.00. We have always loved every Buck you sold us – please bring another one in April.
- How nice it was to meet and know the Demland Family. Our Michigan friends purchased CD349 for $500.00 and CK7 for $160.00 and our new Ohio friends bought the son “HBCK” of those two rabbits for $40.00 the day before. Timing is everything.

F.O.D.’s Friend’s of THE DADDY’s:

- Austin Smith I told your parents they have raised a fine young man. You did a great job in running rabbits to the judging table all day. PS Rick Lehmann he doesn’t need the phone screening test like the others.
- Marissa, The FATHER and your amazing rabbits –you’re the BEST
- Nate and John you had two of the last three Blue Jr Does on the table, but I still remember the MD show where everything behind the Judge was from Hidden Hollow Farm – Best Wishes in OPEN. PS Rick Lehmann he doesn’t need the phone screening test either.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST!!

Erica and Brianna who’s the most famous sisters in THE DADDY’s book? Q: Venus and Sirina Williams or the Haas Sister’s? A: You got the honey and the BEST DISPLAY of RABBITS!!
